

Rehearsals are being held in May Day Lane. The question—what'll we do if it happens to rain?

The Salemite

Type all your term papers and write those critiques, Cause Salemites we've only got three more weeks.

Volume XXXI

Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., Friday, April 27, 1951

Number 20

Promotions, Resignations Are Approved

Two promotions and three resignations on the Salem faculty have been approved by the Board of Trustees.

Miss Elizabeth Reigner has been promoted from instructor to assistant professor in English and dramatics. Miss Reigner received her B. S. at Bucknell University and her M. A. at Northwestern.

Miss Catherine Nicholson, instructor in English, has been promoted to assistant professor of English. She received her B. A. at Flora MacDonald and her M. A. at the University of North Carolina. She has done graduate work at Carolina and Columbia.

The resignations of Miss Evelyn Carlson, Miss Ruth DeBardleben and Mrs. Alice G. Bauer were accepted by the board.

Miss Carlson, assistant dean of students, came to Salem two years ago. She will leave here around May 28, 1951 and plans to be married June 2, 1951.

Miss DeBardleben came here this year as instructor in education. Mrs. Bauer, library assistant, has been here two years. She has accepted a position at Duke library.

New Bulletin Tells Changes

Changes for next year in tuition and courses have been announced in the recently published "Salem College Bulletin."

According to the Bulletin, tuition charges will be raised $5 a semester, and boarding fees will be raised $25 a semester, amounting to an overall raise of $60 a year.

New courses to be offered next year include Modern Geometry, French Literature from Beginnings through 16th Century, French Literature of the 20th Century, Beginning Italian, Life and Teachings of Jesus, Introduction to Christian Education and Sight Singing.

A new addition to the bulletin is an airplane view campus map of Salem.

Preliminary registration for next year will be held May 7-11.

Certificates Awarded

Certificates in First Aid were awarded to 33 students and faculty members at the conclusion of the nine two-hour instruction sessions conducted by Mr. Carlton Alexander.

Those receiving certificates were: Betty Beck, Andrea Brunner, Marie Cameron, Clinky Clinkscales, Jean Edwards, Eleanor Fry, Sybel Haskins, Theresa Hedrick, Virginia Hudson, Cacky Moser, Dot Reynolds, B. J. Smith, Fay Stickney, Betsy Turner, Jo Belle, Ann Burnett, Kenan Casteen, Fae Deaton, Phyllis Forest, Billie Jean Greene, Jeanne Harrison, Sis Hines, Eleanor Johnson, Lu Ogburn, Inge Sigmund, Ann Spencer, Mabel Taylor, Emily Warden, Roy Campbell, Virginia Hodges, Dorothy Moran, Margaret Simpson and Warren F. Spencer.

Fashion Show To Be May 12

All Home Economics students will model clothes they have made this year in the Fashion Show to be presented May 12, 1951 at 12:10 p.m. in Corrin Refectory under the direction of Mrs. Allene Hunter.

There will be approximately 23 models with Bill Green, Joanne White and Marie Cameron as senior models. Bryan Balfour will be the commentator.

