

Salem Chorus Will Present Spring Concert

The Choral Ensemble will present a Spring concert in Memorial Hall on May 2 at 8:30 p.m. This concert will be formal.

The group will present a program including both religious and secular music. Kay Ezzell, Sara Kirk, and Jerrine Fuller will provide piano accompaniment. Accompaniment will also feature Frances Speas on the flute and June Beck and Jo Dunbar on the violin.

A group of twelve girls will sing a number of secular pieces, among them "Coming Thru the Rye" and "Tutu Maramba." The soloists have not been chosen.

A special feature of the concert will be folk songs by Larry Vickers of Winston-Salem. He will accompany his songs on the guitar. Among the songs he will sing is "Greensleeves."

The following is the probable program for the concert, but may be subject to change: "Ave Maria", "My Lord What a Morning", "I Enjoy Being a Girl", "Tonight", "Sound of Music".

Day Conference At St. Pauls

"What Difference Does Christ Really Make?" will be the theme of the District Canterbury Conference to be held Saturday, March 3, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The Reverend Dick Ottaway, Chaplain at East Carolina State College and Curate at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Greenville, North Carolina, will be conference leader.

Registration begins at 1:30 p.m., and at 2:30 Holy Communion will be celebrated. The first session of the conference will start at 3:00 and the second at 4:45. Supper will be served at St. Paul's before the final session at 7:00. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 9:30. This service will be celebrated in two parts; the main body and work of the conference constituting the offertory.

Other colleges participating are: A and T, Bennett, Elon, Greensboro, Guilford, High Point, Wake Forest, and Winston-Salem Teacher's College.

The registration deadline is Wednesday, February 28; $1.25 registration fee should be turned in with the application. All students interested in attending this conference see Margaret Duvall, 202 Bitting.

Billy Butterfield

Senior Class Sponsors Billy Butterfield Sextet

On March 27, at 8 p.m., in Memorial Hall, the senior class of Salem College is sponsoring the Billy Butterfield sextet. Tickets were on sale for $3.00 per person on Wednesday and Thursday in the Student Center. Tickets may be bought for people other than college students by seeing any member of the senior class.

Billy Butterfield, the head of the sextet, is one of the most prominent trumpeters in the music field today. He first gained prominence as a member of Bob Crosby's Bobcats. Mr. Butterfield joined this group when he was in his early twenties, and gained even further notice as a songwriter when he and Bobby Haggart collaborated on the song "What's New?" Later, he joined one of Artie Shaw's orchestras, doubling with the Gramercy Five from time to time. Until going into the army, he played with Benny Goodman.

Dotty Smith, a vocalist who offers renditions from the blues to modern swing, is featured with Mr. Butterfield.

Helen Dunlop, a vocalist who accompanies herself on the guitar, will also be featured on the program. She has traveled more than 60,000 miles collecting and swapping folk songs. Miss Dunlop came to the world of folk music when she broadcast programs of folk songs to the people of France following the Liberation. She began these extensive folk singing and collecting pilgrimages while a member of the Secretariat of the United Nations.

Stee Gee Sponsors New Contest

"Does everybody wear write socks and Veejuns? . . . Vat ist der 'Twist'? . . . I don't beli-e-e-ve it! . . . Does me date alone?"

How would you respond to these comments on American customs? How would you answer a foreign student's questions on American political thought in action? How would you, as a foreign student's roommate, introduce her to a girls' school?

This year there is a new plan for choosing roommates for foreign students. Those girls interested in rooming with a foreign student during the next school year will be asked to submit a brief essay dealing with the following questions:

- 1) In what way can you help the foreign student to adapt to our standing of our customs, and campus living, achieve an understanding and appreciation of our culture?
- 2) What problems do you foresee in rooming with a foreign student and how would you solve them?

This essay, followed by a discus-

Dr. Gokhale Teaches New Asian Civilization Course

A new course entitled Asian Thought and Civilization will be offered next year. It will satisfy group requirements in Social Studies.

The course will be a "comma course", each semester providing three hours of credit; no prerequisites for either semester are required. The course is set up primarily for juniors and seniors, but sophomores may take it with special permission of the instructor. It is anticipated that Dr. Balkrishna Gokhale will teach the course. Course materials will mainly be drawn from the Hindu, Buddhist, Moslem, and Confucian-Taoist traditions.

The following topics will be covered during the first semester: 1) Authority and human freedom: nature and functions of the state, bases of loyalty, right to revolution, nature of law and sources of law, administrative details.

2) Economic Organization and Welfare: ideas on taxation, trade, commerce and the profit-motive; concepts on village, town and city; ideas on the community; ideas on people and commodities as instruments of economic welfare.

3) War and Peace: ideas on war; its necessity, justification, condemnation; laws of war and non-violence; role of war in civilization. 4) The Sense of History: ideas on the concept of time, change, causality; motive forces in historical changes; deterministic and divine motivational theories; history and civilization.

Second semester the course will include:

1) God and man: theories on creation, nature of the world, illusion and reality, divine will in the world; problems of good and evil.

2) Beauty: aesthetic theories; ideas on form, harmony, rhythm architecture, sculpture and painting, and ideals of beauty in the art-forms. human spirit as perfection.

3) Pleasure: sources of pleasure, literature, music; the role of the concept of pleasure in civilization; attachment to pleasure, and ideas of renunciation of pleasure.

4) Perfection: Ideas on individual, social and ethical perfection; ethics and ethical concepts; theories of salvation and liberation of the will determine the final choice. The Selection Committee will be composed of House Counselors, students, and faculty. The students who are chosen to room with a foreign student will have a choice of dorm and room during room-drawing in April.

Entry blanks may be obtained from your house president and should be turned in to Sallie Paxton, 204 Bitting, by March 28. Students from all classes may apply.
