

Columbia Dean-Architect To End Lecture Program

An international traveler, artist, scholar, and family man, Dean Leopold Arnaud will be on campus March 28 and 29 as the final speaker of the Rondthaler Lecture Series for this year.

Mr. Arnaud is now Dean of the School of Architecture at Columbia University. When he became Dean of Architecture in 1937. Mr. Arnaud was then the youngest Dean at Columbia University.

As an international figure, Dean Arnaud has studied in France and has made two good-will tours of South America for the U. S. State Department.

In France Mr. Arnaud attended the Lyce Janson de Sailly (University of Paris) in 1914. And he attended Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris from 1919 to 1924.

In South America, Mr. Arnaud made good-will tours for the U. S. government. He addressed architects in most of the leading cities. He is an honorary member of the architectural societies of Peru, Mexico, Buenos Aires, and Ecuador.

Dean Arnaud received his bachelor of architecture degree and his M. S. in architecture from Columbia University.

He was an architectural designer in his early career. He has also been a lecturer on the history of architecture, instructor in architecture, assistant professor and acting dean in the school of architecture at Columbia University. In addition to these positions, Mr. Arnaud has been a Ware professor of architecture, Director of the School of Painting and Sculpture, and Director of the School of Dramatic Arts at Columbia University. Mr. Arnaud was also the Carnegie professor to South America in 1943.

He has also received the Silver Medal of the Society des Architectes Diplomes parle Gouvernement francais and the Medaille du Professeurat. In addition to these, Mr. Arnaud is a Chevalier Legion of Honor (France), and is a member of the Society des Architectes Provinciaux, France.

Dean Arnaud is a member of the Century Club; of the Association of Collegiate Scholars of Architecture; of the Scholars Art League of New York; and of Theta Delta Chi. He also is in Who's Who in America.

Mr. Arnaud was married November 5, 1927. He now has a son and a daughter. The entire Arnaud family is artistic. Mrs. Arnaud's field is art history, and occasionally she lectures at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Their daughter is associated with the foremost interior decorating firm in New York City. Their son, a Columbia University boy, is now with the U. S. Army in Korea.

Salem F.T.A. Has Nominee

Closs Jennette, a junior from Elizabeth City, was Salem's nomination for president of the State Future Teachers of America, as it convened in Wilmington Thursday and today.

Dr. Welch and Miss White of the education department and three other future teachers constitute the remainder of the delegation. The girls are Mary Walton, president of Salem's F. T. A., Nancy Cridlebaugh, and Pat Green, Salem's Miss Student Teacher.

Judy Graham will lead a discussion on segregation. The discussion will be a question-answer period. Judy will ask another future teacher the questions, and he will supply the answers.

Closs is working hard toward a primary (4th grade) teaching certificate with her major in sociology-economics. This year, as president of the junior class, she has served on the Stee Gee and I. R. S. councils.

Five Elected to Hold '57-'58 Offices

Mary Jane Galloway

Ann Brinson

Calendar

Friday, March 22—

Election, by the staff, of Sights and Insights editor 1:30, in the office.

Softball practice, 4:45
Carolina: Top Secret Affair (Kirk Douglas, Susan Hayward)
Winston: Secret of Life (a Walt Disney one)

Pajama Game, Wake Forest arena, 8:00

Saturday, March 23—

Pajama Game, matinee and evening, Wake Forest

I. R. S. Soc Hop, gymnasium, 9:00 to midnight
Wake Forest intra-squad Black and Gold football game, 2:30 p.m.
Bowman Gray Stadium

Television: Academy Awards for motion picture people, annual Oscars awarded by the Academy of Arts and Sciences

Sunday, March 24—

Vespers, 6:30, Little Chapel
Carolina: Ten Thousand Bedrooms (Dean Martin)
Winston: The True Story of Jesse James

Monday, March 25—

Come Back, Little Sheba; by the Little Theatre, West Fourth Street Playhouse

Election: President of the Athletic Association, May Day chairman, 12:30-2:00, in the dining room

Tuesday, March 26—

Assembly, class meetings
Come Back, Little Sheba, Little Theatre

Wednesday, March 27—

Election: Pierrettes will elect a president; Day Students will elect a president

Come Back, Little Sheba, Little Theatre

Thursday, March 28—

Assembly: Rondthaler lecturer, Dean Leopold Arnaud

Student elections, in second week run-offs, completed the Stee Gee slate and filled presidencies for the Y. W. C. A. and the I. R. S. The Salemite staff elected a new editor on Monday.

