

Volunteers Asked To Help In Town Work

Community volunteer work was stressed in chapel, last Thursday when the Winston-Salem Volunteer Service committee presented a radio skit.

This skit, "If You Shouldn't Say Yes, Say No", showed the complications of a young bride, played by Florence Cole, who took on too many community jobs. Finally she discovered through a volunteer service committee that she could budget her service and also introduce her shy neighbor, played by Ann Rhyne, to community work. The skit also introduced the number of services the Community Service Workers perform, such as the Red Feather Drive, Toy Shop and Cancer Drive. Other cast members were Ben Runckle local radio announcer who portrayed the husband of the young bride, and Elizabeth Trotter, Woman's editor of Winston-Salem Sentinel, who played the role of a town busybody. Sally Kerner gave organ background music.

After the skit, representatives of the Winston-Salem Volunteer Workers met with a faculty-student committee in which tentative plans were discussed for getting student participation in volunteer work and the setting up of an agency to handle the college volunteer service. Kitty Burrus and Lola Dawson were the student representatives.

Mrs. Lois DeHart, chairman of the Winston-Salem Volunteer Service Committee, backs the campus program.

Curlee And

(Continued from page one)

Chicago.

Mr. Curlee came to Salem in 1929 after receiving his B. A. and M. A. at the University of North Carolina. He also did professional study at U. N. C., the University of Chicago and Duke University.

Morrisette's

Dept. Store

4th at Trade

ONE IMPORTANT THING ABOUT MOTHER AND DAUGHTER
STORE IS

YOU CAN DO
MOST OF YOUR FASHION
SHOPPING
UNDER ONE
ROOF

SAVES TIME AND YOU'LL LIKE
THE PRICES
TOO.

MOTHER & DAUGHTER
FASHIONS

Corner Liberty & Third Sts.

Plays Sweep Southern Colleges Playmakers Outrank Tarheels

By Eleanor Johnson
from the exchange

Drama is sweeping the country—Southern college campuses anyway. Davidson College is planning a production of the English comedy, Ten Little Injuns. Carolina also turned to comedy with the Silver Whistle. The University of Virginia presented Eugene O'Neill's Ah, Wilderness! and is planning the opening of The Madwoman of Chailot and Electra. Hood College in Fredrick, Md., is staging a Salem favorite, Goodbye, My Fancy, while the Sweet Briar dramatic organization is doing the comedy, Who Nose.

Speaking of drama the Tar Heel football team has taken a back seat to the Playmakers of Chapel Hill. Statistics reveal that every year 440,000 persons attend the productions of the dramatic society, while only 330,000 attend the football games.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile seems to be touring campuses all over the country.

The University of North Carolina Law School held dedication ceremonies for the new addition to the school. It is one of the oldest state university legal institutions in the country.

The Student Council at the University of Virginia issued a letter to the student body calling for an end to display drinking. The exhibit of bottles of liquor, paper cups and ice containers got out of hand during dance weekend just past.

The 27 student freshmen nurses at Chapel Hill stated in an interview to the campus newspaper that they like Carolina and Carolina Gentlemen. The girls are at present observing the same restrictions as the W. C. division but things should liven up next semester when regular coed dating hours will be allowed.

Davidson celebrated its "Decade of Destiny" under Dr. John R. Cunningham. Dr. Cunningham assumed the presidency of Davidson College in 1941.

Senator Taft plans to visit several North Carolina campuses. These include Wake Forest, University of North Carolina, Duke and W. C. Republicans take notice.

Police Chief of the University of North Carolina Traffic Department is cracking down on stray cars. There have been several complaints about automobiles that have been abandoned around the grounds and adjacent area for several years. Such cars will now be hauled away to the junk yard.

Nominations for the freshman class officers have been protested by a member of the freshman class at Wake Forest. The protest is based on the disorderly class meeting and the procedure of nominating candidates.

A canine made the headlines at Wake Forest when he joined the 18 newly elected members of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges on the stage in morning chapel. The disputed character was denied membership on the grounds that he was not enrolled in the college.

Juniors, Frosh Play First Hockey Game

Hockey season began Thursday afternoon with a game between the juniors and freshmen.

Sally Ann Knight, hockey manager, and Emily Gunn, her assistant, have announced the following remaining schedule:

Seniors vs. sophomores	Nov. 12
Seniors vs. juniors	Nov. 13
Freshmen vs. sophomores	Nov. 14
Juniors vs. sophomores	Nov. 15
Freshmen vs. seniors	Nov. 19

The class managers include Marlene Hedrick, freshman; Nancy Arnott, sophomore; B. J. Smith, junior and Emily Mitchell, senior.

Paul Engle

(Continued from page one)

won the championship of Oxford University. He was also one of the few Americans to play on the cricket team and editor of "The New Oxford Outlook". Engle traveled extensively on the European continent.

The lecture committee feels that hearing Mr. Engle gives Salem students the opportunity to come in contact with a real poet. This lecture was designed primarily for the students. It is an opportunity to gain an understanding of modern poetry. Miss Siewers has arranged a display of Mr. Engle's writings in the library.

NewsBriefs

The Rev. Edwin A. Sawyer will deliver the anniversary sermon at the Home Moravian Church Sunday, Nov. 11, at 11:00 a.m. This will mark the 180th anniversary of the church. Mr. Sawyer has chosen for his topic "The Sickness of Our Time".

* * * * *

The faculty study evaluation committee met last Wednesday in the living room of Strong and further discussed the philosophy of Salem College.

* * * * *

Freshmen will be given opportunities to discuss the results of their personality test with Miss Eileen Smoke and Mrs. Amy Heidbreder. This test, which was taken Nov. 1, is related to the last two freshman seminars, which have dealt with mental health and happiness and the development of personality. The results of the test will be made known soon.

* * * * *

A photograph of the steeple of Home Moravian Church as seen from the steps of Memorial Hall appeared on the cover of the October issue of Spout magazine. The magazine is the trade publication of a salt company.

Complete Auto Service At

SALEM SHELL SERVICE

1036 S. Main St.

MORRIS SERVICE

Next To Carolina Theatre

* * * * *

Sandwiches—Salads—Sodas

"The Place Where Salemites Meet"

Shop daily 9:30 to 5:30 and Friday nights till 9

Sosnik-Thalhimer's

Place Christmas orders now for gifts that say "to you . . . with love" all hand-cut by our own skilled engraver with 1, 2 or 3 initials

Monogrammed Glassware

Choose a sparkling set of 8 sham-base glasses with
1, 2 or 3 initials

2.29

A Christmas gift for a favorite host or hostess! Federal sham-base glasses in 14-oz. iced teas, 12-oz. utility size, 10-oz. water tumblers or 7-oz. juice glasses.
All personalized with
1, 2 or 3 initials.

China and Glass • Main Floor