

Religious week will bring Goodson here, So attend the discussions and lend an ear.

From Denmark and France and Singapore, too, Our foreign students, we're glad to have you.

Lawson Says Polio Vaccine May Be Cure

Dr. Robert B. Lawson, professor and director of the Department of Pediatrics at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, spoke in chapel yesterday. Dr. Lawson has been on the faculty of the medical school since 1942 and has done extensive research on polio.

"Everyone has had polio," said Dr. Lawson. When most people think of polio, they immediately think of the type that leaves a person deformed. This is not necessarily true, as minor illnesses, such as colds and sore throats have some of the same physical functions that polio has.

Dr. Lawson went on to say that the cause of polio is a filterable virus that may be treated. However, no definite cure of polio has yet been established. Of temporary value, gamma globulin is given to children as a means of immunization.

Dr. Lawson gave a few quotations from letters exemplifying the misunderstanding of the spread of this disease. Some of the letters inquired about flies, milk and soft drinks. Instead of being spread by these numerous things, polio is caused by a virus contracted through personal contact.

It is believed that within the next few years, a vaccine will be established that will bring about a definite prevention of polio, said Dr. Lawson in closing.

Lablings Hold First Meeting

The Lablings had their first meeting of the year Thursday, October 8, in the Science Building. Carolyn Kneeburg, president, presided over the election of the following officers: Bryan Bowman, vice-president, in charge of the programs; Norma Ansell, secretary; Edith Howell, treasurer; Jane Brown and Francine Pitts, in charge of refreshments.

The Lablings will meet on the second Thursday of every month. All science and home economics majors and other interested students are urged to attend.

Collet Enjoys Golf, Camping

By Jane Brown

"Golf, I guess, though it's discouraging at times, but it still is my favorite," bubbled Miss Elizabeth Ann Collet, the new head of the Physical Education Department when quered upon her favorite sport.

Miss Collet hails from Thomasville. From there she went to Woman's College of the University of North Carolina where she received her Bachelor of Science degree. Last year she spent as graduate assistant at the University of North Carolina, and while doing that she completed work on her M. A.

The topic of her thesis was in the field of camping and was influenced by her interest in this field. Miss Collet has served as water front director and is now the head counselor for Rockbrook Camp in Brevard.

Upon consideration of her favorite sport and having decided golfing was her favorite, she quickly added, "But I'm just crazy about square dancing." Her favorite spectator sport is football and what's more, she's a Carolina fan. Though Salem is not her first teaching position (she taught at Converse College in Spartanburg, S. C. previously), we are very happy to welcome her into our portals. Salem likes her and hopes she likes Salem.

Seen on the Salem College campus are the 1953-'54 foreign students. They are (left to right) Helen Fung, Singapore; Helle Falk, Arrhus, Denmark; and Marianne Lederer, Sceaux, France. For story, see page 2.

Salem Alumnae, I. R. C. Fete Visitors And Foreign Students

Salem's foreign students, Helen Fung, Helle Falk and Marianne Lederer, attended the dinner meeting of the Alumnae Association on Oct. 8 in the Club Dining Room. They were also entertained by the International Relations Club at a coffee in the Friendship Rooms of Strong after dinner on Oct. 6.

During the Alumnae Association program, the three girls made talks which included some details of the life in their countries. Each expressed their thanks to the group for its assistance.

In her talk, Helle Falk from Denmark especially expressed her delight at being here at Salem. Marianne, from France, gave details about her family. Helen, who came to Salem from Malpoza, included in her talk an anecdote about the Chinese custom of match-making.

The I. R. C. coffee was also in honor of six representatives from Germany. These men and women came here during their tour of the United States because Winston-Salem compares in size to their home town.

While on the Salem campus, they toured the campus, had dinner with the I. R. C. members, were entertained with the coffee and attended the Heidemann-Jacobowsky concert.

The group consisted of a corset

Flagler Heads Choral Group

Edith Flagler was elected president of the Choral Ensemble at an election held Wednesday afternoon.

Other officers are as follows: vice-president, Jane Little; secretary-treasurer, Susan Glaser; reporter, Martha Thornburg; and librarians, Nell Newby and Mary Walton.

According to Mr. Peterson, director of the Choral Ensemble, the group will make a tour November 21-23, singing in Richmond, Va. and Washington, D. C.

Additional plans will be disclosed later.

manufacturer, a newspaper man, a Lutheran minister and a factory worker who has done much youth work. One of the women is editor of a woman's magazine and the other is a housewife interested in clerical work.

News Briefs

The last in a series of three Bowman Gray parties in honor of the Salem freshmen will be given by the Phi Rho fraternity tomorrow night.

The Wachovia Historical Society will hold its annual meeting at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20 on the college campus.

Dr. Gramley attended the inauguration of Dr. Lem Stokes, new president of Phieffer Junior College, on October 12 at Misenheimer.

The monthly faculty meeting was held this week. Things of special interest to the students decided in the meeting are as follows: the approval of the Choral Ensemble trip to Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Va. in November; the re-appointment of Mrs. Scott and Miss Sampson to the executive committee of the Finance Committee; the establishment of the date for the faculty play as February 12; and the announcement of the total enrollment as consisting of 326 students—261 boarding students, 44 day students and 27 special students.

