Assembly To Offer Guest From Greece

Mrs. Alexandra Manzoulinas of Athens, Greece, will be a guest of Salem College February 22 to 24. Mrs. Manzoulinas, a lawyer, will appear in co-operation with the Foreign Leader Program.

At present she is a member of the city council of Athens, President of the Greek Association of University Women, and a lecturer in various states on such topics as "The Status of Women" and "Constitutional Rights".

From 1949 to 1952 Mrs. Manzoulinas was alternate Greek delegate to the U. N. and on the committee on the Status of Women.

Mrs. Manzoulinas also does some writing and editing for pamphlets and magazines. In 1947 she published The Love of the Sea, a book of children's stories, and in 1954 she received honorable mention from the Academy for Pathways.

In America Mrs. Manzoulinas, who has a daughter in a Colorado college, will be observing educational institutions and political organizations for women.

Mrs. Manzoulinas will speak in assembly Thursday, February 22. Part of her time in Winston-Salem will be spent with the local women's clubs.

Proposal For New Center Is Discussed

By Amory Merritt

Have any of you wondered what is going to happen to the area under the Day Students' Center when Mr. Yarborough's shop is moved to the new steam plant?

Well, Monday after lunch, the presidents of most of the organizations on campus met in the Friendship Rooms of Strong, at the request of Dr. Gramley, to discuss plans for a proposed Student Union in the present shop.

Dr. Gramley showed the presidents a suggested floor plan for the Student Union. Included in this plan would be office space for the Stee Gee, the I. R. S. and A. A., the Pierrettes and other organized activities. A large area was set aside for a lounge with refreshment facilities.

The college expects a change in life at Salem when Wake Forest comes to the city. The lounge has been proposed to meet the needs that change will bring about.

Another idea brought forth in the meeting was that of having a large meeting room for campus organizations. Each organization would have a filing cabinet of its own in the room. In addition, there would be smaller rooms for the Stee Gee records and consultation.

There was some discussion as to whether certain organizations would prefer to remain in their present offices or move to the Student Union.

Dr. Gramley gave copies of the floor plan to several of the Presidents to take to their organizations for discussion. The plans are to be returned to Dr. Gramley by Friday, February 24, with criticism and suggestions.

The Sweetheart of Salem

By Mary Mac Rogers

"Always smile at your husband across the breakfast table" is the latest advice from the 1956 Sweetheart of Salem. He is most often seen sporting a bow tie and a big white apron, with his head bent over a grill piling chili on hot dogs or putting lettuce and tomato on a hamburger—In case you haven't guessed—it's . . . Tom!

Tom Perry, entered by Sisters' Dorm, was chosen by Salem as their 1956 Sweetheart this week. Tom, a familiar figure on the campus, operates Perry's Grill. He has two small children and will sometimes claim 325 more. His favorite records are Little Boy Blue, A Black Leather Jacket, and Motorcycle Boots.

Mr. Donald Britt, assistant to the President of Salem, was the runner-up. He was entered by Bitting Dorm.

The fourth annual Salem Sweetheart contest was sponsored by the Senior class. The past winners were: Dr. Gramley, Mr. Medlin and General Carlos Romulo.

Piano Instructor To Give Recital On Monday Night

Willis Stevens, piano instructor at the Salem College School of Music, will present a piano recital on Monday, February 20, at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

Mr. Stevens studied at the Juilliard School of Music with Edward Steuermann. He also attended Eastman School of Music and studied privately in New York City with Bastor Dethier and Bruno Eisner.

Margaret Mead To Speak Here On February 23-24

Dr. Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist, will be present on Salem campus February 23 and 24. Under the joint sponsorship of the Rondthaler Lectureship and the Salem College Lecture Series, Dr. Mead will lecture in Memorial Hall Thursday, February 23, at 8:30 p.m. on "America in a World Context."

Dr. Mead is a student of primitive and contemporary cultures. She has spent many years living among the peoples of the South Seas and in that time has had to learn seven primitive languages. Beginning in 1926, she has studied in Samoa, the Manus Tribe and the Admiralty Islands, New Guinea and Bali in 1936-39. In 1930 she published Growing Up in New Guinea.

In 1953 when Dr. Mead returned to the Admiralty Islands Territory of Papua and New Guinea, she was accompanied by two students from the University of Pennsylvania. The new field techniques of the last 25 years were employed.

Since the beginning of the war she has studied contemporary cultures in which the perspective gained by a study of small, homogeneous, stable societies is proving of value. This "comparative approach" helps to disperse the fog from many involved problems of today. The new developments in

A. Kennedy Will Serve as Co-ordinator

Audrey Kennedy, a freshman from Rocky Mount and Beaufort, South Carolina, has been elected by the Student Council to occupy the position of U. S. National Student Association Co-ordinator.

Audrey, a history major, has served Salem and her class by being co-chairman of the freshmen project, which was to teach dancing to City Hospital nurses.

The duties of Audrey's new position, which, by the way, is essential to every U. S. N. S. A. member school, include distributing the diverse and abundant material sent by the organization to its members. This material contains information about everything from a trip to Bermuda to helps for improving human relations on campus. Audrey will see that the material is made available to those interested.

A second duty will be to keep our campus posted about controversial issues in the world today. Such an issue could be segregation. Audrey may inform the campus through the Salemite. It is possible that, in the future, an assembly period may be delegated for this purpose.

As Co-ordinator, Audrey will work closely with the Student Council and the Presidents' Forum to try to use the vast facilities offered our campus by our membership in the U. S. N. S. A.

cultural theories of behavior and social change are employed, also, by Dr. Mead.

Dr. Mead graduated from Barnard College, received her M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from Columbia University, and holds honorary D. Sc. and L. D. degrees from Wilson College and Rutgers University. She is Adjunct Professor of Anthropology at Columbia University. Currently she is on the Executive Board of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the World Federation for Mental Health.

Dr. Mead is a recognized specialist in many aspects of education and culture, such as relationship between character structure and social form; personality and culture; cultural aspects of nutritional problems; mental hygiene; family life; cross-national relations and national character.

Among Dr. Mead's publications are Coming of Age in Samoa, Sex and Temperament in Three Primitive Societies, The Changing Culture of the Indian Tribe, Male and Female, and Soviet Attitudes Toward Authority. Cultural Patterns and Technical Change, published by UNESCO in 1953 has just recently been published.

Dr. Mead has lectured at leading universities in Australia, New Zealand, France, Austria, and Great Britain.

She will arrive at Salem in time for dinner in the Dining Hall before the lecture. Seated at the table will be Dr. Mead; Dr. Hixon; Dr. Africa, chairman of the Rondthaler Committee; Miss Byrd, chairman of the Lecture Committee; Mr. Wendt; Miss Covington; Dr. Lydia Gordon Shivers and Dr. Merib Mossman, from the sociology department at Woman's College; and several Salem students. Mrs. Manzoulinas will also be a guest.

On Friday morning Dr. Mead will meet with Mr. Wendt's sociology class in the Day Student Center at 10:20. Other students who wish to attend are invited to do so.

Dr. Mead will have lunch in the refectory.