Results of today's election (Sights and Insights' editor) will be announced at dinner tonight.

Mary Jane Galloway of Rock Hill, S. C., was named vice-president of the Student Government Association in Friday's elections.

Mary Jane, a junior, is majoring in religion. She is chief marshal this year. She was president of her sophomore class and freshman representative to I. R. S.

Ann Brinson, of Cononut Grove, Florida, is new Student Government treasurer. Ann, a sophomore majoring in mathematics, will have a leading role in the May Day pageant.

She is a member of the Pierrettes, and she is serving on the Lecture Series committee.

Marybelle Horton, from Statesville, N. C., will be I. R. S. head.

Marybelle gained the experience necessary to fill this office by serving as junior class representative to I. R. S. She has been secretary of the Home Economics Club and is now a marshal.

Barbara Rowland, from Birmingham, Alabama, won over Nancy Cridlebaugh for president of the Y. W. C. A.

"Rollie", a religion major, is social chairman for the "Y" and house president of South Dormitory.

Next week's schedule includes election of May Day chairman and president of the Athletic Association (on Monday); Pierrette president and head of the Day Student Organization (Wednesday); and chief marshal and N. S. A. Coordinator (Friday).

D. L. Smiley Will Speak

Dr. David L. Smiley will be the guest speaker at the meeting of Phi Alpha Theta Monday evening, March 25. The group will eat dinner in Corrin Refectory and then adjourn to the Friendship Rooms of Strong Dormitory.

Carol Campbell, president of the organization, will preside.

Dr. Smiley's topic will be "Main Currents of Southern History." Dr. Smiley, assistant professor of History at Wake Forest College, earned his B.A. and M.A. degrees at Baylor University and his Ph.D. degree at the University of Wisconsin.

News Briefs

Dr. Gramley will talk to Davidson College in their chapel period on Tuesday of next week.

* * *

Dr. Gramley will go to Bethlehem, Pa., on Wednesday, March 27, to attend a meeting of the Moravian Music Foundation.

* * *

The Faculty Self-Study group will meet next Thursday.

Staff Picks Jarvis For New Editor

At a Salemite staff meeting Monday, Martha Jarvis was elected editor of the paper for next year, and she appointed Mary Ann Hagwood to be assistant editor.

Martha is from Coral Gables, Florida, and has been an active member of the Salemite staff since her freshman year. Being an English major, she is especially suited for newspaper work. Martha has many other interests also. She is director of May Day, a member of the honor society, the Phi Alpha Theta history society, and an outstanding Pierrette.

Assistant editor, Mary Ann Hagwood is from Elkin, N. C., and a history major. She had journalistic experience with her high school newspaper, was editor of the high school annual, and has worked on the Salemite since she was a freshman. Mary Ann's favorite pastime is collecting records and books.

Martha Jarvis

The new position of cartoonist will be filled next year by Anis Ira.

Other members of the staff will include: business manager, Ellie Mitchell; assistant business manager, Peggy Ingram; advertising manager, Rosemary Laney; feature editor, Jeane Smitherman; news editor, Lucinda Oliver, and pictorial editor, Anne Fordham.

Margaret MacQueen will write the weekly column, Around the Square.

Miss Jess Byrd, head of the English department, is the faculty adviser.

Freshmen Plan

As a follow-up to the series of assembly programs last month, each head of a department will be available for three periods during the days, March 26, 27, 28, and 29, in order to discuss informally with freshmen the requirements of the department's major and the vocational possibilities which it offers.

Each freshman will meet with three Heads of Departments and will plan her own schedule from the schedule posted on the bulletin board in Main Hall.

On the first of April a list of courses to be offered each semester in 1957-58 will be available, and all students will make preliminary registration for the first semester of next year immediately after the Easter holidays.

Preliminary registration is scheduled from April 23 to May 1.