Jacobowsky, Violinist, To Play Bach Sonata No 1

Next in the faculty series of concerts by the School of Music will be a program of violin music by Mr. Eugene Jacobowsky. The recital, which will be given in Memorial Hall at 8:30 p.m. on October 27, will feature some of the most outstanding repertoire for violin by German and French composers.

Mr. Jacobowsky, who has been on the Salem College faculty for eight years, has become well known both on campus and in town for his appearances with the Winston-Salem Symphony of which he is the concert-master and with the Salem College Trio. The trio has also given concerts in other towns in the state. One of the highlights of Mr. Jacobowsky's career will be on February 3, 1959 when he will be soloist with the Winston-Salem Symphony.

His professional training includes study at Juilliard School of Music and Teachers College of Columbia University. He has also studied privately with Ronald Murat, Ivan Galamian and Persinger and has played with the Juilliard Orchestra in Carnegie Hall under the baton of Rodginsky. While studying in New York he also made appearances with a string quartet on radio and television.

The program presents a variety of problems of technique and interpretation which Mr. Jacobowsky is capable of portraying to the audience. One of the most interesting pieces of the program will be Sonata No. 1 in G Minor by Bach. Written for unaccompanied violin, it sounds fantastic and rhapsodic with the difficult passages of colossal four voiced chords spanning two octaves, and its capricious runs and ornamentations. This, as well as the Brahms Sonata No. 3 in D Minor, was written late in the composer's life and shows the highest degree of complexity.

The Brahms Sonata is tightly written harmonically with ideas coming very close together. Therefore making interpretation difficult. Yet, this might well be a tonal portrait of the composer with its restlessness and tensions as well as moods which alternate from sobriety to mischievous humor.

French works on the program include Poeme by Chausson and Sonata in G Minor by Debussy. Chausson was a pupil of Franck, and one can see the Franck style in this orchestral tone poem which suggests poetic moods of beauty. The sonata for violin was the last work Debussy wrote. At the time he was extremely depressed about his poor health and the piece shows his mood.

D Graham Speaks On "Judgment"

Dr. Billy Graham's dynamic delivery held an audience of 15,000 spellbound, according to the group of Salemites who attended the Charlotte Crusade on October 19. His sincerely inspired 500 people to rededicate their lives at the end of the service.

The topic of his hour-long sermon was Judgment. In it, he emphasized the fact that "Judgment Day is coming, repent now," and upheld his view with several scriptural passages. He elaborated on the existence of two heavenly books, on one of which is inscribed each person's name and a list of his sins and good works. When one becomes a Christian, his sins are erased and his name entered in the Lamb's Book of Life.

A stimulating orator, Dr. Graham reaches his hearers through the emotions rather than by intellectual appeal. This is not to say that his sermons are in poor taste; he simply presents clearly what he considers to be the essentials of the Christian faith.

Civil Defense Authorities To Stage Mass Evacuation of Salem College On October 30: Instructions Given

A siren will sound at some time on Thursday, October 30, giving the signal for Salem students to practice an evacuation, as requested by the local Civil Defense authorities.

Prior to October 30th each student must:

1. Read carefully the two items which will be placed in her box.

2. Fill out the civil defense evacuation tag which will be given her in assembly on October 27th.

On the day of the evacuation each person will be required to obey the following instructions:

1. Carry your Civil Defense Evacuation Tag with you throughout the day.

2. When the siren sounds walk, not run, to the point nearest the cars around Salem Square. Take no books with you.

3. Stay on the sidewalk.

4. Enter cars as directed.

5. If you are a driver, when your car is filled, leave as directed. Drive with Civil Defense card, which a faculty member will give you, turn head lights on low beam, and follow traffic. Traffic will move across to the Old Salem Bypass and will turn left and go south to South Main Street, then continue to the Skyview Drive-In.

6. Wait to be dismissed by Civil Defense Authorities.

7. Return promptly and carefully to the college.

8. Recover books and continue normal schedule.

All students may not find a place in a car. Those remaining will walk beside the library on West Street to Main Street, then turn left and walk down South Main to the grass plot. They will remain until dismissed by Civil Defense Officials.

Students on the athletic field or in the gymnasium, who do not have cars, will follow the campus road to Salem Ave. turn right and walk to intersection of South Main St. Students, on the athletic field or in the gymnasium, who have cars, will proceed at once to their cars and follow the directions above for drivers.

The evacuation on Thursday will be carried out in conjunction with Salem Academy and Central School, and is made possible by the Civil Defense program established by the federal government. The Academic Council, composed of department heads and a steering committee for the evacuation, comprise the Civil Defense Committee of Salem. Professor Roy Campbell is chairman of the steering committee. Other members of this committee, which has been at work for some three weeks planning the evacuation, are Mr. Curlee, Mrs. Pyron, Dr. Hixon, Dean Heidbreder, Mrs. Cummings, Mr. Yarborough, and Mr. Britt.

Treasurer Announces '58-'59 Budget

Sandi Shaver, treasurer of Student Government, has announced a 1958-59 student budget of $9,384.22. The 22¢ is the result of Bowman Gray students' having to pay only half the regular amount. This money is divided among Salem student organizations in the following amounts:

W. R. A.	124.05
I. R. S.	165.40
May Day	372.15
Pierrettes	206.75
Campus Fund	41.85
Lecture Series	1,328.00
Salemite	1,645.18
Sights & Insights	4,000.40
Freshman Class	187.45
Sophomore Class	133.40
Junior Class	79.35
Senior Class	81.08

Sandi urges that any suggestions as to how the budget can be better distributed be kept in mind and brought up at the Student Body meeting when the budget for next year is approved.

IRC Elects New Officers

At the International Relations Club meeting on October 16, Dr. Africa gave an informal review of the Formosan situation and its possible relation to a world war. New officers elected include: Susan Foard, president; Lynn Ligon, vice-president; and Sallie Hickok, secretary-treasurer.

A constitutional committee was appointed to draw up a document which will further enable the club to be a permanent organization, acting as a link between the restricted college environment and the outside world.

Dr. Africa announced that Salem will participate in the Mock United Nations Assembly to be held in December. Delegates will be required to do some research in order to defend their particular country's views. The IRC urges anyone to volunteer to serve as a delegate who is interested in getting first-hand experience in government on the international level. Details will be given at the November meeting.