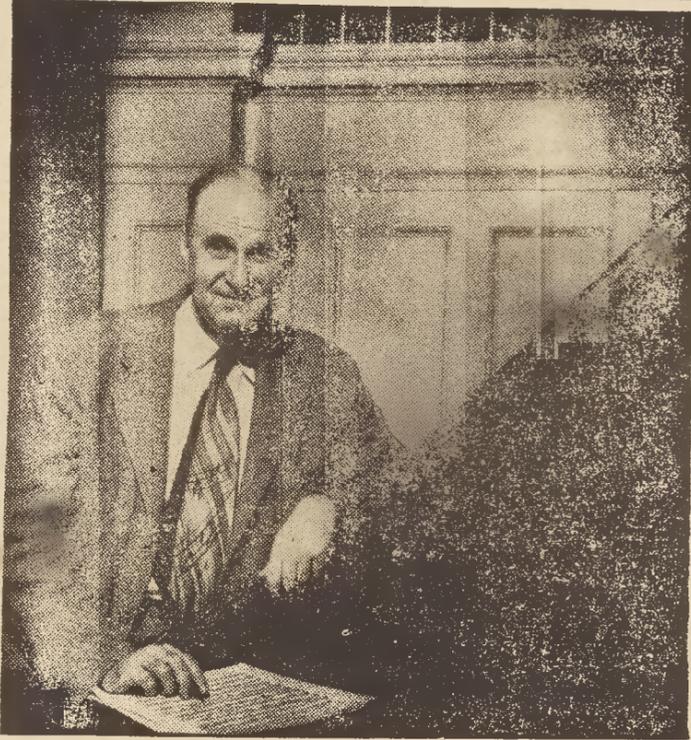

Models participating are: Ellen Bell, Patsy Crawford, Carmen Johnston, Martha Newcomb, Joan Cornelius, Carroll Johnstone, Betsy Forrest, Sarah Hobson, Cynthia May, Mary Matalis, Patsy Gattis, Doris McMillan, Euber Roberts, Nancy Huffard, Ann Merritt, Carolyn Huntley, Elizabeth Bass, Betty Tyler, Mary Elizabeth Grimes.

Methodists Elect Burrus President

Kitty Burrus was elected president of the Methodist Organization of Salem last week at a dinner meeting at Centenary Methodist Church.

Other officers are: Joan Elrick, vice-president; Loma Faye Cuthbertson, secretary-treasurer; Doris McMillan, program chairman and Dee Allen, publicity chairman.

After the dinner, Marilyn Moore and Connie Reynolds presented a short musical program.

Pictured above is Dr. Charles G. Vardell, Jr., who is resigning as Dean of the Salem College School of Music. Dr. Vardell is going to Flora MacDonald College where he will become Dean of the Conservatory of Music.

Dr. Vardell Resigns As Music Dean

Dr. Charles G. Vardell, Jr., dean of the school of music at Salem, has resigned his position here to accept the post of dean of the conservatory of music at Flora MacDonald College in Red Springs.

Dr. Vardell came to Salem 28 years ago to become head of the piano department and five years later was promoted to dean of the school of music. He had previously been dean of the conservatory of music at Flora MacDonald.

Dr. Gramley said that the post being vacated here is an important one and that considerable care will be taken in the selection of a dean whose leadership will keep Salem's school of music as one of the best.

"Dr. Vardell's resignation was regretfully received," Dr. Gramley said. "We at Salem recognize and appreciate so fully his long, faithful and exceptionally able services to the school of music."

Gramley Expresses Loss

"I feel personally a keen sense of loss in his leaving," stated president Gramley. "Since coming to Salem as president, I have been bolstered many times through his personal assistance, his sound judgment, his willingness to do whatever was asked and his great loyalty."

Dr. Vardell's father is president emeritus of Flora MacDonald. The Salem dean received his early musical training from his mother, who founded the Flora MacDonald conservatory of music. He later attended Princeton, where he was graduated in 1914, and the Institute of Musical Arts, now Juilliard. He received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at Eastman School of Music.

Is Outstanding Composer

Regarded by many as North Carolina's leading composer, he now has in his permanent possession the Shirley Cup, awarded annually for the best work written by a North Carolina composer. His works include widely used compositions for violin, piano and symphony orchestra. He has also written two cantatas, "The Inimitable Lovers" and "Song in the Wilderness," which was presented in celebration of Salem's 175th anniversary.

Bishop Kenneth Pfohl, chairman of the board of trustees, has appointed a committee from the board to acknowledge Dr. Vardell's services.

Four Pastors Will Sing Here

The Rev. John S. Goserud, first tenor; the Rev. James C. Hughes, second tenor; the Rev. I. Howard Chadwick, baritone, and the Rev. Charles B. Adams, bass, will present a program of novelty, secular and sacred songs next Tuesday, May 1, 1951 in Chapel.

The quartet members all attended Moravian College in Pennsylvania where they were members of the Glee Club. They are now serving Moravian churches in this city.

Miss Byrd Speaks

Miss Byrd spoke in chapel last Tuesday on the "Nature of Man In Contemporary Literature" using Across the River and into the Trees for her references.

The themes emerging from modern literature, she concluded, were belief in the work of the individual, fear of betrayal of the individual, the awareness of spiritual values by authoritative government and through wars.

