ginal plays. A number of directors have asked for copies of the play, and Dr. Welch has received several offers for publication.

This was the second time she has won a Betty Smith Award, and her thirteenth first award for play-writing.

London Paper Cites Todd

The 'London Times Literary Supplement' dated March 23, 1951 compliments Dr. William B. Todd on his article "Observations on the Incidence and Interpretation of Press Figures".

Dr. Todd's is the fifth in a series of articles published since December, 1949 and supports his contention that all eighteenth century literature must be reappraised. Unless it is known what represents the first edition, one cannot be sure that present texts exactly reproduce the language of the author.

The "Times" places Todd's article "in the first rank of such publications anywhere in the world—in a convincing and well-argued paper he takes the inquiry several steps farther than the two or three previously published articles on this theme.

Of All Things

Dear Daughter,

I have not read your last letter. Your father refuses to let me see it. However, he has not been well for the last several days, and I must ask you not to write things which upset him.

I cannot wait for you to graduate. You will be such a big help to me. I have already promised the Monday Morning Garden Club and the Thursday Afternoon Book Club that you will join.

I am enclosing a folder containing the case histories of the young men your brother is bringing home this weekend. You will be 22 in July.

7th at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The general topic for the meeting was "Lessons from Asia."

Dr. Charles Francis Anscombe spoke in chapel last Tuesday on "The Short View and the Long View." He compared the progress of civilization to a spiral, saying that although the condition of the world may seem to be going backwards, it would then climb a little higher than it was before the decline.

The speaker showed the development of civilization from the time of creation until the present, telling of the rise and fall of the three types of government: the empire, the monarchy and the republic. He compared the civilization of today with that of 1000 years ago to demonstrate the progress that has been made.

Books about the earliest exploration and colonization of Virginia, the Carolinas and Florida, will be on display in the library for the next month. This collection, dating from 1589, was loaned by the Lehigh University Library and includes five first editions. One of the most valuable of these is by Richard Hakluyt, the first man to write geographies of America.

Salem College day at Fries Memorial Moravian Church will be Sunday, April 15, 1951. The Rev. Edwin Sawyer, religion professor at Salem, is pastor of this church. Dr. Granley will speak at the 7:30 p.m. service.

Clewell date room will be open Saturday night, April 14, 1951 for dancing.

The room will continue to be used each Saturday night if the plan proves successful.

Peggy Cheers is in charge of the project.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 17...
THE OWL

"So I'm a wise guy —so what?"

"Speotyto cunicularia" — Speo, for short, majors in the classics. But in this case, he's dropped his Latin leanings and slings American slang with the best of them. He comes right out "cum loudly" whenever he voices his opinion on these quick-trick, one-puff cigarette tests. They're a snub to his high I.Q. He knows from smoking experience there's just one intelligent way to judge the mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
