

Choral Group Will Tour State

The Salem College Chorale Ensemble, under the direction of Paul W. Peterson, will leave Sunday, April 25 to be on tour for two days.

The group will present their first program at 11:00 a.m. Sunday, April 26, when they will render a program of sacred music at the Presbyterian Church in Albemarle. They will be the luncheon guests of the Salem alumnae of Albemarle.

Sunday evening at 5:30 p.m. the Ensemble will present a program of sacred music at the Moravian Church of Charlotte. The group will be the overnight guests of the Charlotte Salem alumnae.

A concert of sacred and secular music will be given by the group on Monday, April 27 at the high school in Concord. The Salem alumnae of Concord will honor the group with a luncheon at the First Presbyterian Church there.

Soloists for the programs will be Peggy Ann Alderman, Ernestine Kapp, Jean Miller, Betty Carol Johnston and Lu Long Ogburn. The accompanist for the Ensemble will be Frankie Strader.

Dr. Singer Speaks

"In dying Stalin created as many problems as he did while he was living," said Dr. Gregg Singer in chapel Tuesday. The subject of his speech was "Reflections on the Death of a Dictator."

A revolution caused by Stalin's death was quite impossible, he said. There is no revolutionary tradition in Russia; Russia has had 1000 years of despotism; Russia would not want to oust a government that was improving them materially, and a revolutionary movement would be too easily detected.

A peace offensive, whatever its purpose, is filled with numerous dangers to the west, Singer stated.

America has been living in an abnormal situation for 14 years, he said. Free enterprise has been misused by two administrations, he asserted.

Therefore, a resulting peace can be as much of a nightmare as war, Singer reasoned. The situation—continuation of war, or strained atmosphere of peace—is not un-solvable, Singer concluded.

NewsBriefs

The student budget has been raised for the coming year. The budget for undergraduates will be $21.50 instead of $21, and the budget for seniors will be $24.50 instead of $24.

The 50 cent increase will be given to the business staff of the Salemite.

Lu Long Ogburn, Helen Burns, and Carolyn Spaugh, wearing Old Salem costumes and posing in Old Salem settings, were photographed for Parade Magazine. The pictures will appear in approximately three months.

Mr. Paul Peterson has been named a faculty member for the regional voice teachers' workshop to be held at Appalachian State Teachers' College in Boone during August of this year.

An article, "General Survey of Final Semester Voice Examination Requirements," written by Paul Peterson of the Salem College music faculty, has been featured in a recent issue of the "Bulletin", a publication of the National Association of Teachers of Singing, Inc.

Reports Given In Workshop

The Presidents' Workshop was held Tuesday, April 21, in the Friendship Rooms of Strong. All new heads of major and minor organizations on campus were present.

The afternoon session began with reports from student organization presidents, after which Miss Eileen Smoke discussed "Student Participation."

Dinner was served to the group and the individual organization sponsors in the Club Dining Room with Miss Elizabeth Parker, Dean of Students at Mary Baldwin College, as guest speaker. "The Role of the President of Campus Organizations—Techniques of Leadership" was the topic of her talk.

During the evening session, Alice McNeely, president of Stee Gee, led the discussion of "Effectiveness in the Individual Campus Organization." A report was then given by Anna Kathryn Dobson on the student budget, after which Mrs. Amy R. Heidbreder discussed "Cooperation Among Organizations."

The workshop concluded with the adoption of resolutions concerning practices of the organizations for the coming year.