The Salemite Music Hour Competes

This year's Salemite has been entered in the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association competition, a feature of the press convention held yesterday and today at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh.

A Salemite editorial, a column, a feature story, a news story, a sports story, a short story and a Salemite picked at random will compete with other college newspapers in North Carolina.

Delegates for the Salemite are Jane Watson and Jean Patton. Carolyn Harris represented the Sights and Insights.

Harold Lavine, associate editor of Newsweek and a former war correspondent, was the main speaker. The convention included a tour through the Raleigh Times, a banquet and a dance.

News Briefs

Lorrie Dirom, Peggy Cheers, Betty Griffin, Nancy Florence, Sally Senter, Mary Lib Weaver, Sis Hines, Jane Schoolfield and Alice Gillard were the winners in the telephone quizzes conducted on campus by Clara Belle LeGrand, campus representative for a nationally advertised cigarette. The quizzes took place on April 16 and 23.

The I. R. S. Council, headed by Lou Davis, elected officers last week to serve for the coming year. Ann Evans was chosen vice-president; Faye Lee, secretary; Jo Belle, treasurer and Frankie Strader, reporter.

The State Convention of the A. A. U. W. is meeting in Winston-Salem today and tomorrow, April 27 and 28. One of the highlights of the convention is a formal banquet in Corrin Refectory tonight.

The Annual Senior dinner, given by Dr. and Mrs. Gramley, was held in the Club Dining Room last Wednesday. After the dinner the girls and husbands of the married girls were invited to the Gramley's home for an informal evening together.

A local dress shop entertained the Senior class Tuesday afternoon with a fashion show and tea. Four Salem girls modeled new spring and summer styles. The models were Peggy Bonner, Jane Smith, Sally Senter and Anne Miller. Mrs. DuBose was hostess.

Music Hour Features Originals

Original works by members of the class in composition were featured in the weekly Music Hour presented by the Salem College School of Music yesterday afternoon.

The program was as follows:
Polka Grottesque Evelyn Tatum
Improvitu Jeanne Tegtmeier
Bennie Jo Michael
Four A.M. Betty Lou Pfaff
Betty Tesch
Lullaby Rosalyn Fogel
Foreboding Miriam Swaim
Melody Lucy Harper
Bennie Jo Michael
Cynthia Jack Crim
Thursday Betty Jean Mabe
Nocturne Peggy Osborne
Mountain River
Peggy Osborne
Reminiscence Dan Hodge
Dance Bennie Jo Michael
Sara Honeycutt
Night Piece Miriam Swaim
Carolyn Lovelace
Smoke Signals Sara Honeycutt

New Lecture Group Formed

New members of the Lecture Committee have been appointed by Dr. Gramley and student leaders for the year 51-52.

The student members of the committee are: Jean Patton, representative of the Senior Class; Faye Lee, representative of the Junior Class; and Lu Long Ogburn, representative at large.

Miss Jess Byrd is chairman of the Lecture Committee. The faculty members of the committee, as appointed by Dr. Gramley, are; Mrs. Pyron, Mrs. Merriman, Miss Marsh, Miss Kirkland, Miss Nicholson, and Mr. Spencer.

The new committee will hold its first meeting next week in the trustee room of the office building. Plans for next year's program will begin at this meeting.

An Academy faculty member and student will be added to the list of committee members.

"Y" Cabinet Installed

The Salem College Y. W. C. A. held its annual installation service last Sunday night in the main auditorium of the Home Moravian Church.

Mary Faith Carson, retiring president, installed the incoming president, Carol Stortz, who in turn installed the members of the new "Y" Cabinet.

Dan Hodge

Jack Crim

Two of Salem's men students, Jack S. Crim, baritone, and Daniel W. Hodge, violinist, will present their graduating recitals May 1, 1951 at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Nell Folger Glenn and Margaret Ferrill Vardell will be their accompanists.

The program will be:
Good Fellows Be Merry

J. S. Bach
Have You Seen But A White Lily Grow Dowland
Lascia ch'io Piange.....
D. F. Handel
Aria: Cavatina from "Faust"..... Gounod
Mr. Crim
Largo Veracini
(Continued on page three)

(Continued on page five)