

BIG DEAL you bet it is

OFFICIAL DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE PHOTO. ORIGINALLY RELEASED IN NORTH VIETNAM.

No matter how you feel about the war in Vietnam, the fate of this prisoner of war is a big deal. To his wife and children. To his parents. To the signatories of the Geneva Conventions. To all rational people in the world.

The Red Cross is asking you to consider the matter of prisoners of war and those who are missing in action in Asia.

It is not asking you to take a stand on the war itself. It is asking you to ask Hanoi to observe the humanitarian provisions of the Geneva Conventions.

Ask Hanoi to release the names of men it holds prisoner. Ask them to allow prisoners to communicate regularly with their families. Ask them to repatriate seriously ill and wounded prisoners. Ask them to allow a neutral intermediary to inspect places of detention.

Ask them this in a letter mailed to:

First Semester Fades Away- Examinations Loom On Horizon

Exams for the first semester this year are still to be self-scheduled and will follow the procedure from last semester with a few minor changes.

The examination period will be from Saturday, January 16, to Saturday morning, January 23, including Sunday. There will be eight days to take exams. The time periods in which you may take exams will be: 9-12, 2-5, 7-10. There will be no 9 o'clock period on Sunday and no afternoon or evening periods on Saturday, January 23, the last day. Officially, there will not be a Reading Day, separating the last day of classes and the first day of exams, but students may schedule their own.

Students may pick up examinations and blue books one-half hour before the beginning of each exam period at the distribution point in the building in which the class has met. You will write the examinations in classrooms in that building. Three hours will be allowed for each exam period, and examinations and blue books must be returned in the envelopes to the distribution points within 15 minutes thereafter. If they are late, a failing grade may be given. You may pick up your exam any time within the 3 hour period (for example, you pick up your exam at 3:30 and turn it in by 5:15).

It is suggested that students dispose of all exam materials before leaving a classroom except those they were instructed to turn in. Of course, no notes or study materials are to be taken into the classrooms while exams are in progress. It may be helpful to bring a watch and several pens or pencils. Students should remember to take an exam with at least one other girl in the room. Students have the usual dress code while taking exams, but please look presentable in Main Hall because prospective students may be there.

When it is necessary for a class to take an exam as a class, it will be announced by the faculty member and again will be posted in Main Hall. These exams will have priority of time and place over all other exams.

Students taking an open-book examination in the Fine Arts Center will have the Library (FAC) reserved for this purpose. The open-book room for Main Hall is 302 and for the Science Building 106.

Applied music examinations will be scheduled according to instructions of the School of Music.

Modern Language standard exams are to be given during the first period (9-12) on January 16, on the second and third floors of Main Hall. Students involved in these exams will have their names posted in Main Hall.

GOOD LUCK on exams!
