

Campus Non-Budget Organizations Elect New Officers For 1958-1959

Choral Ensemble

Two music organizations elected their officers last week for 1958-59. The Choral Ensemble elected Margaret Fletcher—President, Evelyn Vincent—Vice President, Harriet Tomlinson—Secretary and Treasurer.

Music Club

The Music Student Organization elected Marilyn Shull—President, Evelyn Vincent—Vice President, Margaret Fletcher—Secretary, and Dorothy Frick—Treasurer. Class representatives will be Senior—Erwin Robbins, Junior—Rosemary Laney, and Sophomore—Harriet Tomlinson. The Freshman representative will be chosen in the fall.

IRC

On Tuesday, April 15, the International Relations Club held a meeting in the Student Union for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Before the election, out-going president Judith Anderson read the duties of the officers, and made suggestions for next year's projects.

The new officers are Anne Cattle, president; Susan Foard, vice-president; and Sallie Hickok, secretary-treasurer. Anne is from Raleigh, North Carolina, and has lived in Caripito, Venezuela. She says that she first became interested in international relations while she was in high school. The new president is a sophomore and is planning to major in history.

Vice president Susan is also a sophomore. She has been elected Managing Editor of the Salemite for next year, and is interested in a variety of things. She was also chosen as the alternate Sophomore for the Strong Scholarship.

Sallie, next year's secretary-treasurer, has shown a great interest in organizations on campus this year. She has worked on the Salemite staff, and was instrumental in the organization of the Salem Young Democrats, of which she is Vice President. Sallie has also been interested in the Humanities Club. She is undecided as to her major, but is thinking about English or history.

SNEA

The Joham Comenius Chapter of the Department of Future Teachers of the Student National Education Association met April 16 and elected the following officers for the incoming year: President, Shirley Hardy; Vice-President, Jane Rostan; Scrapbook Keeper, Margaret Taylor; and Reporter, Marilyn Shull.

Class Officers

The Senior Class elected the remainder of their officers last week. Shirley Hardy was elected Vice-President; Noel Vossler was chosen Secretary, and Clayton Jones, Treasurer.

In a Sophomore class meeting Wednesday afternoon, these rising Freshmen were elected: Vice-President, Mary Oettinger; Secretary, Lucy Ann Phillips; and Treasurer, Jackie Reeves.

Methodists

The Wesley Foundation recently elected these new officers for the term 1958-59; president, Anne Landauer; secretary, Jackie Reeves; and treasurer, Sara Lou Richardson. The vice-president and reporter will be elected next fall from the incoming freshman class.

Organizational Heads . . .

Shan Helms is directing a one-Dansalems, the modern dance club, was organized at the beginning of this year. The officers for the second year of its founding were elected last Monday. The new slate includes Sarah Ann Price, president; Katie Teague, vice-president; treasurer, Caro Calloun; Sarah Lou Richardson, publicity chairman; and Harriette Dwelle, W. R. A. representative. This week club members will vote to elect the secretary.

The president explained that the purpose of this group was to develop an appreciation of modern dance and creative ability.

This group plans to give a recital in the spring next year. They are also working toward getting a modern dancer to give a performance and to conduct a master dance class. The Dansalems have taken steps to form an Orkasis Organization which is an honorary dance group. Dansalems will continue to perform for local groups next school year, and will have for the first time a representative to the W. R. A.

This year the Dansalems gave programs for the Fine Arts Council of Winston-Salem. They danced for the Religion In Life Week at High Point College; they danced at Winston-Salem Teachers College and also participated in the Arts Festival in Greensboro. There, representatives of the club presented a dance for criticism and attended a master dance class taught by Merce Cunningham. They have given a program at WSJS-TV and also one in chapel.

The Pierrettes plan next year to add a wardrobe mistress. They are interested in getting more people to work actively in Pierrettes and their workshops to give an insight into the work of community theater productions.

Martha Goddard, president, says that Pierrettes provide an opportunity for students to work actively in drama and to become acquainted with backstage activities. It tries to stimulate an interest in those who have had no previous experience in drama and to help them to realize the planning required in producing plays.

Sights and Insights editor, Marcielle Van Liere, has organized her staff as follows:

Marcielle is retaining Mr. Britt as faculty advisor. Further plans will not be made until the summer. The WRA, headed by Martha

McClure, has elected the following officers:

Vice-President: Mary Scott Best
Secretary: Meribeth Bunch
Treasurer: Lou Liles
Publicity Chairman: Connie McIntyre

Reporter: Mary Jane Mayhew

The managers of the sister teams will be elected in the fall.

Patty Kimbrough, May Day chairman for 1959, has selected her committee, but has not made further plans as many of the girls on the committee are involved in this year's pageant. The members of the 1959 May Day Committee are:

- June Gregson ..... Director
- Rachel Rose ..... Treasurer
- Jerome Moore ..... Costumes
- Camille Suttle ..... Costumes
- Jane Irby ..... Publicity
- Mary Ann Boone ..... Programs and Tickets

Theatre Students Conduct Workshop May 13 and 15

On the evenings of May 13 and 15 the theatre workshops will present a variety of plays in Old Chapel. There will be no admission charged. In the workshops the plays are directed by the students in Mrs. Stevens second semester theatre class. Casting and directing the plays themselves, the students get experience in working with actors. They are still casting for people to play some of the parts.

Shan Helms is directing a one act play by Tennessee Williams; Loretta Honey, "The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife" by Anatole France; Anne Howes, "The Emperor Jones;" Martha Jarvis, "Knight of the Burning Pestle" by Beaumont and Fletcher; Peggy Jones, scenes from "Antigone," the French version by Ansvilh; Toni Lamberti, "Hello Out There" by Saroyan; Jean Smitherman, "Happy Journey To Trenton and Camden" by Thornton Wilder; and Sally Townsend, scenes from "Green Pastures" by Mark Connelly. Mrs. Stevens cordially invites "everyone to come and clap."

Loretta Honey is directing "The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife" by Anatole France. In this play Suzanne McLead plays the male lead, Leonard; and Caro Calhoun plays the female lead as Catherine. This cast also includes Betsy Gatling, Vera Britt, May Terry, and Elaine Falls. Anne Howes is directing "The Emperor Jones." Peggy Jones is working on scenes from "Antigone," the French version by Jean Anouilh.

"Hello Out There" by Saroyan is directed by Toni Lamberti. Sally Townsend is directing scenes from "Green Pastures" by Mark Connelly. Her cast includes Frances Gunn as God, Carol Doxey as Gabriel, Bobbi Morrison as Archangel, Suzanne Edgerton as Cain, Nancy Forbes as Cain's girl, and Nancy Gwaltney as Adam.

"Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden" by Thornton Wilder is directed by Jean Smitherman. Jane Rostan will act as Ma; Frankie Cunningham, as Pa; Erwin Robbins, as Caroline; Elizabeth Smith as Arthur; and Sarah Ann Price is the stage manager.

Martha Jarvis' cast for "Knight of the Burning Pestle" by Beaumont and Fletcher includes Mary Jo Wynne, Ralph; Martha Goddard, Citizen; Mary Louise Howell, Citizen's Wife; Chorus Boy, Boyce Rich; Marybelle Horton, Dwarf; Curt Wrike, Gentleman; and Nancy Criddlebaugh, Gentleman.
