

Sophomore Banquet, Senior Vespers, And Dance Herald The Final Week Of Salem's Annual Christmas Festivities

Senior Vespers Will Highlight Yuletide Week

On Sunday, December 14, at 7:30 p.m., the annual Senior Vesper service will take place in Memorial Hall. Dr. Lawrence Stell, the pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, North Carolina, will present a "Christmas Meditation". To further enhance the program, the lovely, "Low, How A Rose E'er Blooming" will be sung by a sextet of seniors: Frankie Cunningham, Martha Goddard, Jean Smitherman, Jane Leighton Bailey, Margaret Fletcher, and Mary Thaeler. During the service the scented Moravian candles will be lit by the robed seniors and their traditionally white-clad sophomore pages. "Angels We Have Heard on High" will serve as the seniors' carol.

Senior Vespers, being Salem's only official Christmas service, is of special significance. School personnel and townspeople, as well as all students, are invited.

Sophomores Prepare For Annual Dinner

The student body was invited in assembly Thursday morning to attend the Christmas Banquet, given by the sophomore class. The banquet will be held in the Dining Hall at 6:00 p.m. on Thursday night, December 18. The Choral Ensemble will sing and Santa Claus will highlight the evening by giving the gifts to the children and to the seniors.

The kitchen help also will be presented with the Stee Gee gifts.

This year's sophomore class had a difficult time trying to arrange the Dining Hall in order to seat everyone. As a result, 120 people will be seated in the Club Dining Room. These people will be able to hear the program during the banquet with the aid of microphones, and afterwards will be able to come upstairs to watch the presents being given out.

The theme is still a deep dark secret which only the sophomores know. We all are looking forward to a delicious banquet and holiday entertainment next Thursday night.

IRS Dance Promises To Be A Success

Breaking the tradition of Christmas green and red, the Christmas Dance tomorrow night will transform the gym into a Pink Fantasy. The theme of the dance, the Nutcracker Suite, will also be used to introduce the IRS Council members during the intermission.

Music will be furnished by David Hyatt, whose orchestra is especially popular in the Winston-Salem area this Christmas season.

Refreshments will also be served by hostesses, Miss Byers, Miss Gentry, and Miss Battle. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Sandresky.

Ruth Bennett, IRS President has announced the Committee Chairmen.

WRA Sends Delegates To Convention

A conference for the North Carolina Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women was held November 21 and 22 at Greensboro College in Greensboro. Salem College was represented by Martha McClure and Katie Kochtitsky, the voting delegates, and Meribeth Bunch and Henrietta Jennings, the non-voting delegates. Miss Mozelle Palmer, head of Salem's Physical Education Department, was one of the leaders in a discussion and talk on "A Philosophy of Women's Athletics."

The Friday session of the conference consisted of a series of formal and informal discussions on "The Role of the W. R. A. in Sponsoring Competitive Sports," "The Trends in Award Systems in the W. R. A." and "The Proposed Conduct of Competitive Sports in N. C. Colleges." Delegates attended a banquet Friday night when Dr. Caroline Sinclair of Madison College spoke on "Trends in Women's Athletics".

IRS Selects Winners Of Room Contest

The Freshmen rooms of Clewell and Babcock as seen on Tuesday, November 9, put the rest of the abodes on campus to shame. The occasion for such spotless grooming and of decoration talents was the Freshmen room contest. This event organized by the Junior class under Suzie Cabaniss, director, is sponsored annually by the IRS.

After much deliberation the judges selected as first place winners 310 Clewell home of Sue Parham and Betsy Rich, and 305 Babcock residence of Margaret Duvail and Sally Sample. Each set of roommates received a $5 prize. Second place ribbons went to Jean Werther and Jenni Jordan in 308 Babcock, and to Craig White and Margaret Brown in 209 Clewell. Although the judges felt that they could not select a third winner the judges in Babcock gave a yellow ribbon to Agnes Rosa Smith and Melba Linda Ward who live in 307
