

The Salemite

Volume XLIII

Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., Friday, January 11, 1963

Number 11

Office Gives Schedule For The Coming Year

The office has issued the calendar for the year 1963-64.

1963 Fall Semester

September 13	Friday	Registration of special students
14	Saturday	Registration of local non-college students for music
16	Monday	Freshman Orientation
18	Wednesday	2:00-5:00 p.m., Registration
19	Thursday	9:00-1:00 p.m., Registration
20	Friday	3:30 p.m., Opening Convocation
October 3	Thursday	8:30 a.m., Classes begin
		Founder's Day
November 27	Wednesday	1:00 p.m., Thanksgiving recess begins
December 2	Monday	8:30 a.m., Classes resume
19	Thursday	12:05 p.m., Christmas vacation begins
January 3	Friday	Reading Day
17	Friday	8:30 a.m., Classes resume
18	Saturday	First semester examinations begin
25	Saturday	First semester examinations end

1964 Spring Semester

January 29	Wednesday	2:00-5:00 p.m., Registration
30	Thursday	8:30 a.m., Classes begin second semester
March 21	Saturday	12:05 p.m., Spring Recess
31	Tuesday	9:25 a.m., Classes resume
May 19	Tuesday	Reading Day
20	Wednesday	Second semester examinations begin
27	Wednesday	Second semester examinations end
30	Saturday	Alumnae Day
31	Sunday	Baccalaureate and Commencement

Welch Joins State Board Teacher Evaluation Comm.

Dr. Elizabeth Welch was appointed to the State Evaluation Committee on Teacher Education on January 3 by the State Board of Education.

The Evaluation Committee is part of the new North Carolina teacher education program. Under this program individual colleges will be judged by the state as acceptable or unacceptable institutions of teacher education. If a college is approved, it then can certify its education candidates as teachers.

Welch Becomes Asso. Director

Dr. Elizabeth Welch, head of the department of education and psychology here at Salem, has recently been named associate director of "The Lost Colony." This appointment was announced a few days ago by Mr. Fred W. Morrison of Washington, North Carolina, chairman of the Roanoke Island Historical Association which sponsors the play.

Dr. Welch joined this production 13 years ago as assistant stage manager. She also has been a speech consultant for the drama, work which she plans to continue along with her appointment.

For the past five years, Dr. Welch has been Dean of the Roanoke Island School of Fine Arts, the summer school connected with the show.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A Senior Red Cross Life Saving course will begin Friday, January 11, at 7:30 at the Spruce Street YMCA and will continue on Fridays from 7:30-9:45. The Water Safety Instructors course follows, starting Monday, April 29. Register by calling Spruce Street YMCA before the first class.

Dr. Dale Gramley will attend the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges in Atlantic City, New Jersey, January 14-17. He will leave on Saturday, January 12 and will return to campus on Friday, January 18.

Becky Newsome

Becky Newsome National Rose

Becky Newsome was notified June 25, 1962, that she had been selected as the national rose of Pi Kappa Phi. A day student, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsome of North Stratford Road, Winston-Salem, Becky placed fourth in the national competition the year before. Pinned to Bill Clingman, a Pi Kappa Phi at Davidson, she was elected as the Rose of that fraternity. "Every year," she said, "each fraternity elects its Rose and then sends her picture to the national headquarters. These pictures are sent to a board of the girls are then ranked in order below that."

One of the pleasing duties of her position was the opportunity to attend the national convention of Pi Kappa Phi held last summer in Lansing, Michigan. Here she was presented to all the fraternity brothers that she represented. "It was one of the proudest moments of my life," she said. While at the convention, she was given a silver tray as a lasting memento of her honor.

Tuition Rises For Coming School Year

Beginning with the first semester of the academic year 1963-64, tuition will be raised for the first time in four years. The tuition will be raised from $300 to $425 per semester or $600 to $850 per year. This increases fees from $1850 to $2100 per year which is about $9 per day. Of course, the Board of Trustees cannot give any definite number of years before another increase must be made, but it is felt, after careful study, that the raise of $250 will provide the necessary additional means for the next few years.

Salem does not want to raise the tuition, but the Board of Trustees feels that in order to continue the quality of education that it now provides and improve what it already has, fees must be increased. This raise is necessary to increase faculty and staff salaries. Schools throughout the country are increasing salaries thus providing competition that Salem must meet in order to keep the good teachers that it has and to attract the best replacements; therefore these salaries have to be raised. Just as the tuition raise of four years ago was used up gradually, all of the raise in tuition will not be spent immediately but will be managed so that faculty salaries can be increased somewhat each year as has been the custom since Dr. Dale Gramley has been president.

Professors Will Take Leave

Two of Salem's instructors will be on leave of absence second semester.

Mr. Wilmer D. Sanders is going to the University of Indiana where he will complete his dissertation. Mrs. Peter Schmidt will teach Mr. Sanders' classes. She is from Zanesville, Ohio, and she attended Kalamazoo College in Kalamazoo, Michigan, where she received her BA degree. She received an award for graduate study and attended the University of Bonn in Germany. Her husband is a graduate student at Wake Forest.

Mrs. Fay Chandler Honeycutt will be replaced by Mrs. Pauline Stewart, a former faculty member at Salem in the Home Economics Department. Mrs. Honeycutt is on maternity leave.

NOTICES

If enough students are interested, the library will be open Saturday evening, January 19th, from 7-10 p. m. Please express your interest in this proposal to the librarian.

Mrs. Florence Wyatt Sparger, a member of the Class of 1912, has bequeathed to Salem a household of antique furniture. The various articles will be placed in appropriate places on campus.

The Board of Trustees has announced to present students that Dr. Gramley would welcome any written application for scholarship aid, if the increased fees will produce hardships on the parents or the student's continued education at Salem. All applications will be carefully discussed and considered. The Board of Trustees feels that anyone who is presently at Salem with scholarship aid could not possibly continue her education unless the amount of the scholarship is raised. Therefore an increase of $250 will be added to all scholarships in order to compensate for the raise of the same amount.

Salem Receives ECC Art Show

A new show of student art work from East Carolina College will go on exhibit in Main Hall by the end of this week. The fifteen oil paintings, replacing works by students of Design 100, will be on display until the end of the month. The show was put together from student works selected by East Carolina faculty members and is now circulating around North Carolina. According to Mr. David Wurtzel, Salem art instructor, the paintings show "remarkably different tendencies." East Carolina's art department is one of the largest and best-equipped in the state.

Three Seniors Graduate In January

January means a diploma for Linda Wall, Sally Glenn, and Julia Jones, who will have completed the requirements necessary for graduation by the end of the coming exam period.

Sally Glenn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Glenn from Winston-Salem, North Carolina. She will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in English and a minor in French. Sally will also receive a certificate in secondary education. She is planning to be married March 23 of this year.

Linda Wall, also of Winston-Salem, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay S. Wall. She is receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, with a minor in French. Linda hopes to teach English in Winston-Salem. Her only definite plans are for a wedding on February 23.

Julia Jones, of Durham, North Carolina, will receive a BA degree in history with a minor in religion.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. T. Jones. Following graduation Julia will be working in the hematology lab of Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Linda Wall and Sally Glenn are two of the three seniors who will be graduating this month.