Office Clarifies Rules For Sign-Out Procedure

The first week with the new sign-out procedure passed with very few irregularities. However, there are several clarifications which must be made.

Students can only sign out for overnights during the allotted time set by the house counselor. When a student needs the Dean of Student's permission, she must secure it during the office hours. If an emergency arises, the student may contact the dean on duty.

For any overnight other than home, each student must get approval. Invitations for a Winston-Salem overnight must be in to the Dean of Students before the student signs out. A note from the Dean saying the invitation is in is necessary when signing out in the dorm. At the end of each month the office will send post cards to the students' parents stating every overnight she has taken that month.

Sign-outs for in-town evening engagements, out-of-town day trips, and out-of-town evening engagements are to be made on one card. All overnights are to be put on the second. When a girl is signed out for in-town and decides to go out-of-town, she must call in to change her sign-out.

If circumstances prevent a girl from returning to campus on time, she must call her dorm to notify her house president. If she returns to campus within fifteen minutes after her dorm's closing time, she may go immediately to her dorm. However, if she returns later than the allotted fifteen minutes, she must go immediately to Clewell to wait for the night watchman. Upon return to the dorm, the girl should record her late minutes in the irregularity book.

When a girl calls in for any reason, she must always call directly to her own dorm and ask to speak to the girl on duty. This girl is the only authorized person to change the sign-out. If calling from out-of-town, a student must call long distance person-to-person.

Late permission should be reviewed in the handbook (page 59). The only change is that for any of the three civic concerts (a, b, c), a girl must sign out in her dorm and put LP by her sign-out. Other late permissions should follow the same procedure as before with the Dean of Students granting it during office hours. If the student expects to be in within the fifteen minute

Three stylish Salemites, Sharyn Dettwiller, Cheryl Thompson, and Nickye Yokley hope to become Salem's "glamour girl" and take a trip to New York as one of the best-dressed.

Students Select Three Participants For Annual Best-Dressed Contest

In response to an invitation from Glamour magazine to participate for a second year in their contest for the "Ten Best-dressed College Girls" in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico, Salem has selected three girls from which her "Best-dressed" girl will be chosen. One of these three, Sharyn Dettwiller, Cheryl Thompson, or Nickye Yokley, will be nominated Monday night in the dormitory house meetings to compete with over 300 girls from other colleges.

The winner from each college competes under the following points in the national contest: 1) a clear understanding of her fashion types; 2) a workable wardrobe plan; 3) a suitable campus look—in line with local customs; 4) appropriate—not rah-rah—look for off-campus occasions; 5) individuality in use of colors, accessories; 6) imagination in managing a clothes budget; 7) good grooming, not just neat, but impeccable; 8) clean, shining, well-kept hair; 9) deft use of make-up (enough to look pretty, but not overdone); 10) good figure, beautiful posture.

Photographs are sent of the girl in a typical campus outfit, off-campus daytime outfit and a party dress for a panel of Glamour editors to judge. Last year, not only the "Ten Best-dressed" were chosen, but also a number of honorable mentions.

One of the three chosen this year at Salem to compete for the honor of representing this college is Sharyn Dettwiller from Nashville, Tennessee. Majoring in French and minoring in history, Sharyn hopes to attend Katherine Gibbs after graduating from Salem. For her clothes she loves those that "don't look like everybody else's," and especially Mr. Mort and Oleg Cassini styles.

Cheryl Thompson, another of our "best-dressed," is a freshman from Burlington. She is uncertain of her major at present, but is considering math. As for her clothes, she prefers things that are unusual, but no particular lines. She is "very excited about being chosen" as one of our three and feels "very honored."

Nickye Yokley, our third contestant, is also from Nashville, Tennessee. After graduation, Nickye hopes to continue her French major in graduate school. "Tired of seeing McMullen's and Villagers" Nickye's choice of clothes usually comes from the Junior Sophistocote line. She says that being chosen in our local contest is "a very nice compliment" and like Sharyn and Cheryl, feels "quite honored."

If one of these girls is chosen to be among the top ten from all participating colleges, she will be photographed by top fashion photographers in the late spring for Glamour's August College Issue, and during the first two weeks in June she, along with the other nine, will go to New York for a round of parties, theatre, sightseeing, and entertainment by Glamour's friends in the beauty and fashion industries.

