

Mrs. Gramley Speaks To Salemites

Charm Week was officially opened by Mrs. Dale H. Gramley, who spoke in Chapel on Tuesday. Through the influence of her husband and the I. R. S., Mrs. Gramley was persuaded to tell us random and interesting facts about how she happened to become a president's wife.

Mrs. Gramley attended a small, church related college, much like Salem. However, it was definitely co-educational, and here it was that Dr. Gramley entered the picture. "It was definitely a pick up date," Mrs. Gramley stated, "and when I saw that he was taller than I, that was all that mattered". Besides having gobs of red hair, Dr. Gramley was known as the "most ducked student in school". It seems that the boys couldn't talk to the girls except at the Duck Pond. Oh yes, there were many rules! The girls were allowed to go out one night a week, and that was Saturday night from 6 to 7. Sunday afternoons, from 4 to 5, the girls could stroll with a gentleman!

When Mrs. Gramley graduated from college, she taught English, and was given the job of supervising the school paper. Hence, Dr. Gramley was invited to visit her every week-end in Bethlehem just in time to make up the paper.

While Dr. Gramley was teaching at Lehigh, his wife became acquainted with the president's wife there, never suspecting that she would soon be one herself. The invitation to Salem was a complete surprise, and they laughed at the idea of leaving old friends and bringing four boys to a girls' college. A visit to Salem changed their minds.

Mrs. Gramley stated that a woman's type of life depends on her job or her husband's job, her community, and her children. Whatever you put into your home is a reflection of you as a person. A woman must always remember that her home belongs to her children also, and she must not try to be a perfectionist when she has children.

After hearing Mrs. Gramley, Salem girls agree that they have found a "gracious" and a "charming First Lady."

Tim Cahill To Give Organ Recital Next Monday Night

The School of Music of Salem College presents Timothy Cahill, student in organ, in recital Monday, March 27, at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. The program is as follows:

War Gott nicht mit uns diese Zeit
Johann Nicolaus Hanff
(Were God not with us this day)
Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam
Dietrich Buztehude
(Christ, our Lord, to the Jordan came)
O Lamm Gottes, unschuldig.
Johann Sebastian Bach
(O Guiltless Lamb of God)
Grande Piece Symphonique
Cesar Franck
Introduction: Andantino serioso
Allegro non troppo e maestoso
Andante—Allegro
Finale
Antiphon, Opus 18, No. 1
Marcel Dupre
While the King sitteth at his table,
My spikenard sendeth out the perfume thereof
Stars and Cherubs

Class presidents and Chief Marshal for next year check on some points in Robert's Rules of Order. Class Presidents are Cammy Lovelace, Ann Sprinkle and Marilyn Samuel. Chief Marshal, Martha Bowman, looks on from behind.

Refectory To Be Renovated

The main dining room is to be redecorated during the Easter holidays, and the painters will begin the work Monday morning, April 3, Dr. Gramley announced this week. As a result of the painting, no meals will be served in the dining room from April 3 until breakfast on Thursday, April 13. Therefore students, faculty and staff are asked to eat on a shift basis in the Club Dining room Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 3-5.

Breakfast will be served at the regular time during these three days. All students who have a free period at 12:10 on any of these 5 days are asked to eat lunch at that time so that those students who have classes at 12:10 will be able to eat at 1:00. Students who eat at 12:10 will be asked to eat dinner at 5:10, and those who eat at 1:00 will eat dinner at 6:10.

Classes Elect New Staff Presidents For '50-'51

Class presidents for the school year of 1950-51 were elected Wednesday, March 15. Cammy Lovelace was elected from the rising Senior class, Ann Sprinkle from the rising Junior class, and Marilyn Samuel from the rising Sophomore class.

Cammy, who is a public school music major, is a member of the Order of the Scorpion, the Monogram Club, the Choral Ensemble, the Winston-Salem Symphony Orchestra and the softball varsity. She defeated Sybel Haskins and Sis Honeycutt.

Ann, a history major, is a member of the I. R. S. council, a typist on the yearbook staff and a Salemite reporter. Other candidates were Betty Parks, Carolyn Harris, Jane Parker, Ann Post, Florence Cole, and Martha Bowman.

Marilyn is on the academic dean's list and has been a stage crew-worker in this year's plays. Other candidates were Jane Huss, Jane Schoolfield, and Ellen Bell.

After a period of orientation and training, Cammy, Ann and Marilyn will take office sometime in April.

(Continued on page five)

Welch Speaks To Faculty

Dr. Elizabeth Welch read a paper, "Academic Freedom—An Historical Approach", to the Faculty Research Group in the living room of Biting on Wednesday, March 22, at 7:30.

