

Edwards, Ogburn, Murray, Britt Are Elected Scorpions

Jean Edwards

dent and is majoring in music. Last year she was chief marshal, and is now pictorial editor of the Salemite. She is from Smithfield and has been on the May Court for three years. Lu Long is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Ogburn.

Alison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Britt of Murfreesboro and is an English major and history minor. She is vice-president of the student body and associate editor of the Salemite. Last year she was president of the Art Club and a marshal.

Connie, newly-elected president of the Pierrettes, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murray of

Alison Britt

Connie Murray

Jean Edwards, Lu Long Ogburn, Alison Britt, and Connie Murray are the new members of the Order of the Scorpion, honorary leadership organization on Salem campus.

Jean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edwards, is a home economics major from Raleigh. She was recently chosen president of the Y. W. C. A. Jean is a member of the F. T. A., the home economics club, the Pierrettes, and is on the Salemite staff.

Lu Long is a senior class presi-

Lu Long Ogburn

Durham. An English and history major, she is house president of Strong and associate editor of the Salemite. Last year she was class treasurer and vice-president of the International Relations Club.

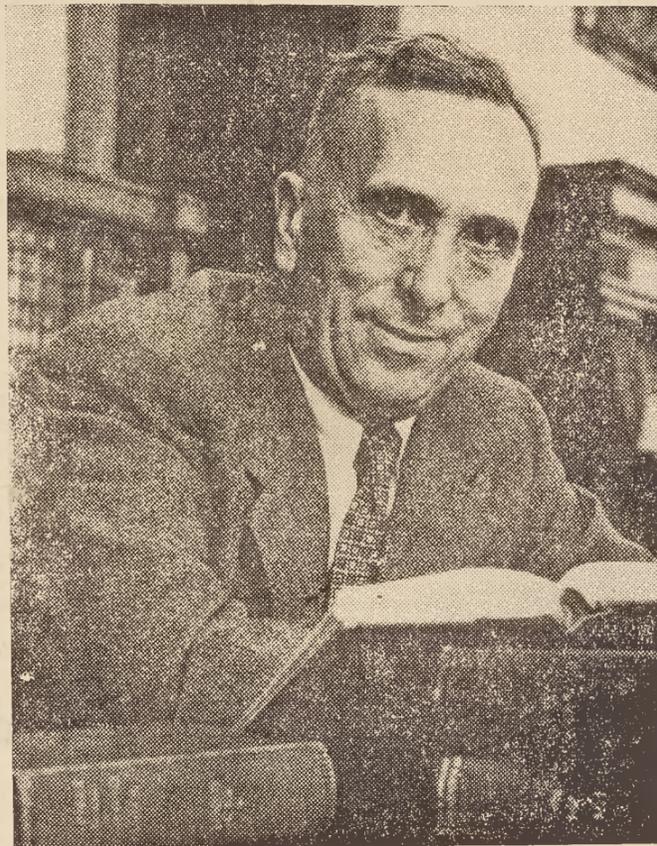

Other members of the Scorpions are Joan Shope, Jean Shope, Anne Lowe, Eleanor McGregor, Peggy Cheers, Marian Lewis, Jane Schoolfield, Jane Smith, Jeanne Harrison, Emma Sue Larkins, Ann Rhyne, Marilyn Summey, Alice McNeely and Jean Calhoun.

Auction Gets $200

The Y. W. C. A. collected a total of $200 from the two auction sales held in chapel last week.

Because faculty and students participated with such enthusiasm, it attracted the attention of the Winston-Salem branch of the Salem Alumnae and they added $250 to the amount already raised.

Plans therefore are now being made for another foreign student at Salem next year.

Dr. Thomas Hays Proctor, professor of philosophy, will be the first lecturer on the newly instituted Rondthaler Lectureship program. Dr. Proctor will be at Salem on April 28-29 and will hold group discussions on various topics as well as speaking in chapel on "Liberal Education and Its Place in the World of Today."

Dr. Proctor Is To Begin Lectureship

Dr. Thomas Hays Proctor, professor of philosophy will begin the first program in the newly established Rondthaler Lectureship series on April 28-29.

Dr. Proctor will address the student body in chapel April 28 on "Liberal Education and Its Place in the World of Today." At three that afternoon he will meet with students on campus and discuss humanism.

At dinner, Dr. and Mrs. Proctor will be the guests of the Scorpions in the main dining room after which coffee will be served in Strong. Salem students are invited to the coffee to meet Dr. and Mrs. Proctor.

