Beware!

By Joanne Bell
 Suggestions for Satisfying the Superstitions that Surreptitiously Slip out Suddenly When Someone's Sure She's Not Some Subject of Stupid Situations as Superstitions Suggest or Adverse Advice.

Hear what I say:
 "Beware, Beware!
 Today is the day
 Of black cats and ladders;
 Stay out of the Way!"

If a big black cat
 Steps in your path
 Tear a piece of paper,
 Or accept the aftermath!

For—
 "Today is the day
 Stay out of the way!"

Don't pass the salt
 From hand to hand—
 But put it down—
 That I command!

Any fallen grains
 Must be tossed away
 Throw them over your shoulder
 Or someday you'll pay!

For
 "Today is the Day."

A broken mirror
 Means 7 years of tears
 But today the curse is doubled
 Now it's 14 years!
 If you ever crossed your fingers
 You'd better do it now—

Pinafore Is Planned

Two Winston-Salem high school students, Lynn Hamrick and Sue Durham, pupils of Mrs. Nell Starr, will appear in the operetta. The role of Buttercup will be played by Miss Gwen Ewell.

The admission price is $1.00.

Or you'll be sorry later—
 That's one thing I'll vow!
 "Beware, Beware!"

Knock on wood once,
 Knock on wood twice
 Don't knock at all
 And you'll pay the price!

Look out for the ladder
 Don't go under—go around—
 Don't trust your luck
 For today it can't be found.

For
 "Today is the Day
 Of black cats and ladders
 Stay out of the way!"

Now
 Hear what I say
 "Today is the day of black cats
 Bad luck on Friday thirteenth,
 But tomorrow's the day of Cupid—
 Better luck on the fourteenth!"

Salem Filmed For T. V. Show

TV engineers from NBC network rolled their cameras on Salem campus for a whole day last week. They were taking shots of the campus and of Old Salem to be presented on the TV show Camel Caravan sometime this spring. The date will be announced later.

The reason for the visit of the engineers and cameramen was the dedication of the 2 million dollar research laboratory at R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. last Thursday.

The cameramen took shots of Old Salem, Inc. headquarters, street scenes, Brother's House, Sister's House, Salem Tavern, Home Moravian Church, South Hall, John Vogler house, the Keehn house, the sitting room of the College Alumnae house, Link-Boner House, Joshua Boner house, and a scene in the Wachovia Museum.

Included in the scene of the Alumnae House sitting room were two Salemites dressed in Old Salem costumes. They were Jean Davenport, a senior from Rocky Mount and Nancy Huffard, a junior from Bluefield, V.

Music Notes

Rehearsals for the forthcoming production of Menotti's opera, "The Medium," are being held nightly. According to the latest reports Miss Margaret Vardell will make her singing debut in this performance.

This week-end the Choral Ensemble will give two Sunday concerts. Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. the group will sing at the Winston-Salem Teacher's College. At 7:30 that night the Ensemble will present a program of sacred music at the Kernersville Moravian Church.

Mr. Paul Peterson, director of the Chorale Ensemble, and Mrs. Nell Starr, Salem voice teacher, will attend the North Carolina Chapter of the National Association of Teachers of Singing.

Salem students should have a special interest in the Metropolitan Opera broadcast at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon. The performance will be Igor Stravinsky's The Rake's Progress with the libretto written by W. H. Auden and Chester Kallman. Mr. Auden appeared at Salem in December as speaker for the Lecture Series.

Shopes Are Injured

Jean and Joan Shope and their father suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident Saturday night. Their car collided with another at the Louisburg-Wake Forest intersection on their way to their grandfather's funeral in Wilson.

They were taken to Rex Hospital in Raleigh. Joan returned to Salem Sunday night. Jean is at home and is expected to return next week.
