

Clewellites Turn 'Modern' Parents Day Set To Mark Big Opening

Eleanor Evans—"Modern", Mary Gratz—"Neat", Belle Harkgrader—"Cool", Bebe Johns—"Fabulous", Mignon Ross—"Perfect", Lou Scales—"Different". These are just some of the comments made about the basement of Clewell Dormitory.

Sewing machines are buzzing and many hands are busy trying to complete this project by the ninth of March, Parents Day. This will be the official opening and showing of Davy.

Davy is undergoing a transformation and a conglomeration. It is no longer dull and drab. The once yellow walls are now green; the brown furniture is pink; curtains have been added to the barren windows; and red cushions have been added to the window seats.

When Clewell dorm voted to keep the upholstered furniture in Davy, it was decided that redecoration was necessary. Two representatives were chosen from each floor to compose the decorating committee. Mary Scott Best, Anne Catlette, Gwen Dickerson, June Gregson, Skippy Stone, Jen Verreault, Betty Anne Wilkins, and Beverly Wollny served on this committee headed by Kaky Atkins.

The school painted the walls apple green and installed fluorescent lights. Cushions, red material for the slip covers, the pink furniture paint, and the pink and green curtain material were bought through the dorm budget. Mrs. Van D. Patterson and Miss Evelyn Roberts serve as advisors for this project.

Skippy Stone is in charge of the wall decorations. She will carry out the color-scheme and pattern of the curtains by painting musical instruments and notes on the walls.

"The members of the dorm realize the money and work that have been put into this project. They are proud of it and are going to take good care of it," said Kaky Atkins.

Girls Ready Fifth Event For Parents

The fifth annual Parents' Day will be held March 9 at Salem for the parents of the freshmen and sophomores.

Judging from the attendance last year, about 160 parents are expected to attend everything from classes in the morning to a variety program in the evening.

There will be time to meet the faculty, visit the classrooms and labs, and have dinner in the dining room.

The script for the variety program was written by freshman Sara Wray and sophomore Susan McIntyre. Production is headed by another freshman and sophomore, Nanci Niece and June Gregson.

The entire day is in student charge and the parents will be guests of the college for the dinner.

Dr. Gramley has sent invitations to all freshman and sophomore parents urging them to attend.

The Moravian Church is in its five hundredth year and throughout 1957 is observing its quincentennial. One of the highlights of this year of celebration is a special service of praise and thanksgiving to be held Sunday at 3:00 in Memorial Coliseum.

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, prominent Presbyterian minister of Pasadena, California, and president of the National Council of Churches, will be the chief speaker. Brief messages will also be brought by Rev. Reichel, a Moravian minister from Germany, by Governor Luther Hodges, and by Salem's Christa Menzel. Other ministers familiar to Salem students will also participate in the service.

present a thirty-minute prelude of Moravian chorales from 3:00 to 3:30, and a choir composed of about 350 voices (of which at least a dozen are Salem students and faculty members) will sing three early American Moravian anthems and two hymns composed especially for the anniversary celebration.

It is the hope of the Moravian Church that many Salem students will attend this service and be inspired and enriched by it.

Those who wish to take advantage of free bus transportation to and from this service are asked to sign on the bulletin board in the dining room.