Wednesday's schedule will begin at 10:00 a.m. with a discussion of Greek philosophy and Plato in the Day Student Center.

"Trends in Modern Philosophy" will be the topic at noon after which the faculty and guests will be entertained at a luncheon in the Club Dining room. Later at 3:30 p.m. students are invited to tea.

An Englishman by birth, Dr. Proctor arrived in America in 1901 to study in American colleges. After studying for six years at the University of Manchester, he returned to the continent to attend German universities. He studied at the University of Berlin and the University of Heidelberg.

In 1919 Dr. Proctor made his third voyage to the United States. He instructed at Williams College advancing to an assistant professorship the following year. In 1924 he was called to Wellesley, teaching there for 28 years.

Discussing philosophy and current problems with college students is one of Dr. Proctor's main enjoyments. He has been nicknamed "Mr. Plato" and has gained such favor with college girls that some have asked him to officiate in their weddings.

Two years ago Dr. Proctor was named by Life Magazine as one of the ten greatest United States professors. For the past year he has been a visiting lecturer at Woman's College, Greensboro. His main purpose of lecturing to college students is "to stimulate the students to think more clearly and profoundly about the fundamental problems of life and the universe in which we live."

Junior-Senior Will Be Given At Plantation

The Junior Class will give the Junior-Senior Banquet in honor of the graduating class at the Plantation Club at 7:00 on April 29.

The honor guests at the banquet will be Dr. and Mrs. Dale H. Gramley; Miss Jess Byrd, senior class advisor; Mrs. Nell Starr, house mother of Biting dormitory; Miss Catherine Nicholson, junior class advisor and Mrs. Amy Heidebreder, house mother of Strong dormitory.

The invitations, miniature sheep skins, were written by Cyndy May. Frankie Strader is in charge of the place cards. Gifts will be distributed to each senior.

Molly Quinn is in charge of the transportation.

Joint Recital Set For Apr. 27

Eugene M. Jacobowsky, violinist, and head of the string department of the School of Music, and Hans Hiedemann, piano instructor, will present a program of selections by Mozart, Beethoven and Franck at 8:30 p.m. Monday, April 27, in Memorial Hall.

Eugene Jacobowsky received a B. S. degree from the Julliard School of Music and M. A. in Music Education at Columbia University.

He has wide experience on the concert stage and is well-known to local audiences for his work with the Winston-Salem Symphony Orchestra.

Hans Hiedemann was formerly a member of the original Four Piano Ensemble, which gained an international reputation in the concert world before it disbanded in 1951.

Mr. Hiedemann is also a graduate of the Julliard School of Music and has studied with Rudolph Serkin in Switzerland, and with Mariz and Hedwig Rosenthal in New York City.

"Y" Conference Elects Forrest

Betsy Forrest was elected vice-president of the collegiate branch of the state Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. for the next year at their spring conference. This meeting was held last weekend at Quaker Lake. Miss Margaret Barrier was also elected to serve as an advisor for this group.

A report of the conference was given at the local "Y" retreat held last Monday night in the Friendship room of the Moravian Church, at which time supper was served and plans for the coming year were discussed.

Other members of Salem's "Y" cabinet for the coming year are Jean Edwards, president; Barbara Allen, "Boots" Hudson, Molly Quinn, Sue Harrison, Sue Jones, Anne Edwards, Norma Ansell, Carolyn Kneeburg, Sara Outland, Nellie Ann Barrow, Mary McNeely Rogers, Eleanor Walton and Agnes Rennie.

Sallie Jean Kerner, Senior, Will Present Organ Recital

Sallie Jean Kerner, organist, will present her senior graduation re-

Sallie Jean Kerner

ital at 8:30 p.m. on Monday, April 26 in Memorial Hall.

Sallie has studied under Miss

Margaret Vardell, Dr. Smutz of the National Music Camp at Interlocken, Mich., and Mr. Harold Gleason of the Eastman School of Music in New York, N. Y.

While at Salem, Sallie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kerner of Henderson, has been a member of the Honor Society, the Y Cabinet, Executive Board of the Finance Committee, president of the Choral Ensemble her senior year, and organist for the Chapel choir.

Her program will be as follows:
Chaconne Couperin
Toccata per l'Elevazione Frescobaldi
Sonate II Hindemitle
Lebhaft
Ruhig Hewegt
Toccata, Adagio, Fugue in C Bach
Litinies Alain
Divertissement Vierne
Meditation from Suite
Medievale L'anglais
Carillou-Sortie Mulet