Preliminary Registration Will Begin On April 26

Students are reminded to arrange appointments with their advisors the week of April 26 to register for the year '58 and '59. The only change is the registration of physical education. Sign up for the specific course (tennis, beginner golf, etc.) which you plan to take. Formerly just "Phys. Ed." was sufficient. The entire schedule may be obtained on the windowsill in Main Hall.

Dr. Hixon emphasizes the new courses to be added to next year's classes. Graphic Arts (Art 220) and second semester, Sculpture and Ceramics (Art 230) are newcomers in the Art Department. Second semester, the English Department will offer English 252, Renaissance Literature in England. Also second semester, American Social and Cultural History (History 207) will be included in the history courses. Mathematics 310 (Elementary Statistics; Differential Equations) will broaden the math field second semester. In religion are Intertestament History and Literature (340) and second semester, World's Living Religions; Hebrews, Revelations, and the General Epistles (350).

Remember to consider the courses which alternate every other year.

Gentry

According to schedule, about six forty-five Wednesday night, Miss Gentry is seen at the Farmer's Dairy buying dessert. She was briskly pacing up and down the display counters in rolled-up dungarees, a white gym shirt, and a bright red jacket. She came close to getting a call down from the new I. R. S. president who happened to see her not following I. R. S. regulations. She lives within the limits of the coffee pot and when she found out she lived on front campus, she claimed she was going to move. "I'm going to start looking for another apartment tomorrow."

Miss Gentry claims that her roommate is quite a practical joker. "She's always leaving bombs around for me to step on. One day I opened a new tube of lipstick and it exploded!"

SNEA Plans Final Movie

The S. N. E. A. will sponsor the movie "O Henry's Full House" on April 24 at 7:30 P.M. in the Science Lecture Room. Admission for those without a season ticket will be 35 cents.

This is a feature of five of O'Henry's best short stories. Some of the starring actors are Charles Laughton, David Wayne, Farley Granger, Dale Robertson, Marilyn Monroe, and Jeanne Crain.

She explained that Miss McNeely wasn't the only practical joker. The little boy next door is constantly throwing snakes into their front yard.
