

Mom, Dad Get Letters Of Daughter's Love; Later Sweep Up Rice, Pay Bills, Long To Relax

By Betty Tyler

On the subject of love, courtship, and marriage it's the same old story. Girl meets boy, dates boy, marries boy, (if she's lucky.)

Each step reported periodically home. Poor Mom and Dad are the sufferers, hearing only the barest outline of the affair and in the end footing the bill.

Dear Mom and Dad, I have met the most luscious man! Do you remember that cute blind date I was telling you Jane was getting me?

Well, he really is a dream, complete with Stewart Granger's build, Dale Roberson's eyes and Tyrone Power's hair. And to top it all, he has asked me to his fraternity functions next weekend.

Dreamily yours, Anne

Dear Mom and Dad, Just a little note to tell you how wonderful I did on my six weeks' test. I made a B on English and an A on Math. I just thought you might be interested.

Love, Anne

P.S. Oh, Yeh, I forgot. Tom has asked me to go to the Spring Germans. I know you said that I have been going down there too much. But six weeks in a row is not bad. Really it isn't!

Dear Mom and Dad,

Johnson Plans A Fall Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Johnson of Peterborough, N. H. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Banks, to James Prescott Day, Ensign U. S. N. R. James, son of Capt. D. K. Day of Niantic, Conn., attended the Drew School in San Francisco, Cal. and San Mateo Jr. College.

He received his B. S. degree from the Webb Institute of Naval Architecture in Glen Cove, N. Y.

Eleanor, a junior at Salem, has been secretary-treasurer of the Pierrettes, feature editor of the Salemite, and the director of this year's May Day pageant.

September Is Chosen

A September wedding is planned, after which the couple will make their home in Charleston, S. C. where Eleanor will complete her B. S. degree in history.

When Eleanor, "Pook" was asked how she met Jimmy, she said it was very confusing.

His oldest sister (Jody) and "Pook's" oldest sister (Anna) were close friends. His youngest sister (Diane) and "Pook" were good friends in high school. But since Jimmy was in college when his family had moved to Peterborough, "Pook" had never really met him.

Sisters Made Plans

During Christmas of 1949 Jimmy had two weeks for vacation. So all the sisters joined forces and made plans to join "Pook" and Jimmy, without consulting either party.

When "Pook" heard of the conspiracy, she stood her ground. "He's too short, old, and I don't know him." When Jimmy found out that he was to call "Pook," he stood his ground, "She's too tall, young, and I don't know her."

After being told they were ruining friendships, "Pook" and Jimmy finally got together—the date was made. An indifferent boy called for a resigned-to-the-fact girl, and the evening began.

They Enjoyed It

"Oh, we had a wonderful time," said "Pook." "We went over the mountains to Keene, about twenty miles away, for dinner and a movie. On the way back over the mountains, it snowed—as is want in the state of New Hampshire." After several minutes of slow driving, they arrived home safely, though late, and both realized they had had a wonderful time.

When asked about her ring, "Pook" replied, "I was terribly surprised. We were by a moonlit lake—a New Hampshire moon, not a North Carolina moon—and he just gave it to me. It was three days after his graduation."

Life has just begun! Tom gave me his fraternity pin this weekend. Now don't get excited, we are just engaged to be engaged. Nothing drastic. Besides a pin does wonders for sweaters.

Love, Anne

Dear Mom and Dad, Tom and I talked it over tonight and we want to get married when I graduate in June. Now, Dad, don't worry about the expense, we have it all figured out.

A real small wedding and a reception with just intimate friends.

WEDDINGS

I'll do all the planning and extra work and I really won't need many new clothes.

Hopefully yours, Anne

Dear Mom and Dad, Could you possibly address and mail out three hundred more invitations. I just haven't got time with exams and all. Oh yes, I guess you had better plan on the country club for the reception after all. Six hundred have already expected.

Hurriedly, Anne

P.S. I bought four more dresses today and a new hat. Very essential! Dear Mom and Dad,

The honeymoon is wonderful! We are really enjoying lounging on the beach, after all the work of the wedding. You and Daddy ought to relax sometime and get out of the everyday routine.