Dr. Gramley spoke at Chapel exercises today at Reynolds High School on the subject of "Why Go To College."

The Arts Council will present Mr. Hooker Goodwin, Director of Medical Illustration at Bowman Gray School of Medicine, at 4:00 p.m. on Oct. 18 at the Arts Council Center. Mr. Goodwin will speak on the uses of rubber and plastic model photography for teaching purposes. The hostess group will be the Cultural Arts Committee of the Junior League.

Any student who would like to do crew work for the Pierrettes should sign up by Friday, October 23. Those interested should see Connie Murray in 205 Bitting.

Goodson Will Speak For Religious Emphasis Week

Rev. Kenneth Goodson, Methodist District Superintendent, will be speaker for the annual Religious Emphasis Week which will begin Sunday night, October 18.

Rev. Goodson was born in Salisbury and received his education at Catawba College, Duke University and Union Theological Seminary in New York. He was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity at High Point College in 1951.

Rains Speaks At Reynolds

Claude Rains, well-known actor of stage and screen, presented a program of readings, at Reynolds Auditorium on Thursday evening, Oct. 15.

Mr. Rains' performance is an unusual type of recitation program. During his readings, he was accompanied by Jack Maxin at the piano.

The program, "Great Words to Great Music," featured a modern edited version of Chaucer's prologue to the "Wife of Bath," as well as scenes from Shakespeare's "Richard II" and "Julius Caesar."

Mr. Rains also presented two selections from T. S. Eliot's poems: "Builders of America" and "Journey of the Magi."

Probably the most well-known selection of the evening was "Enoch Arden" by Tennyson.

The young accompanist, Mr. Maxin, is considered one of the most talented of the younger generation of pianists. As a student at Swarthmore College, he made his debut tour at the age of eighteen. He then received a scholarship at Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

In May he was chosen to appear with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra during the current season.

Mr. Rains appeared under the auspices of the Salem College Lecture Series and the Little Theatre of Winston-Salem.

The following served as ushers: Jane Little, Diane Knott, Emily Heard, Kay Cunningham, Gertrude Johnson, Sally Reiland, Sally Hudson, Salem College marshals; and Alison Britt, Frankie Strader, Edith Tesch, Barbara Allen, Betsy Liles, Louise Barron, Ellen Summerell, student members of the Lecture Committee.

McManamon, Guest Pianist, Will Present Recital Oct. 19

The Salem College School of Music will present Charlotte McManamon, guest pianist, in a recital at 8:30 p.m., October 19 in Memorial Hall.

Miss McManamon is associate professor of music at Shorter College in Rome, Georgia. She studied at Northwestern University and Syracuse University, and was a piano student of Muriel Keer at the Julliard School of Music in New York.

She will give the following program:

- Padre Soler Sonatas Anciennes
- d'Auteurs Espagnols
- D minor
- F sharp minor
- C sharp minor
- Liszt Sonata in B minor
- Bach Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue
- Debussy Two Preludes
- Brouillards (Fog)
- Hommage a S. Pickwick, Esquire
- Debussy Reflets dans l'eau

* Beginning his ministry as Chaplain at Oak Ridge Military Institute, Rev. Goodson has since served as Associate Pastor of West Market Methodist Church, Greensboro; Pastor of Muirs Chapel Methodist Church, Greensboro; First Methodist Church, Wadesboro and has just completed five years at the First Methodist Church in High Point.

Active in civic work, Rev. Goodson is a Mason, president of the High Point Rotary Club, Director of the Community Chest, member of the Family Service Bureau and of the Y. M. C. A.

Will Speak At Vespers

Rev. Goodson will be the speaker for Sunday night Vespers at 6:30 in the Day Student Center. He will speak on "What Is Religion?" Immediately following everyone is invited to an informal coffee hour in the Friendship Rooms of Strong.

Discussion groups at 6:45 p.m. in the Day Students' Center will be led by Rev. Goodson Monday through Wednesday. His topics will be as follows: "What Is Religion?", "This I Believe", "Prayer Changes Things" and "There's No Place Like Home."

During the week each class will have Rev. Goodson as guest in the dormitories and in the dining room. He will be with the sophomores on Monday, the juniors on Tuesday, the freshmen on Wednesday and the seniors on Thursday.

Will Speak In Classes

In addition to planned programs and informal meetings with the students Rev. Goodson will also speak at 12:10 on Monday to the marriage class on the topic of "Christian Home and Marriage". He will also lecture to Sociology 390 and Labor Economics classes on Monday afternoon. Tuesday morning at 10:20 he will address the Religion 101 Class; Wednesday morning at 8:30, "The Life and Teachings of Jesus"; and Thursday at 11:15, the Christian Education Class.

During his stay at Salem, Rev. Goodson will also participate in programs at the Academy.

Ravel Le Tombeau de Couperin Prelude

Charlotte McManamon

Fugue
Tocatta