Dansalems Present "An Evening Of The Dance," April 17

Committee Completes Plans For May Day

May Day chairman Harriet Tomlinson and her committee are busy completing plans for May 6th.

Linda Leaird and Ann Cunningham, who are in charge of the May Court, have overseen the selecting and fitting of the gowns for the Queen and her Court, although they refuse to disclose any of the details.

Likewise, the theme of the program, which will be presented in the May Dell to entertain the Court, is being kept a secret. The only plan which has thus far been revealed is that the program will consist of seven dances, choreography by Nancy Umberger. Included in the cast of forty are "Mushrooms"—Martha Jo Phifer, Jo Anne Wade, Ann Simmons, and Margaret Carpenter; "Bugs"—Lucy Lane, Katherine Parrish, Frances Bailey, Dotty Pooser, and Jackie Barker; "Fish"—Marsha Ray, Carole Meadows, Janice Mitchell, Kay Shugart, and Marjorie Foyles; "Flutes"—Tate Graham, Mimi Farquhar, Nancy Clay, and Vicky Sims; and "Flowers"—Jo Dunbar, Jane Kelly, Alta Lu Townes, Tish Johnston, Carroll Roberts, Nancy Kizer, Sara Kirk, Elizabeth Sykes, Jeannie Boyer, Frances Speas, Suzanne Taylor, Kathy Chalk, Marty Richmond, Candy Chew, Sally Gillespie, and G. G. Monk.

Choral Group Gives Program

The Salem College Choral Ensemble recently participated in an hour-and-a-half long program in Danville, Virginia. The concert was on April 19, at 8:00 p.m., at Averett College. Some of the pieces on the program were "Ah! Dearest Jesus," Bach; "How Excellent Thy Name," Hanson; "Tomorrow," Strauss; "May Day Carol," Taylor; "Sam Was a Man," Persichetti; "Bought Locks," Menin; "It's a Grand Night for Singing," Rodgers; "Tonight," Bernstein; "One Hand, One Heart," Bernstein; and several love songs by Brahms. There also were several solos.

Previous to that concert the ensemble provided the entertainment for the National Security Seminary at a tea at Wake Forest. The tea was held for members of the Seminar on April 11 in Reynolda Hall. The Choral Ensemble presented "Sam Was a Man," Persichetti; "One Hand, One Heart," Bernstein; "Tonight," Bernstein; "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing," Fain; "I Wish I Wuz," Kuller and Murray; and "Come again! Sweet Love Doth Now Invite," Dowland.

Salemites Hold Street Dance

Attention students: Are you tired of only seeing undergraduates? If so, come to the street dance Friday, April 21, at 8:30 p.m., to meet Wake Forest law students and Bowman Gray medical students. There will be dancing in the square to the music of the Migrants. Come dressed casually. No bermudas or dates allowed!

A formal dance held in the evening will climax the celebration of May Day. The highlight of the festivities will be the presentation of the May Court at 10:00 p.m.

The vice-chairman of the event is Clarissa Joyce; the treasurer is Dorothy Frick. Publicity will be handled by Linda Bashford, programs and tickets by Sally Beverly. Dr. Welch is the faculty advisor.

The sophomore class has announced that a new addition to May Day will be an informal combo party featuring the Tams from 8:00 to 12:00 Friday night. Tickets will be on sale for $2.00 per couple and the proceeds will go toward financing the refugee student program.

Chapel Series Continues With New Speakers

Next week in a continuation of the assembly culture series, the Chapel Committee will present Dr. V. M. Cutter, Jr. and Dr. Robert W. Greenfield.

On Tuesday, April 25, Dr. Cutter will speak on "The Bio-Chemical Basis of Creativity". Dr. Cutter was born in Guatemala in 1917. He received his AB at Dartmouth in 1938 and his Ph. D. from Cornell University in 1941. He was assistant professor of botany at Cornell during 1940-41 and has taught at the University of Minnesota and Yale. Since 1952 he has been professor of biology and head of the department at Woman's College, Greensboro.

Dr. Greenfield will speak on "Some Implications of the Population Bomb" on Thursday, April 27. Born in Duluth, Minnesota, Dr. Greenfield received his BA magna cum laude, With Highest Distinction in Sociology, from Kent State University, Ohio, in 1949. From 1949 to 1951 he taught sociology and was research associate and instructor, Bureau of Business Research, at Ohio State University. After serving as head of the department of sociology at Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, Dr. Greenfield came to Women's College in 1958 as assistant professor of sociology. During the summer, Dr. Greenfield serves as consultant to the Missile Test Unit, Radio Corporation of America, at Cape Canaveral, Florida.

Sandra Moore Gives Recital

Sandra Moore will give her freshman piano recital on April 28, at 7:30 p.m., in Memorial Hall. For her selections she has chosen "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue," Bach; "Waldstein Sonata," Beethoven; and varieties from Mendelssohn.

Sandra is a piano major and a student of Mr. Hans Heidemann. Upon graduation from Salem, she hopes to continue her study in this field and eventually to teach piano. She has taken piano for thirteen years. This will be her first recital as a student at Salem; however, last February she gave a recital at Salem as a student of Mr. Heidemann.