In her welcome to the colleges participating in Glamour's Tenth Annual College Contest, Mrs. Kathleen Aston Casey, Editor-in-Chief, says: "The years when a young woman is in college are the most formative of her life, and the education she gets during these years should mold her into an intelligent, independent, interesting, attractive person. Being well-dressed and well-groomed is not a question of money or an extensive wardrobe. These

Henry Kissinger To Talk; Theme: New Foreign Policy

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, one of the nation's most brilliant political scientists, will speak in Shirley Recital Hall on February 16 at 8 p.m. His talk, which is part of our Lecture Series, will be on the subject, "A New Approach to Foreign Policy."

Dr. Kissinger, a native of Germany, came to the United States in 1938 and received his A. B. (Summa cum Laude), M. A., and Ph. D. degrees from Harvard. His academic honors have included Phi Beta Kappa, Harvard National Scholarship, Harvard Fellowship, and a Rockefeller Foundation Fellowship for Political Theory. He was formerly a Consultant to the National Security Council, and is now Consultant to the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Professor of Government, Harvard University; faculty member, Harvard Center for International Affairs, and Executive Director, Harvard International Seminar.

Dr. Kissinger has been interviewed on "Face the Nation" and other leading television and radio discussion programs. His articles have appeared in such current affairs publications as "The Reporter," "The New York Times Magazine," "Foreign Affairs," and "Harper's Magazine." His recent book, The Troubled Partnership: A

Reappraisal of the Atlantic Alliance is on a subject of great importance that is being widely discussed.

His book, Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy, was the outgrowth of his work as Study Director with a group of experts organized by the Council on Foreign Relations. This book won for Mr. Kissinger the 1958 Woodrow Wilson Prize for the best book in the fields of government, politics, and international affairs, as well as a citation by the Overseas Press Club. He has also written The Necessity for Choice, which was a nation-wide best seller in 1961.

Students Become Members In Salem's Honor Society

The Honor Society has recently admitted eight new members to bring the total membership to fifteen. Each of the new members has completed five semesters of Dean's List work with an overall average of 3.2 or three semesters of the same if they transferred to Salem after their sophomore year.

One of the new members, Jeannie Barnes, is from Charlottesville, Virginia. A French major and art history minor, she is on the May Day Committee and secretary of the senior class. After graduation in June, Jeannie plans to work in New York.

Betty Brock, a day student from Winston-Salem, is majoring in psychology and minoring in sociology. A member of the Junior class, Betty hopes to attend graduate school after graduation.

Hailing from Staunton, Virginia is Lita Huffman Brown. A member of IRS, Lita is majoring in English and minoring in art. After graduation from Salem, she hopes to teach on the secondary level and eventually attend graduate school.

Betsy Carr, a junior from Wilson, claims math as her major and German as her minor. She is vice-president of the Junior class and is on Judicial Board. In the future, Betsy hopes to travel, then work.

A piano major, Carol Ann Derflinger is from Coral Gables, Florida. She is president of the Westminster Fellowship, a member of "Archway Singers," and a Y Cabinet member. A senior, Carol Ann plans either to work or attend graduate school next year.

Susan Hines, a native of Greensboro, is a French major and Spanish minor. At Salem, she is treasurer of SNEA and chairman of the concessions committee. Susan is also planning to attend graduate school after graduation.

A senior from Raleigh, Lucy McCallum is majoring in French and minoring in history along with being on the Archway reading staff. After spending last year studying in France, Lucy hopes to work on a Master's Degree in French.

A Salem scholar, Becky Scott, is from Winston-Salem. With a major in mathematics and a minor in chemistry, Becky would like to attend graduate school after getting her degree from Salem. On campus, she is a member of the Pierrette Council, secretary of the Baptist Student Union, and secretary of SNEA.

FITS Needs Organizer; Chairman Holds Big Job

When making your nominations for FITS Chairman, please consider the following qualifications:

1. The nominee must be a rising sophomore with a 2.0 or higher quality point average.
2. She must be well acquainted with all the members of her class in order that she may have a clear idea of what "Freshman Introduction to Salem" should include.
3. She should be capable of giving a large amount of time to her job—especially in the spring and early fall.
4. A good relationship with faculty and with students in all classes is a must; she will be in charge of organizing the entire program for Freshman Introduction to Salem. The duties of the FITS Chairman are as follows:

- a. To act as the liaison between freshmen and the student body and administration.
- b. To be in charge of all activities on Founder's Day.
- c. To organize and direct both the concentrated (FITS Week) and general program of Freshman Introduction to Salem.
- d. To serve on Legislative Board
- e. To serve on the Handbook Committee.
