

Betsy Giles Plans Wedding In June To Robert Kirksey

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Giles of Morganton, N. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Betsy, to Mr. Robert Lee Kirksey, of Morganton, N. C.

After their wedding on June 25, the couple will make their home in Chapel Hill where they will live until their graduation in 1956.

Betsy, a Salem Junior, at present, will complete her practice teaching in Chapel Hill, and will graduate with an art major and Spanish minor.

The off-campus vice-president, Jean Miller, was as surprised and excited as the other newly elected officers, when she told me that she hoped that she could carry out this responsibility well. She also remarked, "I need all the help I can to get ads for next year's hand-book; it will certainly be a big job."

Jean says that she is very interested in cooking, raising flowers, and music. She is a member of the choral ensemble, and directs a choir as well as playing the organ for her church. Jean is a marshal this year and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Miller of Winston-Salem.

The new treasurer, Mary Brown, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Brown of Winston-Salem. Mary, upon her election, exclaimed, "I am more than surprised at being elected to this office. I realize the responsibility it entails and I am going to try to do my best." Mary says that her main interest is economics, her major. Her minor is sociology.

The approaching festival-seminar, Mr. McCorkle said, takes on added emphasis in view of the fact that the Collegium Musicum in Salem, along with a similar organization in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, provided the most active and outstanding contributions to American culture during the era 1744-1840.

More than 2,500 compositions, mostly hand-made manuscripts, have been uncovered in the Salem community.

In conjunction with the festival-seminar, it is hoped that the Moravian Easter Band can be assembled for a concert of chorales. The band, which in the past has numbered approximately 500 pieces, will give its concert on the athletic field of the Salem campus, where a crowd of some 25,000 can be accommodated.

The seminar, to be directed by

Clemens Sandresky, Dean of Music at Salem, will include discussions and classes on "The History of Moravian Music," stylistic analysis of Moravian music, and Moravian hymnology.

Dr. Dale H. Gramley is chairman of the music committee of the Southern Province of the Moravian Church in America.

The festival will be interdenominational and open to the public.

In addition to the records and scores, the library has several new musical books: nine volumes of Groves' Dictionary of Music; Fellows' Biography of Orlando Gibbons, well known English madrigalist; and Cotton's Music Throughout the World.

If you have a few minutes between six weeks' tests, look over some of these musical newcomers. See you in the listening room!

News Briefs

(Continued from Page Three) Freshmen will meet with heads of the academic departments at 12:10 p.m. on March 21, 23, 25, 28, 30 and April 1.

Sophomore comprehensive tests will be given from 2:00-3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, March 22 (contemporary affairs); and from 2:00-5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 23 (general culture).

Rehearsals Lively

(Continued From Page One) will include demonstrations on costuming for the show, make-up for actors, and explanation of set construction and character growth on stage.

Watch the shows, and in the meantime . . . Speaking of props as we were, if you happen to notice a low-backed antique sofa lurking around campus anywhere, please point it out to a Pierrette member—'tis a dire necessity!
