The student representatives who are working with Mrs. Amy Heidbreder on the Parents' Day Committee are: Bebe Daniels, Sylvia Hedrick, Mary Calhoun, Terry Harmon, Charlton Rogers, Peggy Ingram, Jane Wrike, Ann Knight, and Sarah Vance.

Hans Heidemann To Play Recital Monday, Feb. 27

Hans Heidemann, instructor of piano with the Salem School of Music, will present a faculty recital at 8:30 p.m., Monday, February 27, in Memorial Hall.

Mr. Heidemann was formerly a member of the original Four Piano Ensemble which gained international reputation in the concert world before it disbanded in 1951.

He has also presented recitals in New York, Washington, Rochester, Syracuse, and Baltimore, accompanied John Brownlee and Norman Cordon; and performed with the Rochester Symphony.

Mr. Heidemann is a well-known figure in the Winston-Salem area as he has given many concerts here and has been guest soloist with the Winston-Salem Symphony on two occasions.

As a graduate of Juilliard School of Music, Mr. Heidemann has also studied privately with Rudolf Serkin in Switzerland and Moritz and Hedwig Rosenthal in New York City.

It is of interest to note that Mr. Heidemann was one of three favorite pupils asked to play at the funeral of the world renowned pianist, Moritz Rosenthal. The closing

"Practice makes perfect" is the idea expressed by this group of Choral Ensemble members as they prepare for their Spring tour.

Mary Etling On Campus

A petite, blue-eyed, brown-haired practice teacher has come to Salem for three weeks. She is Mary Etling from Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. She is, as she has admitted, "a true Southerner," and it even shows in her typically southern love for fried chicken.

This Roanoke Rapids (N. C.) Rebel has also done some practice teaching in Greensboro in elementary and high school.

When asked her favorite sport, Miss Etling laughed and thought a long time before she decided upon basketball. She says her softball arm isn't "too good"—more on the "about average side."

After graduation this year, Miss Etling plans to teach dancing and sports at Cedarcrest High School in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, Miss Etling, we are glad to have you—and welcome to Salem campus!

Academy Game

On Tuesday, March 28th, at 8:30, the varsity of Salem Academy will meet the class teams of Salem College in a full-length basketball game.

This event, sponsored by several campus organizations has as its purpose to let students of the Academy and College meet athletically and socially. A social hour after the game will be held in the gym and refreshments will be served.

All students are invited to attend.

World Series

As a prelude to the softball season, the A. A. will sponsor a movie Thursday night, March 1st, at 7:00 in the Science Building.

4 Concerts To Be Given

This afternoon, February 24, at 1:45 the Choral Ensemble members boarded special buses and cars to begin a three day concert tour of eastern North Carolina. The fifty singers under the direction of Paul Peterson will make four appearances beginning with a repeat performance of the N. C. State Student Union in Raleigh tonight.

The four part program, representative of music through the centuries, consists of sacred music, madrigals, folk songs, spirituals, and modern music.

Soloists for the program are Juanita Efrid and Nancy Cameron, sopranos; Peggy Daniel, mezzo soprano; Suzanne Gordon, violinist; Suzanne DeLaney, harpist; Ella Ann Lee and Gail Landers, pianists. Temple Daniel and Nancy Proctor will perform novelty songs.

Afterwards at a coffee given by the College Union the girls will have an opportunity to meet their Raleigh hostesses. Mrs. Thomas Wilson, an alumnae chairman of Raleigh, has made arrangements for the girls there.

A television broadcast is scheduled for Saturday afternoon on Greenville's WNCTV where an abbreviated form of the Raleigh program will be presented.

Saturday afternoon the girls have some leisure time to change from their formals, tour Greenville, and prepare for Sunday's performances. Nancy Walker and Margaret Hogan have made hostess arrangements for those staying in Kinston.

Sunday morning the ensemble will sing five sacred numbers at the Queen's Street Methodist Church in Kinston after which Salem alumnae will serve them picnic lunch in the Church fellowship hall.

The last performance will be in a hymn festival in Hill Hall of The University of North Carolina. The choral ensemble is featured during a twenty minute portion of this program in which one hundred fifty Chapel Hill church choir members participate. Lynne Hamrick and Denyse McLawhorn have solos.

The group will return to Salem late Sunday night.

Orchids To The Faculty

The Junior class would like to be able to give large clusters of orchids to Miss Jess Byrd, Mr. Robert Wendt, Dr. Philip Africa, Mr. Roy Campbell, and Dr. Dale H. Gramley. Instead, we extend to you our deepest thanks and appreciation for taking part in our class chapel program.