Classes Adopt Refugee Students For 1962-63

On Tuesday, April 11, class meetings were held to vote on the countries in which they would support

Spach, Brazilian Missionary, Speaks To WF

Jule Christian Spach, missionary to Brazil, will be a guest of the Westminster Fellowship on Wednesday, April 26. He will speak at 6:30 in the Committee Room of Babcock.

During World War II, when he was flying over the Mediterranean, Mr. Spach's plane crashed. He swam for five hours before reaching shore, where he was captured. The rest of the war he spent in a German prison camp. Partly because of this experience, he dedicated his life in 1951 to mission work.

The Presbyterian U. S. Mission Board sent Mr. Spach to Garanhuns, Brazil, where he has been a chemistry and math teacher as well as athletic director for the past nine years at the Colegio Quinze de Novembro.

In 1957 he became director of the school which includes all grades from elementary through junior college. Under his direction the school has grown and taken a lead in Brazilian education.

Mr. Spach is also in charge of about 40 ministerial students who are under the jurisdiction of the school. On weekends he makes evangelistic trips to the interior, leading as many as 17 services each Sunday.

A native of Winston-Salem, the speaker studied at VMI for a year and graduated in chemical engineering from Georgia Tech. He worked in Winston-Salem before going into missionary work; he is living here now until he returns to Brazil in December, 1961.

refugee students. The choice included Algeria, Greece, Hong Kong, India, Korea, and Pakistan. The freshmen, sophomores, and juniors voted for the country in which they as a class would support students. This year's seniors voted for the country in which next year's freshmen class will support students. It is hoped that each class will be able to support three students.

The results were as follows:
Rising seniors: Hong Kong
Rising juniors: Korea
Rising sophomores: Greece
Incoming freshmen: India
Each class has developed projects to raise the money necessary to aid these students. The freshmen are planning a rummage sale for the help at Salem, a shoe shine, and the sale of lemonade and snow cones around the swimming pool.

The sophomores are planning a car wash, and a combo party on the tennis courts the Friday of May Day weekend. Admission will be $2 per couple.

The juniors are planning individual projects. Each junior plans to earn five dollars setting hair, shining shoes, ironing, and doing other small jobs.

The seniors will present a bridal fashion show on Monday, April 24, 6:30-7:30. Admission will be $.25.

WRA Holds Annual Banquet

WRA will hold its annual banquet on Monday night at 6:30 in the Club Dining Room. Mrs. Hutchinson, a representative from the Greensboro School system, will be the speaker. Entertainment by the Dela-Chordettes will also be provided. All faculty members and students who have participated in WRA activities are invited. Sign up to attend the banquet on the sheets in your dormitory. Everyone come!

Dansalems will present its annual recital, "An Evening of the Dance", on Thursday, April 27. The performance will begin at 8:30 p.m. in Old Chapel.

Nineteen members of the club will dance in the program, which is divided into four suites: Theater Suite, Negro Spirituals, Emotions Suite, and Ozark Suite.

The recital will open with the Theater Suite, composed of four dances. Drum beats will accent "Primitive" which includes seven dancers and features Trisha Weathers as the witch doctor. The mood will change as the clicks of heels and castenets are heard in the Spanish dance featuring Nancy Umberger with five other dancers. A ballet is next, danced by Kaye Pennington, Babs Schafer, Nancy Umberger, and Trisha Weathers. The fourth number in the suite is modern jazz featuring Brenda Willis and Kaye Pennington with four other dancers.

The Negro Spirituals will include "Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley", "Go Down Moses", and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot". Harriet Tomlinson will sing for two of these.

The Emotions Suite will include four numbers with the costumes accenting the color associated with each emotion. "Love" will be danced by Kaye Pennington in green, "Melancholy" by Alta Lu Townes in grey, "Hate" by Anita Hatcher and Trisha Weathers in red, and "Joy" by Babs Schafer in yellow.

The program will close in a light mood with the Ozark Suite, composed of "Lazy Afternoon" and "Saturday Night". These two dances will depict contrasting aspects of mountaineer life; the former very listless and lazy, and the latter energetic and full of fun.

The recital offers a wide variety of moods and dance movements. The numbers have been choreographed by members of Dansalems under the supervision of Miss Cox, the club advisor. The emphasis this year is more on elaborate and colorful costumes than on props.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of Dansalems or WRA. The price is $.50 for students and $1.00 for faculty and adults.

Denominational Group Elect New Officers

Next year's Baptist Student Union officers are Gail Ogburn, president; Pat Robinson, vice-president; Jerrine Fuller, secretary-treasurer; and Sarah Kirk, publicity and missions chairman.

New officers of the Canterbury Club are Margaret Duvall, president; Alice Reid, vice-president; and Mary Eastland, secretary-treasurer.

The Rev. E. Dudley Colhoun, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will speak to the Canterbury Club on Wednesday, April 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the Day Student Center. The Episcopal faculty, the Wake Forest Canterbury, Mrs. Calhoun, and the Rev. and Mrs. Hunt Williams have been invited.

Next year's Wesley Foundation officers are Mary Ann Stallings, president; Jo Dunbar, vice-president; and Marguerite Harris and Sue Smith, program chairmen.
