

For Those Who Weren't There...

One of the Forsyth County school students demonstrates "throwing a pot" at the Clothesline Art Show held last Saturday.

Alice and her Wonderland friends join the May Court for the crowning moment of May Day.

The fairest flowers of Salem re-enact a pagan ritual as they dance around the traditional May Pole.

Forsyth County school students filled the Square with their work last Saturday during their annual Clothesline Art Show.

IRC Imports Leftist Speaker

Kenneth Jackson, a senior at Eastern Kentucky University, will speak on "The Case of the Rebeling Students and Their Counter-Revolution," Monday, May 12, at 7 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center. The International Relations Club, who is sponsoring the speaker, has invited Wake Forest University and Winston-Salem State College students to attend.

Mr. Jackson is an active member of Student Government and CIRUNA (Council on International Relations and United Nations Affairs). Because of his leftist tendencies he will present a new perspective in which to view the student disturbances. Since riots, protests, and take-overs are pertinent to national, state, and local news, IRC feels it would be advantageous for all Salemites to hear a student view on the subject.

Kenny has actively participated in nation-wide conferences. He attended the National Model United Nations in New York this spring as delegation chairman of the Dominican Republic, the country his school represented. Kenny plans on participating in the International Model United Nations in July. A very select number of students from the United States have been asked to take part in this conference. Kenny, along with several other American students, will represent the Soviet Union.

Kenny will be on campus Sunday, May 11, in order to speak to student leaders and get an idea of opinions prevalent on the Salem campus. Any interested students who would like to voice their opinions in any fields related to the topic he will be speaking on are invited to the informal discussion at 9 p.m. Sunday in the Day Student Center.

Since the talk Monday night is open to other campuses in our community, IRC hopes to see a number of Salemites present. This will show a decrease in apathy on campus as well as interest in expanding communications with other colleges and universities.

NOTICE

Dr. and Mrs. Dale H. Gramley will attend two events of the Atlanta Alumnae Club Sunday, May 11: a brunch for Alumnae and their husbands at 12:30 p.m., and a coke party for prospective Salemites of the Atlanta area at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Gramley will be showing slides of Salem and talking with prospective students at the coke party. The meetings will be held at the Piedmont Driving Club in Atlanta.
