vidual trophies, and letters to girls who have accumulated thirty points. In order to encourage participation of the incoming freshmen, a committee within the Council is preparing information to be sent to them this summer. This spring, plans are being made for softball tournaments and swimming activities. Also this year there is an additional member in the Council, the Chairman of the Student Center, who will work together with the Council in planning activities connected with the Student Center, such as bridge tournaments and ping-pong tournaments.

Plans for the coming year are indefinite, but there are hopes of enlarging the activities to include such sports as riding, golf, and ping-pong.

Final Examinations Begin May 20

Martin Luther King, Jr., is coming to Winston-Salem Monday, April 13, at 8 p.m. in Goler Memorial AME Zion Church. He will speak on the current project of voter registration being carried on by the Congress of Racial Equality.

NSA Aids Organizations By Providing Information

(Continued from page 2) responsible for transmitting pertinent information to the vocational office. Barbara Gottschalk, head of the Programs, Entertainment, and Projects Committee, transmitted information concerning announcements of lectures and speakers to the president of IRC and humanities. A lighter side of her duties was the transferral of information on combos and singers to IRS.

Making various announcements in assembly and writing articles for The Salemite were the duties of Wendy McGlinn, head of the Reaction to Current Events Committee. Other participants in NSA this year were Betty Clark Gray, who, as head of the Student Government Information Service Committee, answered all questionnaires sent to Salem, and Barbara Mallard, who filed and kept NSA information up to date.
