

Scandinavian Seminars Offers "Junior-Year-Abroad" Plan

Last week 55 American students met outside Copenhagen to evaluate their first community stay of one month in Danish and Swedish non-English-speaking families. As one student said, "I did not know one could learn so much about America by living in a Swedish community." Another commented, "I wish my friends back home could hear me talk with the Danes in their own language, and this after only one month!"

These graduate and undergraduate American students, from 45 different colleges and universities and 28 different states, are members of the 1957-58 Scandinavian Seminars.

This week these students will return to their second one-month community stays with private families in Denmark, Norway and Sweden, before entering a Scandinavian folk college for two semesters.

Each student accepted to the Seminars pays approximately 75% of the actual cost of board, room and tuition for a year in Scandinavia. The balance is made up by subsidies from the respective Scandinavian governments. Therefore, the student's fee for living and learning in Scandinavia for one academic year is only $900.

Forty per cent of the Seminar students are spending their year in the Seminar's "Junior-Year-Abroad" Program. Another 40% are college graduates in the Seminar's Graduate Program. The rest are teachers, professors and people with an interest in education.

The Seminars offer to all their students comprehensive programs in a Scandinavian language, literature and culture, with individual study opportunities in adult education, art, crafts and design, agriculture, physical education, history, and the social sciences.

Mr. Nielsen, the Seminar's Director, points out that the principal value of the Seminar program lies in its experimental approach to person-centered, liberal arts education in an international setting.

The Scandinavian Seminar's New York office at 127 E. 73rd Street, New York 21, N. Y. is now receiving applications for the academic year 1958-59.
