Next Week Set Aside For Charm

Charm Week, sponsored by the I. R. S., will begin Monday, March 15 and last through March 21. This week is set aside each year to emphasize the importance of charm and neatness in dress and appearance.

Jane Fearing is chairman of Charm Week. Her plans consist of a skit in chapel Tuesday which Sarah Sue Tisdale is planning. The skit will feature clothes of today as compared with those of our grandmothers and mothers.

Thursday in chapel Flossie Cole Donahue, an ex-Salemite, will speak on charm. Thursday night there will be a fashion show in the Day Student Center sponsored by a local store. There are tentative plans for a coffee one night during the week and a cosmetic consultant.

Miss Evelyn Sosnik is the fashion show consultant. Featured in the fashion show will be the seniors modeling the fashions they can use this spring and also use on low budget allowance next year.

Sport clothes, ranging from bathing suits to peddle pushers, school cottons, spring suits and date dresses in the new spring colors of yellow, cocoa, grey and navy blue will be modeled. Fluffy spring evening dresses in pastel colors will also be featured.

The climax of the show will be the spring bride, Anne Hughes, and her maid of honor, Peggyan Alderman.

Models are: The May Court which includes Bunny Gregg, Connie Barnes, Rooney Barnes, Claire Chesnut, Jane Fearing, Nancy Florence, Bobbie Kuss, LuLong Ogburn, Guillemette Roussel, Sara Sue Tisdale, Helen Carol Watkins and Mary Joyce Wilson.

Other models are Emma Sue Larkins, Anne Miller, Jean and Joan Shope, Mary Ceile Flowers, Betty Tyler, Anne Lowe, Margie Hartshorn, Margie Ferrell, Kay Cunningham, Bessie Smith, Betty McGlaughon and Joy Dickson.

Miss Charm will be elected this same week by the Salemite staff and I. R. S. She will take the place of the Girl of the Month and will be featured in the Salemite next Friday. Last year Miss Charm was Frances Williams.

Patrick's Play Begins Tues.

"The Curious Savage", by John Patrick, will be presented by the Little Theater of Winston-Salem March 17, 18, 19 and 20 at 8:15 p.m. The play will be staged in the round.

"The Curious Savage" is an entertaining and fanciful comedy based on a genuine human philosophy of life. The action centers around Mrs. Savage who has been left $10 million by her husband. She wants to make the best of her possession in spite of her shortcomings.

The comedy centers around Mrs. Savage when she is committed to a sanitorium, but takes her money with her—in a panda.

The cast for "The Curious Savage" is as follows:

Mrs. Savage ..... Elizabeth Trotman
Lily Belle ..... Jo McAfee
Senator Titus Savage ..... Bill McAfee

Judge Samuel Savage ..... Doug Carter
The five guests at the sanitorium will be portrayed by Margaret Merchant, Charie Gibson, Janet Jones, Bruce Gordon, and Bernice Ross.

Salem Seniors Plan Various Jobs For Future As June And Graduation Approach

By Myra Dickson
and Peggy Cheers

Just as a young man's fancy lightly turns to love in the spring, so Salem seniors' thoughts turn to the future. "What will I do next year?" haunts every senior.

Even with four years of college education, a college degree, and, for some, a teaching certificate, the tremendous decision of what to do

Sophs Beat Seniors 58-35

The sophomores and seniors clashed for the college championship in basketball last Tuesday night. The former won out over their big sisters, 58-35.

The first quarter ended with the seniors ahead 11-10, but after that it was the sophomore's game as they had one of their better nights, hitting from all angles of the court and controlling the rebounds off both boards.

High scorers for the winners were Allison Long with 23 points and Jean Currin with 20. Emma Sue Larkins hit for 19 to lead the losers. The sophomore guards played their best defensive game as they completely bottled up the senior attack.

The sophomores advanced to the final in the basketball championship by defeating the juniors, 47-24, in the first game of the playoffs.

The first quarter was nip and tuck with the sophomores holding a one point lead at that time. In the second quarter, however, Lu Long Ogburn started connecting on her hook shots and sent her team five points ahead. In the dying minutes of the first half she hurt her ankle and was forced out of the game. This was the turning point of the contest.

The second half was a runaway, but the juniors didn't give up until the final whistle blew.

High scorers for the sophomores were Allison Long and Jean Currin who had 19 points apiece.

Lu Long Ogburn had 16 for her team. Ann Merritt and Betty McGlaughon played sparkling games at guard for the juniors, and Francine Pitts led the defense for the winners.

with the future looms over each senior's head and the question must be answered.

Some of the senior girls plan to marry in the near future. But these girls have carefully thought ahead. If Faye Lee doesn't marry Ross this summer, she plans to begin training for the Salem White Socks professional baseball team.

Lefty Lee will get her training this spring as chief pitcher for the class team.

