

Schedule Your Own, But . . .

Be Sure To Do It Right

The following is the procedure for Self Scheduling of Exams.

1. Each student determines when she will take her exam; this need not be reported or written down.
2. Occasionally it will be necessary for a class to take an exam as a class. In such a case the professor and the students in the class will agree upon a time, and this time will be turned into the Registrar's office. It will then be posted in Main Hall and published in The Salemite by May 9. This affects mainly art classes, applied music exams and some language courses.
3. Examination period begins Monday, May 26, and goes to Tuesday, June 3. There will be eight days in which to take exams—Sunday is not included. The periods will be at 9 a.m.-12 noon
2 p.m.-5 p.m.
7 p.m.-10 p.m.
Bells will ring for this.

4. Before the examination period, approximately two weeks, your professor will hand out envelopes on which you will put your name, course name, number and section and the professor's name. Then you will return these to the professor in the same class period.
5. The faculty member will put his exam in the envelope and turn it into one of the three distribution points, Main Hall, Science Building or the FAC depending on where the class is taught.
6. Then when the examination period starts, exams will be given out according to your name.
7. The exams must be picked up within the ½ hour preceding each 3 hour period, i.e., between 1:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. before the 2 p.m.-5 p.m. period.
8. The exams are to be taken in the building where the class is held—it does not matter which classroom. We felt that this gives enough freedom of movement to the student without having a lot of people chasing all over campus.
9. The exams are returned to the distribution points at the end of the 3 hour period. Exams will not be accepted 15 minutes after the hour; i.e., 10:15 p.m. is the latest an exam can be turned in after the 7 p.m.-10 p.m. period.

Signing up for distributing and collecting and filing of exams

1. The schedule has been stepped up so that more faculty members will be used at the beginning of the examination period than students, and more students toward the end so that the faculty will have more time to grade exams.
2. We have tried to estimate the number of people needed and sometimes to overestimate so that things will go smoothly the first time. People are needed for each exam period and a few days before hand to file the exams.
3. There will be posters in Main Hall on which you will sign up. Make sure you are signed up when you want to be, and be sure that each student has volunteered to work at least once. This list will become permanent by next Friday,

May 9—no changes can be made after that time.

4. It will be necessary for at least one person to stay at the distribution center the whole time to collect exams coming in before the three hour deadline. The whole group must be present for the ½ hour before and after the end of the exam period; i.e., the 9 a.m. period you must be there from 8:30 a.m.-9 a.m. and from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
5. Only students will be used at the night periods.
6. Since students are responsible for the first filing of exams before the examination period begins, there will be places for you to sign up to work for this in Main Hall, too.
7. When collecting the exams, they will be filed according to the professor's name. When he has a whole class turned in he will be notified.
8. Seniors are urged to have their exams finished by Monday at 5 p.m.

The Appalachian State tennis team traveled to Salem on Monday, April 28, and beat Salem 7-2. Debbie Lotz won her singles match, and Betsy McAlister and Anne Cargill won their doubles to give Salem only two wins.

Salem lost their third match of the year to Queens on Tuesday, April 29, by a score of 7-0. The score by no means indicates the calibre of tennis played by the Salem players, because as seen in the results, there were many matches that went three sets. Results of the Queens match are as follows:

Singles:

1. Liz Massie (Q) defeated Marily Saacke (S) 0-6, 6-1, 6-1

DE GAULLE RESIGNS

Charles DeGaulle, 78, resigned on April 28, after ruling as President of France since 1958. French voters significantly defeated his national referendum on Senate reform and a proposal to establish 22 new regions in France. DeGaulle had made the referendum a vote of confidence in his regime, and promised his resignation if rejected at the polls.

Alain Poher, Senate President, will serve as interim president and Premiere Couvre de Murville and his cabinet will remain as a caretaker government until elections are held in about a month. Premiere Couvre de Murville predicted that a period of social unrest and economic fluctuations may lie ahead for France.

NAVY TASK FORCE OFF KOREA WEAKENED

Ships are being withdrawn from the Navy Task Force stationed off North and South Korea since the April 14 shoot-down of a U. S. electronic reconnaissance plane by the North Koreans. The force was assigned to the area by President Nixon to protect continued reconnaissance flights, and on April 27, the force was headed toward the Yellow Sea. It now appears that the task force is being reduced.
