Pao-Chien Yang Nods In Approval

Judy Anderson and Sylvia Hedrick talk with Mr. Yang.

A part of the Orient, somewhat Americanized, came to Salem campus Monday in the person of Mr. Pao-chien Yang, professor of education at Taiwan Normal University in Taipei, Formosa. Mr. Yang, who was here to observe student activities on campus, hopes to set up a program of similar or comparable student activities for Chinese students.

The short, cheerful education professor had ample opportunity to study many phases of student life—he ate lunch and dinner with students, toured the campus; talked with Dean Heidbreder and other officials, and attended meetings of the Stee Gee and Presidents' Forum and the cello recital given Monday evening.

Although Mr. Yang never definitely said what he thought of Salem, he did comment on the satisfactory conduction of "democratic processes" which he observed in organizational meetings. Perhaps his general statements about Salem were due to his Oriental nature; but despite his dignity and reserve, he broke out in vigorous nods, smiles, and words of approval at the Stee Gee and Forum meetings when statements made were evidently just what he wanted to hear.

"You can study and learn after you have reached seventy," he smiled, "but you cannot be as active!"

Juniors Pick Six Marshals

Chapel marshals were selected last week by the junior class to serve with the recently elected chief marshal, June Gregson.

The girls who will serve Salem next year include day student, Frankie Cunningham, a music major who lives on Miller Street in Winston-Salem. Frankie has held the office of secretary of the Music Club and vice-president of the day students and sophomore class.

Two of the marshals selected are science majors, Gray Duncan from Burlington and Pattie Kimbrough from Davidson. Gray plans to go into medical technology and Pattie is using her science in the home economics field. Pattie has done a lot of work with the campus Y organization by serving as freshman chairman and treasurer.

The remaining marshals are Anne Summerell from Gastonia, Martha Bright from Greensboro and Mary Jane Mayhew from Charlotte. Anne is an English major and has represented her class on the Stee Gee. Martha is a history major and was a member of the freshman Y cabinet. Mary Jane transferred to Salem this year from Woman's College and is majoring in sociology.

Marshaling at graduation is the main duty for the girls. They must be on the job all year however for chapel each Tuesday and Thursday and for all the lectures and concerts held in Memorial Hall.

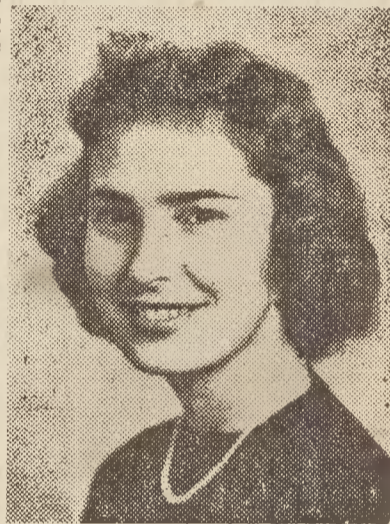

At formal occasions, the girls can always be distinguished from other Salemites since they wear long white dresses and gold satin ribbons.

Violin Recital To Be Given By S. Gordon

Suzanne Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton Gordon of Lynchburg, Virginia, will present her graduating recital Monday, April 29 at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

Suzanne has studied violin with Mr. Eugene Jacobowsky during her four years at Salem. She had twelve years of study previous to college. Upon graduation Suzanne will obtain a bachelor of music degree.

While at Salem Suzanne has played with the Winston-Salem Symphony, the Moravian Music

Suzanne Gordon

Festival Orchestra directed by Thor Johnson the summer after her freshman year, and with various other orchestras.

Suzanne was a marshal her junior year, president of the Music Club her senior year, and has been a member of the Choral Ensemble.

After graduation she plans to do symphony work or teach.

Her program consists of "Chaconne" by Vitali, Sonata No. 1 in G Major by Brahms, and Concerto in E Minor by Mendelssohn.

Margaret Vardell Sandresky will accompany her on the piano.

Joan Melton To Play Here

An interesting program has been planned for the Winston-Salem Symphony Orchestra's last performance of the season. It will be a "Pops" concert on April 30th featuring Miss Joan Melton.

The orchestra under the direction of Mr. John Luele will play "El Guarania" by Gomez, "L'Allegra" from "The New World Symphony," "The Flight of the Bumble Bee," and the "Cambodian Suite".

"The Cambodian Suite," says Mr. Luele, was written by His Royal Highness, the King of Cambodia, Norodom. It has been orchestrated by Kastelanetz and is a very appealing composition.

The second half of the performance is highlighted by George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, Miss Melton at the piano.

The artist, this year's Miss North Carolina, is from Albermarle, N. C., and attended East Carolina College. Miss Melton has received much acclaim for her exceptional talent.

As a child, Joan was a child soloist with the North Carolina Symphony and the North Carolina Little Symphony. In 1952 she won the Paderewski Medal and has just recently taken part in the Azalea Festival in Wilmington, N. C. Miss Melton has done private study with Miss Annyce Worham, Dr. Robert Carter and the late Dr. Hans Barth.

Club Elects New Heads

Elections on campus last week were completed by the I. R. C., the Newman Club and the Methodist Student Movement. Other minor organizations will elect in the near future.

Judith Anderson from Winston-Salem was elected to head the I. R. C. Along with her, Ronnie Alvis will serve as vice-president with Sandy Shaver as secretary-treasurer.

The Newman Club, composed of Catholic students on campus elected Mary Alice Powell from Asheville, to the head position with Bobbie Morrison from Statesville, N. C. as secretary-treasurer.

Methodist students, recently forming the Methodist Student Movement on campus, elected Mary Hooke from Cheraw, S. C. as president. Other officers are Ranny Lewis, secretary, and Rosemary Laney, representative to conventions.

News Briefs

Nanci Neese, a rising sophomore, was chosen executive secretary of the Presidents' Forum in a meeting Monday night. The agenda contained the re-election of Dr. Austin as advisor, and appointing of committees to schedule meetings, distribute activity preference sheets to the students, and study the lack of student participation in campus activities.

Tickets will be sold by Mrs. Tesch in the office building to those students who plan to attend the Moravian Easter Service at Home Church and who would like to have breakfast at Salem Rectory at 5:30 a.m. Students may obtain tickets for dates, members of their families, and friends.
