

Three Salem Seniors Receive Diplomas At Chapel Program

Mrs. Nina Tom DeRamus, Mrs. Katherine Babcock Mountcastle, and Miss Sarah Dalton Long received their diplomas from Salem College in Honor Chapel yesterday. Each of them received B A degrees as Economics-Sociology majors.

The graduates accepted their diplomas after the Scripture reading and prayer by Dr. Rondthaler and a short talk by Dr. Gramley.

The diplomas received by the graduates were the first to be used of a new type upon which the faculty agreed last year. The diplomas are in dark blue leather folders with SALEM COLLEGE printed in gold on the outside.

Honor Chapel also recognized new members of the Honor Society. They are: Barbara Allen, Ruth Derrick, William Long, Eleanor McGregor, Alice McNeely, Anna Frances Morgan, Ann Robertson Morgan, Lu Long Ogburn, Frankie Strader, Edith Tesch and Mary Lou Whiteheart.

Sweetheart Of Salem Contest To Be Held

The "Sweetheart of Salem" will be announced in the Valentine issue of the Salemite next week.

The senior class is sponsoring this contest February 6-10. Any male friend, sweetheart, cousin, nephew, father, brother, and even Dr. Gramley is eligible to compete for the title.

Members of the senior class have collected the pictures at an entry price of 10¢ for each contestant. All the submitted pictures will be displayed on tables in the Clewell date room. Each vote cast will be one penny placed in the containers provided by each picture.

The winning sweetheart and the person entering the winner's picture will receive a carton of nationally known cigarettes from the campus representative.

The proceeds of the project will be used by the senior class.

"Bunny" Gregg, Freshman, To Be Member Of Salem May Court

By Elsie Macon

"Yes, I thought I'd die", Bunny said when I asked her if she were surprised at being a new member of the May Court. "Jo told me the Friday night that exams started."

Saress Gregg, "Bunny" to everyone, is from Bennettsville, S. C. She's a pretty blue-eyed, brunette, has a slow drawl and a quiet manner.

Bunny attended high school in Bennettsville where she was in the Beta and Glee Clubs, Tri-Hi-Y, winner of the D. A. R. award on the "Spectator" staff, Secretary-Treasurer of the Junior Class and Miss Hi.

Dr. Gramley Goes To Press

It has been called to the attention of the editors that the abilities of a local man have been greatly underrated.

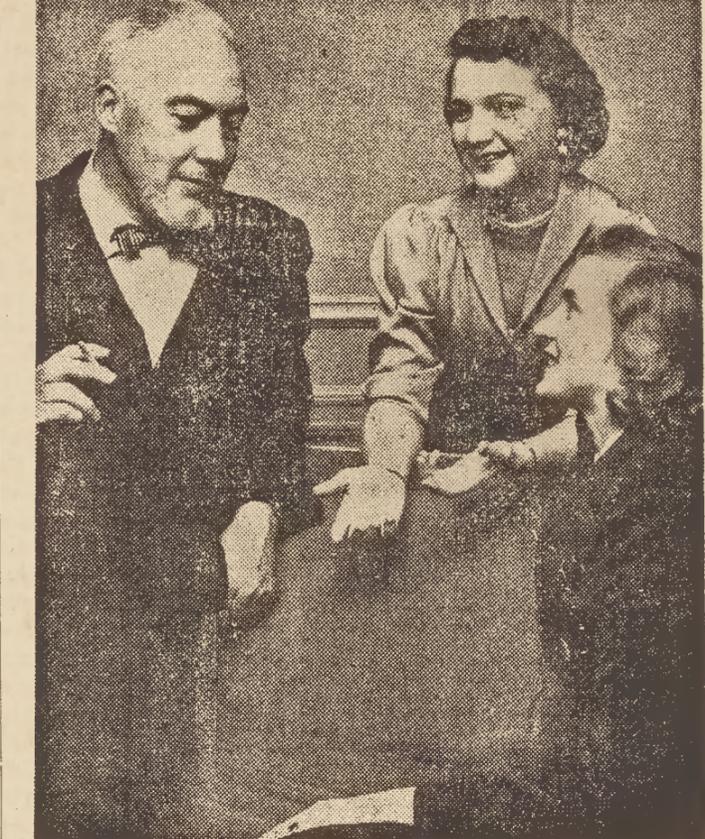

During a recent period of trying times Dale H. Gramley proved himself invaluable in the field of mimeographing. His subject was Examinations, and his performance was above reproach. Each copy, a vertiable masterpiece, was immaculately printed as it rolled off the press.

