

New Officers Give Their Reactions To Elections Success

Nancy Peter

The 1961-1962 Student Government elections are over and a terrific array of new officers are excited about their new responsibilities for the coming year.

Chairman of Judicial Board

Nancy Peter said that she was "surprised, but very glad" when she learned of her election as Chairman of Judicial Board. She realizes that it is a very difficult and very responsible position. Nancy would like to see a new emphasis put on the Honor Tradition at Salem. In connection with this new emphasis, she hopes for a clarification of honor offenses with a new distinction between social infractions and honor offenses.

Dean Major

Nancy has served as Treasurer of Student Government this semester. Initiated into Salem's Honor Society this year, she was the Assistant Business Manager of the Salemite before her election as Treasurer. She is also a junior class representative to Legislative Board.

Vice-President of Student Government

As Vice President of Student Government for next year, Betty Cox would like to see people other than the vice president preside at assembly for variety. She also hopes for a more careful revision

Betty Cox

"I'd like to see each individual girl have more freedom to take on personal responsibility."

Treasurer of Student Government

Judy Summerell, the rising junior who will serve as Treasurer of Student Government, expressed her surprise at being elected. She restated her hopes that a plan will be worked out whereby a greater proportion of funds of the Student Budget may be appropriated to Student Government for its work through NSA and similar programs.

Secretary of Student Government

Dean Major, when asked her reaction on being elected Secretary of the Handbook. Betty considers her election "quite an honor". She served as Secretary of her freshman class, President of her sophomore class, and this year as Secretary of Student Government.

Jackie Baker

Chief Marshal

The newly-elected Chief Marshal, Gay Austin, proposes alterations in the system of chapel-checking next year. Gay said that she was "very pleased" at her election. She has served as treasurer of Babcock dorm this year, and is a member of the Sights and Insights staff as editor of the Organization Section.

President of Y. W. C. A.

As next year's President of YWCA, Trisha Weathers would like to see all Salemites realize that they are all vital members of the Y. She hopes that the Y can work toward maintaining closer connections with the denominational groups on campus. Trisha has been an active member of the Y Council for three years, serving as treasurer last year. She was responsibilities and plans for NSA activities for next year, Enthusiasm (Marty's favorite word, and indeed, the word which characterizes her!) was her most frequently used word. She stated that she hopes "NSA will continue the progress it has made in the last few months in arousing in the student body a deeper understanding of their relationship and responsibility to others within and beyond the square." Marty stated: "First and foremost, I urge among all students a unified enthusiasm in bringing a refugee student to Salem next year!" In accepting her new office, Marty reminds Salemites that the success of NSA activities will be wholly dependent on the support of each student at Salem.

Judy Summerell

Chairman of May Day Committee

The newly-elected Chairman of May Day Committee, Ann Cunningham, expressed her surprise at being elected to the office. She said that she "really wasn't expecting to win." Ann hopes that with everyone's co-operation, she

Gay Austin

Susan Wainwright

of Student Government, said that she was "quite pleased and gratified, but scared to death." Dean feels that the "coming year can be and will be a revolutionary year in student government activity at Salem—revolutionary in student participation, in Stee Gee work as well as in the functions of Stee Gee bodies." In anticipating the reforms and plans for the coming year, Dean realizes that "the changes that have developed this year and those that promise to develop in the future will bring added responsibility to all the students and their official representatives."

Secretary of Judicial Board

The newly-elected Secretary of Judicial Board, Jackie Baker, is "looking forward to next year and to working with Judicial Board again." Jackie expressed hopes that there will be developed "a closer feeling among the student body and the policies of Judicial Board" and that some of the outdated rules such as day time town sign outs be abolished. Jackie said:

Ann "Pinky" Saunders

The only rising sophomore who will hold one of the major campus offices, Marty Richmond, was quite thrilled about her election as NSA co-ordinator. In discussing her re-

President of I. R. S.

I. R. S. will have as its new president for next year Pinky Saun-

Ann Cunningham

especially active in getting the Community Service Projects Program started on the Salem campus.

NSA Co-ordinator

The only rising sophomore who will hold one of the major campus offices, Marty Richmond, was quite thrilled about her election as NSA co-ordinator. In discussing her re-

Trisha Weathers

can make next year's May Day a big success. A music major, Ann has served on the May Day Committee and as chairman of the May Court Committee.

President of W. R. A.

Susan Wainwright, new President of WRA, says she is "mighty" (Continued On Page Five)

Marty Richmond

Julia Carr

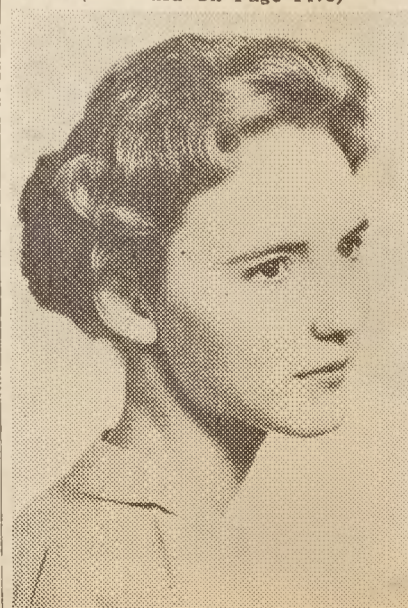

Liz Smith

Ellen Rankin

Ann Sellars

Nina Ann Stokes