Emma Sue Larkins is faced with the same problem. She hopes to become chief chef at the Waldorf if her marriage to Dalton can't be arranged. Marian Lewis plans to accompany Emma Sue to New York. Marian has been offered a job as bartender and chief bouncer on the lower east side of the city.

Cash-Whicher Will Present Music Recital

The Salem College School of Music will present Miss Nancy Whicher, violinist, and Miss Betty Jean Cash, pianist, in a recital Wednesday, March 18 at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

The following program will be given:

Sonata in D minor ..... Mozart
Sonata in A minor ..... Beethoven
Miss Whicher, accompanied by Miss Cash

Concerto in A minor ..... Bach
Miss Whicher

Sonata in F major ..... Hayden
Miss Cash

Romanza Andaluza ..... De Saraste

Miss Whicher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whicher, has studied under Robert Harrison, concert-master of the Atlanta Symphony, James Lerch, and at present is studying under Eugene Jacobowsky.

At Reynolds High School where she is a senior, Miss Whicher has been concert-mistress of the school orchestra for three years, was in the All-State Orchestra for three years and in the All Southern Orchestra.

Nell Philips has decided to become a pro wrestler while Blair finishes his schooling. She will meet Ellen Bell in a ten rounder in Madison Square Garden early in September.

Most of the seniors with teaching certificates have solved their problems of the future. They have decided not to teach.

Connie Barnes and Loma Faye Cuthbertson are opening the Salem School of Exercise for those Salemites still eating their boxes of Valentine candy.

Mill Workers

Anne Lowe plans to work as carder in the mill in Mooresville and Barbara Fisher will be in charge of the music for the industrial workers union at the mill. Barbara plans to teach the workers to twirl batons during lunch hour.

Next fall Marilyn Summey will open her shop "Marilyn's Marvelous Massages." She already has agreements with faculty members to be regular customers.

Miss Student Teacher, Elsie Macon, goes to Washington in June to become a Private Eye. Elsie earned her job because the F. B. I. discovered that she never exaggerated.

Midgets

Ruthie Derrick and Jane Fearing will tour the country next year as midgets in a sideshow of Barnum-Bailey Circus.

Natural talents will help some graduating seniors with their jobs.

Lorrie Dirom will be a cowgirl because her legs are already bowed.

Cow juice holds such an important place in Sally Kerner's and Dora Cameron's diet that they have decided to become milk maids on Norma William's farm.

If they succeed in graduating from Salem, Jeanne Harrison and Frances Williams will enter the National Spelling Bee, next fall.

Jane Schoolfield is another Salemite who plans to try a career in the big city. She has been asked to direct the new hooch show, "Figleaf Follies".

Major Heads Are Chosen In Elections

New heads of five major organizations were chosen this week. They are Jean Calhoun, editor of the Salemite; Carol Glaser, editor of the Sights and Insights; Jean Shope, president of the I. R. S.; Betty Tyler, May Day Chairman; and Jean Edwards, president of the "Y".

Jean, a rising senior from Clinton is an English major and German minor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Calhoun. Jean has served as secretary of Student Government for the past year; has been managing editor of the Salemite; is an active member of the A. A.; and is a Scorpion.

Carol, from Charlotte, is a rising senior. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Glaser. She is a representative to the Stee Gee; associate editor of the Sights and Insights and a member of the "Y" cabinet. She is a Spanish major and French minor.

Jean, a rising senior from Weaverville, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shope. She is circulation manager of the Salemite, a marshal, treasurer of the I. R. S. and a Scorpion. She is a sociology-economics major and history minor.

Betty, a rising senior from Kinston, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tyler. She is an art major and English minor. She is on the feature staff of the Salemite; is active in the art club and sports; and is a member of the I. R. C.

Jean, a rising senior from Raleigh, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edwards. She is a home economics major and an education minor.

Varsity Goes To Play Day

Salem's 1953 basketball varsity represented Salem last Saturday, March 7, at a basketball Play Day sponsored by Guilford College's Women's Athletic Association.

The colleges attending were W. C., G. C., Carolina, Catawba, Salem, Meredith and Guilford. The games began at 10:00 a.m., and a picnic lunch was served in the recreation room at 12:00.

The last game was the championship game between Salem and Guilford, in which Guilford won after a hard fought contest. Refreshments were then served to all players at the close of the tournament.

Salem's team consisted of Francine Pitts, Betty McGlaughon, Anne Merritt, Lu Long Ogburn, Polly Larkins, Jean Currin, Marian Lewis, Donald Caldwell and Emma Sue Larkins.

These girls eliminated G. C. easily and moved into the finals against Guilford by defeating W. C., 13-11, in the semi-finals. Salem came back to win after a scoreless first half.

Miss Margaret Chapman and Miss Mozelle Palmer, physical education directors, attended the Play Day, and Miss Chapman was an official referee.