Blissfully, Anne

Now all Mom and Dad have to do is pay for the church, flowers, reception, trousseau, and other damage.

They pack the presents and clean the house full of wrappings and rice. Then they settle back in a straight jacket and calm their nerves.

Byrd Will Give Brides Brunch

Miss Jess Byrd will honor the brides and brides-to-be of the senior and junior classes who are English majors with a breakfast on Sunday, May 23. This will be held in Miss Byrd's apartment in the Sister's House. Other seniors who are in the English department will also be guests.

The honored guests will be: Emma Sue Larkins, Faye Lee, Jean Davenport, Charlotte McGlaughon, Ann Helsabeck, Nancy Reynolds, Cyndy May and Betsy Lasitter.

Others present will be Elsie Macon, Anne Lowe, Ruthie Derrick, Jo Bell, Peggy Cheers, Eleanor McGregor and Jane Smith.

Faye Lee, Lieutenant Lampe Will Marry In Late Summer

Mary Faye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carlyle Lee of Smithfield, will become the bride of Lieutenant Ross Warren Lampe, United States Army in August. Ross is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Harold Lampe of Raleigh.

Ella Ann, Faye's sister and fellow Salemite, will be Maid of Honor, and three other present day school friends will attend her. Jeanne Harrison, Eleanor McGregor, and Myra Dickson will be bridesmaids. Carolyn Cheek, former Salem student, will also be an attendant.

Faye began dating Ross shortly after she made her debut at the Terpsichorean Ball in Raleigh.

Faye has been outstanding in school activities during her four years here. She has been on the Stee Gee, president of the senior class, a marshal and an active member of the I. R. S.

Ross graduated in '51 from N. C. State where he was an SAE. He is now stationed in Korea and will return home this summer.

Faye met Ross at a house party at Wrightsville Beach and dated him for the first time on the night before she left.

The next time Faye saw Ross was at the Deb Ball in Raleigh. She danced once with him and after she got home, she got a letter. What must have happened from then on is obvious.

Katharin Green, Max Sides To Be Married On June 19

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Green of Midland have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Katharin Rachel to Mr. B. Max Sides of Concord.

The wedding will be at 4:00 on June 19 at the Bethel Methodist Church in Midland.

Wedding music will be provided by Hans Heidemann, pianist, and Miss Mitzi Green, sister of the bride, as soloist.

Katharin is a graduate of Concord High School. She will be graduated from Salem in June as a piano major. She gave her senior recital on March 9.

Max attended Concord High School and Riverside Military Academy. He was in the U. S. Army for four years and now manages his own construction company.

Kappy said that she had known Max's sisters in high school, but she never really had known him.

After they had finished high school, they dated several times, and then he was taken into the Army. He was sent to Alaska, and Kappy did not see him for two years.

Katharin Green

decided to get the engagement ring. They went to the store together and chose it. When the clerk asked if they wanted it wrapped, Kappy said, "No, I want to wear it now."

Max then spent a year in California, returning last August.

The couple will make their home in Concord.

Margaret Chapman Will Wed Bob Sholtes In July Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Chapman of Woodstock, Virginia announce the engagement of their daughter Margaret to Bob Sholtes of Detroit, Mich. The wedding will take place July 11.

Before graduating from Madison College, she attended Brenau College for two years. She received her Master's degree from Pennsylvania State College and is an alumna of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She is also a member of Delta Psi Kappa, honorary physical education fraternity.

As head of the physical education department here at Salem for the past year, Miss Chapman has also served as house counselor of South Dorm and advisor to the A. A.

council. Bob went to the University of Florida at Gainesville and won his sheepskin at APIT. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Tau Beta Pi fraternities.

Bob is now an engineer with the research laboratories of General Motors.

The couple will make their home in Detroit after the wedding.

Miss Chapman smiled to herself as she told how she met Bob. "We were on a graduate club picnic, were playing football and—" That was all she said, but evidently she tackled him. He didn't take her home that night, but he called her the next day and has been calling ever since.
