

Explore.

Find yourself at

Robin's

FIND THE GUNSLINGER

She's tough. She's got savvy. She's the Gunslinger—the girl you'd love to be. Find yourself at Robin's Total U. Find tie-dyed flare jeans that tie around your legs gunslinger style, $12. Matching vest, $8. In rust, navy or purple. 5-15. Find it all: frontier bags, headgear, belts, peace medals—the complete bag. Charge it all.

ROBIN'S TOTAL U . . . WHERE IT'S REALLY AT
Downtown, Northside, Parkway, Thruway

The Salemite

Volume LII

Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., Friday, November 6, 1970

Number 11

Scorpions Sting Seven

New Scorpions, left to right: (bottom row) Mary Davis, Marily Saacke, Susan Lundeen, Mary Leight; (top) Fran Hicks, Harriet Morrow, Jane Dimmock.

Dean Ivy M. Hixson serves as Honorary Member and Advisor to the Order of the Scorpion. In Assembly Wednesday, November 4, Dean Hixson announced the names of seven new members of the Order.

The new senior members are Jane Dimmock from McLean, Va., Fran Hicks from Waynesville, Mary Leight from Winston-Salem, and Harriet Morrow from Washington. Three juniors were chosen for membership. They are Mary Davis from Belmont, Susan Lundeen from Atlanta, Ga., and Marily Saacke from New Canaan, Conn.

The Order of the Scorpion has been in existence for more than 30 years. Its sole purpose and ideal is service to Salem with no thought of personal glory for individual members or for the Order itself. Membership is restricted to juniors and seniors, and the number does not at any time exceed fourteen. Membership does not require the highest academic average or the strongest record of leadership, but it does place high obligation on those upon whom the honor of membership is bestowed.

The Scorpions have no planned program; they may do nothing big; they may devote their energies to intangible, small, unrecognized needs. They may also be the moving force or the quiet influence behind some larger project. At all times the Order of the Scorpion attempts to be alert and responsive in some tangible way to such needs as may be observed by its members or referred to it by others.

The seven new Scorpions join five past members: Chris Coile, Dianne Dailey, Sara Engram, Rebecca McConnaughey, and Emily Wood.