

An Ode To A New Dorm

Hark! Hark!
 What is this thing called Babcock Dorm
 To which we Salemites next year will swarm?
 To tell the truth I couldn't visualize Until I looked to the past and realized.
 What will it be like to sit on a chair
 And know a Moravian had never sat there?
 How will I go to the john at night Without some ghost lurking just out of sight?
 Must I walk down the hall in heels, clickety-clack
 Knowing I'll never catch them again in a crack?
 Can I have my old bed—the one so outmoded,
 The one to which the antique collectors are becoming devoted?
 Will they have my pets, the cockroaches, installed
 To eat our food and race us through the halls?
 Don't worry; everything will remain the same.
 We've got to keep the spirit and Salem's name.
 Don't fight for the past by signing a petition—
 Remember, anything done twice becomes a tradition.

Joint Recital To Be Given

Anita Smith and Wanda Grubbs, sophomore piano students, will be presented in a joint recital Friday, April 26, at 7:30.

Wanda, a married day student, is accompanist for the Choral Ensemble and a member of the Music Club. Her program will consist of: Prelude and Fugue in E Major, Bach; Sonata in A major, Mozart; C major Variations, Beethoven; and Fantasia Impromptu, Chopin.

Anita, a transfer from Indiana University, is also a member of the Music Club and Choral Ensemble. Her program contains: Partita No. 5 in G major, Bach; Sonata in A major, Beethoven; Nocturne in B major, Chopin; and Interludium and Fugue in A from Ludu Tonale's Hindemith. This last number is a modern dissonant piece.

Conference

Attending the N. C. College Home Economics Workshop at Flora MacDonald last weekend were professor of home economics, Mrs. Snow and sophomores, Shirley Hardy, and Lucinda Oliver who was elected to a state office.

Lucinda's job will be reporting State activities to newspapers throughout North Carolina and keeping the State scrap book.

Around The Square

After the sophomore classes' "Bermuda Invasion", we'd all like to join Amy and Ivy in sipping rum swiggles on the patio of the Princess Hotel, but we can't all make it this trip, although, according to the native girls, "It only costs $2,750."

Bon voyage to Bermuda bound Jane Rostan, Sue Cooper, Camille Suttle, Mary Ann Boone, Shirley Redlack, Lillian Holland, Anis Ira and Miss Marsh.

Gingham Tavern was a huge success with the exception of the terrifying minutes after Toni Lambert topped off a six foot stoop behind the Day Student Center on her head. Toni luckily escaped with only a knot on her head the size of an egg.

Salem's swimming pool is as crowded as Coney Island in the middle of the summer. Our representatives to Davidson Spring Frolics, Carolina Germans, and Old South should all stand out as the girls with the best sun tans.

Becky Doll McCord is the little gal with the big ring. She's wearing the class ring of LeRoy King, a Bowman Gray junior.

Dr. Lewis announced to his French 104 class that flat chested, skinny career women didn't show him a thing. He'd take the voluptuous Mae West type any day, who with arched eyebrow draws, "Come to see me sometime, Baby."

Besides being a Mae West fan, Dr. Lewis, is the only ball player who substitutes a pipe for chewing tobacco. In the faculty-student softball game Wednesday he batted and rounded the bases puffing on his pipe.

Mlles. Molly Lynn, Judy Anderson, and Miriam Quarles spent a delightful weekend at Mrs.

Melvin's parole-ing en francais. Miriam Quarles says it's the quietest weekend she's ever spent.

Lehman Dormitory gave Martha Goddard a surprise "Un-birthday party," as Martha McClure calls it, Tuesday night—her birthday isn't until June. Her present was enough money to fly to see Blake during spring vacation.

The juniors received a card from the "Geneva girls". Jo Marie Smith and Judy Golden were en route from Pompei to Rome. Martha Ann Kennedy and Agnes Sams went directly to Geneva.

STORM WARNING*

Hurricanes are moody, temperamental;
 Hurricanes perform in fits and starts.
 Hurricanes have eyes serene and gentle;
 Hurricanes have predatory hearts.
 Hurricanes attack when least expected;
 Hurricanes delight in cutting whirls.
 Hurricanes can leave you broke, dejected...
 Funny we should name them after girls.