The paper was a history of academic freedom with the citing of cases in which abuses of academic freedom have occurred from the time of Socrates up to the current case at the University of Washington. Emphasis was on four cases in the South. They were: Prof. Benjamin Hedrick at U. N. C., Prof. Alexander Winchell at Vanderbilt, Dr. James Woodrow at U. S. C., and Prof. C. H. Toy at the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

TIM CAHILL

Charles G. Vardell, Jr.
Invocation: Stella matutina
Henri Dallier
Toccata, Fugue et Hymne sur "Ave Maris Stella"
Flor Peeters

City Group Plans Salem Restoration

A project to restore the Old Salem community as it was in 1800 has been undertaken. A Board of Trustees was elected on March 16 to supervise the long-range plan of restoration.

The organization sponsoring the movement will be known as Old Salem, Inc. and will be a permanent, non-profit corporation.

A special committee has formulated and recommended the following plans:

1. The project should be undertaken immediately.
2. A portion of the estimated $2,500,000 for the project should be raised and spent immediately on first reconstruction steps.
3. The project should be considered a long-range plan, to be financed over several generations.
4. The greatest portion of the project should be completed by 1966, when a special celebration commemorating the 200th anniversary of the founding of Salem might be held.

Mr. James A. Gray, Jr., chairman of the committee who made the initial plans, has announced that the home of John Henry Boner, the Salem poet, "has been made available for restoration through the co-operation of its owner, Norman P. Stone, as a memorial to his deceased wife." It has been recommended that this be the first building restored when funds are available.

The members of the Board of Trustees for the organization are Robert Marshall, Bradley Welfare, Mrs. Howard Rondthaler, Morris Sosnik, Dr. Douglas Rights, P. Huber Hanes, Jr., Miss Ada Allen, Charles H. Babcock, Edwin L. Stockton, Mrs. James A. Gray, Sr., Dr. Dale H. Gramley, A. H. Bahnsen, Jr., Ralph P. Hanes, Frank

(Continued on page five)

Cabinet Elects New Officers

The "Y" Cabinet elected the rest of the officers who will work with the newly elected President, Mary Faith Carson, last Monday evening. They are Mary Lib Weaver, Vice-President; Carolyn Butcher, Secretary; and Peggy Cheers, Treasurer.

Salem-Davidson Day

The Salem "Y" recently invited the Davidson College students to come to Salem for a Salem-Davidson Day on April 1. Conflicts in schedules caused the Davidson students to decline the invitation.

Orphanage Party

The Y has scheduled its annual Easter orphanage party for Tuesday, March 28. It will be held at the Memorial Industrial School where members of the Y will lead the children in an Easter egg hunt.

Salem Academy To Give Play

The Dramatics Club of Salem Academy will present "Letters to Lucerne," Friday, March 24 at 8 p.m. in the Academy Social Room. "Letters to Lucerne", a three act play, was one of the most successful of the war plays to be presented on Broadway in 1942. The action takes place in the main hall of a girl's school near Lucerne, Switzerland.

The play is under the direction of Miss Mary McMillan. Admission will be forty cents for students and sixty cents for faculty.

Clara Belle LeGrand, newly elected Salemite editor for 1950-51, announces this week the members of her staff for next year. They are:

Associate Editors: Lee Rosenbloom, Mary Lib Weaver.

Assistant Editor: Lola Dawson

Make-up Editor: Ann Sprinkle

Copy Editor: Jane Watson

Music Editor: Muggins Bowman

Sports Editors: Adrienne McCutcheon, Marilyn Samuel

Pictorial Editor: Sis Hines

Typists: Jane Parker, Peggy Cheers

Editorial Staff:

Betty Leppert, Sybel Haskins,

Winkie Harris, Polly Hartle, Fay Stickney.

Editorial Assistants:

Charlotte Woods, Eleanor McGregor, Lorrie Dirom, Jane Fearing,

Anne Lowe, Ann Simpson, Carolyn Harris, Elsie Macon.

Business Manager: Betty Griffin

Advertising Manager: Carolyn Butcher

Assistant Advertising Manager: Jane Schoolfield

Circulation Manager: Clara Justice

Class Movies To Be Shown

Next week the Salem College Education Department will show two movies which will be of interest to all potential teachers.

The first, a film treating class room discipline, will be shown next Monday morning at 11:15 in Old Chapel. The second, which will be shown at 11:15 on Wednesday morning in Old Chapel, is entitled "The Broader Concept of Methods."

All students who are interested in seeing the movies are invited to attend.

Jobs In Social Work Discussed

Miss Wickers, of the Merits Council of the North Carolina Welfare Department, will speak at Salem next week. In Biting Living room on next Wednesday at one-thirty, she will discuss social work as a vocation.