The marriage of Miss Mary Cummings and Allen Spach Goslen took place in the Home Moravian Church on Saturday, October 15, at 4:30 o'clock.

Housework And Teaching Appeal To '55 Graduates

By Sarah Vance

Classes at Salem are well under way. The seniors are such helpful sponsors, the juniors such generous big sisters and the sophomores such ingenious "ratters" that the freshmen may not have wondered what happens after four years at Salem. To give you a sample of the variety of occupations that interest Salemites, I will give you a report of the activities of the class of 1955.

Bryan Bowman is doing graduate work at Carolina, and Louise Fike is studying business and education at Atlantic Christian College. Rosanne Worthington is studying medical technology at Bowman Gray, and it has been reported that she's sporting a new hair-cut.

Many of the graduates go right back to school in September, but not for another degree. They are teaching youngsters in grammar school and high school. Phil Stinnett and Jean Currin are teaching in Richmond, and Anne Edwards is in St. Petersburg, Fla. She will soon take part in the St. Petersburg Little Theater production of "Sabrina."

Gertie Johnson, Sarah Outland, Helen Carole Watkins, and Diantha Carter are in Raleigh teaching; Francine Pitts (who is pinned to a State boy) and Barbara Smith in Charleston, S. C.; Sue Jones and Norma Spikes in Charlotte; Carolyn Watlington in Ashboro; and Freda Siler at Woodrow Wilson High in Portsmouth, Va.

Betsy Liles, Sally Ann Hudson Lewis, Bobbi Kuss Ward and Norma Hanks are teaching in and near Winston-Salem. Pat Moore, Jane Little, Ernestine Kapp and Irma Gatewood are also in Winston-Salem teaching music.

There are still more girls who stayed in Winston-Salem besides the teachers. Betty Lynn Wilson Robinson is working at Western Electric where she is a technical editor. Dottie Allen is with the Chamber of Commerce, and Mary Bambalis is a case worker for the Winston-Salem and Forsyth County Welfare Dept. Carolyn Kneeburg is working in the chemistry labs of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Carolyn is planning a February wedding.

In other parts of North Carolina are Emily Heard, a secretary at Caswell Training School, Jane Brown, who is with Duke Power Co. in Raleigh, and Sally Reiland, chief string-puller of Little Jack (a puppet). Sally is with the Oral Division of the N. C. Board of Health.

In another part of the country Emily Gunn is working at the People's National Bank in Lynchburg, Va. Norma Ansell is in Philadelphia with the Blood Bank of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, and Nancy Florence is temporarily a secretary in Washington, D. C., for Petroleum Products Co. "Guppi" Mixon is flying all over the country with Delta Airlines, but has headquarters in Dallas, Texas. Jo Money went to Germany, where she is a Special Service girl in charge of crafts and tours.

Summer weddings made many girls full-time housewives. However, Bobbi Kuss Ward and Sally Anne Hudson Lewis, who are in Winston-Salem, chose to teach as well as keep house. So did Marguerite Blanton York, Audrey Lewis, and Sally Hall Bigger, who are in Raleigh.

Mary Anne Raines Goslen in Greensboro, Barbara White Peacock at Ft. Bragg, Maggie Blakeley Bullock in Chapel Hill, Anne Lang Blackmore in Kinston and Pat Marsh Sasser are making the job of housewife a full time one. Lucy Poulsen is in New Mexico with her husband.

Carrie Davis recently moved into a new home with her husband and family in Winston-Salem. Jessie Krepps keeps house for her family in Winston-Salem, and Martha Cartrette is a Winston-Salem alumna soon to be a mother.

Soon to be turning domestic are Jackie Nielson, Edie Howell, and Bonnie Hall, who are all to be married this fall.

When you're the star of the play,
The Big Man of the Day,
You deserve a bouquet—have a CAMEL!

—Man, that's pure pleasure!

It's a psychological fact: Pleasure helps your disposition. If you're a smoker, remember — more people get more pure pleasure from Camels than from any other cigarette!

No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild!
