Allen Speaks As W.S.S.F. Begins Drive

To begin the W. S. S. F. Drive the "Y" Cabinet had the Rev. Walser Allen, pastor of the King Moravian Church as its guest speaker at 6:30 on Monday night.

After an introduction by Carol Stortz, Rev. Allen spoke on the organization and meaning of the W. S. S. F. movement. He stated that the W. S. S. This federation consists of representatives from various denominations. Its headquarters are located in Geneva, the same place as the World Council of Churches, and it is in a position to see the needy areas of the world. Rev. Allen stressed the idea that contributions to W. S. S. F., are going to a worthy cause.

In chapel last Tuesday, Mary Campbell Craig, chairman of the drive, spoke to the student body on the work of the W. S. S. F. She brought in the fact that the movement is based upon a "Point Five" program which is a part of a total world program prepared by World University Service at its annual assembly.

These five points are: (1) to live, (2) to work, (3) to learn, (4) to know, and (5) to care. She also stated that W. S. S. F. represents the Care Book Program and the U. N. E. S. C. O. Gift Coupon Plan on American campuses.

Through conferences the movement provides opportunities for students to gain understanding, which is necessary in meeting the needs of the citizens of One World. Mary Campbell reminded the stu-

English Actress Wins Salemites

By Florence Cole

"Yes, I like the South very much, but I am anxious to return to London," answered Vivienne Bennett to the usual interviewer's question.

Seated on a divan in the Friendship Rooms, Miss Bennett presented a typical picture of English charm and elegance. She was definitely queen of the hour and readily responded to each person's questions at an after-dinner coffee given in her honor last Monday.

Miss Bennett, who opened the annual Lecture Series with presentations from six famous Shakespearean plays, was both pleased and awed by the hushed attentiveness of her audience.

Apparent delight was expressed by the spectators as Miss Bennett handled the "light" difficulty with a true artist's wit.

General campus opinion proved Miss Bennett's interpretation of Lady Macbeth most popular. Gowned in black velvet, she captured all the masculine qualities, wild delights and femininity of the Shakespearean heroine.

Next in favoritism was Rosalinde from "As You Like It". For this part she was attired in a befitting green tunic with matching stockings and green suede beret. Her vivacious presentation of the young girl was applauded enthusiastically.

When asked if she preferred to have her costumes unpacked and placed in a safe place before the performance, she retorted with, "No-one but a magpie would possibly want my costumes."

Miss Bennett's praise of Salem was, "Oh, I think it's beautiful and I like the old buildings."

60 Davidson Men To Arrive Tomorrow

Approximately sixty Davidson boys will come over to Salem Saturday afternoon for the annual "Y"-sponsored Salem - Davidson Day. The entertainment will consist of a hayride at about 3:30 in the afternoon, the destination being Camp Betty Hastings.

The group will participate in a square dance led by a caller, after which a picnic supper will be served. In completion the group will return to Salem campus in order to attend the A. A. Halloween dance.

The event has been planned by Carol Stortz, president of the Salem Y. W. C. A.; Betty Parks, Social Chairman of the Salem Y. W. C. A.; and Bill Buckley, of the Davidson Y. M. C. A. The chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. French, The Reverend and Mrs. Sawyer, and Miss Hodges.

Vespers To Be Play

This week's vespers will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship room of the Home Moravian Church.

The program will be a religious drama presented by the young people's drama group of the church. The group has chosen as its subject "Living Hymns", which will trace the story of hymns from the early church music to the church music of today. Such a religious drama will show the movement of history through hymns in the Christian Church.

The program will be presented by a choric speaking choir, a singing choir and two narrators.

The faculty and student body are invited.