Those desiring the services of Dale Gramley are asked to notify the office immediately in order to be placed on the waiting list.

Bunny Gregg

has a fifteen year old brother and four year old brother and sister who are twins.

Tom Scott, ballad and folk song singer who gave a program in Memorial Hall last Tuesday night, chats with two Salem music students, Denyse McLawhorn of Winterville and Sallie Gene Kerner of Henderson.

Todd Recognized

A paper, "The Issues and States of the Second Folio and Milton's Epitaph on Shakespeare", by Dr. William B. Todd has been published by the Bibliographical Society of the University of West Virginia. The paper is included in the 1952-53 Volume of Studies of Bibliography.

Dr. Todd is head of Salem's English Department and is on temporary leave doing research in England on a Fulbright Scholarship.

Frosh, Juniors To Begin Season In Basketball

Victors of this year's hockey tournament, the Freshmen, will meet last year's basketball winners, the Juniors, in a tournament game next Friday night at 7:00 p.m. Both classes have a skillful team and promise a thriller for the tournament opener.

The Seniors and Sophomores will clash on Feb. 18; the Seniors will meet the Juniors on Feb. 24; the Juniors and Sophomores play Feb. 25; and the Freshmen oppose the Seniors on Feb. 26. For the last game on March 3, Sophomores will play the Freshmen.

The games have been scheduled for 7:00 p.m. to enable students to attend immediately after supper.

The managers for the tournament are Ruthie Derrick and Polly Larkins.

The basketball managers selected by each class are responsible for scheduling their own team practices.

Emma Sue Larkins, president of the A. A., reminds all interested in obtaining points toward letters or in making the varsity basketball team must have five practices. These practices include at least four practice periods at the gym and one practice with their class team.

Fred Garvey From Reynolds To Give Piano Recital Feb. 9

Mr. Fred Garvey, sixteen year old Junior at Reynolds High School, will be presented in a piano recital in Memorial Hall on February 9, at 8:00 p.m. He is studying with Mr. Hans Hiedemann.

Prior to coming to Salem College, Mr. Garvey had studied since he was six years old under Mrs. Richard Siebel, and for the past three semesters has studied under Mr. Heidemann.

At Reynolds High School where he is an honor student, Mr. Gar-

Tom Scott Entertains With Ballads

"I am sure this will be more interesting than Charles Laughton. If you should happen to learn something, don't hold it against me."

Tom Scott created an informal atmosphere with this opening statement in Memorial Hall Tuesday night. Mr. Scott substituted on the Lecture Series for Charles Laughton. He presented a program of twenty-four ballads.

Plays Guitar

The program was divided into four parts: work songs, ballads, folk songs, and religious songs. Before each group he explained the origin and meaning of the songs to the audience. He accompanied himself on the guitar.

Among the best known of his numbers were "The Big Rock Candy Mountain," "Wandering," and "Barbara Allen." The ballad of reconstruction days in the South, "For I'm A Good Old Rebel," received the greatest ovation from the audience.

Born in central Kentucky, Mr. Scott spent his youth on his father's farm. He is firstly a composer and secondly an interpreter of folk songs. At one time he had his own dance band. He was once with Fred Waring. Mr. Scott was choral director for the Broadway play, "Brigadoon."

Salem students and faculty were surprised to see their lecturer with white hair and beard. His pictures on the posters showed him as a brunette. The beard was grown in preparation for a series of television programs. Mr. Scott will make 39 films to be shown on television next summer. The title of the series is "The Tales of Robin Hood," in which he plays the troubadour.

Goes to Germany

In 1948 Mr. Scott was sent to Germany by the U. S. Government in a concert series for the German people. He has played in New York cafe society and Carnegie Hall.

Development of the American ballad may be traced to an origin in the British Isles. Many older American ballads were brought to Kentucky and the Carolinas by word of mouth. Few if any changes have been made. Mr. Scott said that many of these ballads were not preserved in England.

vey also played on the football team which won the 1952 championship. He plays the French horn in the school band and orchestra. In the Winston-Salem Symphony's last concert he played the French horn.

Mr. Garvey is the son of Dr. Fred K. Garvey, a surgeon at Bowman Gray Medical school.

- His program is as follows:
- Prelude and Fugue in D major Bach-Busoni
 - Sonata Op. 57 "Appassionata" Beethoven
 - Fantasia in f minor Chopin
