

Exam Schedule

Second semester exams will begin on Thursday, May 20 and will continue through Wednesday afternoon, May 26. Each day will have three, three hour exam periods with the exception of Sunday, May 23, when the morning period will be omitted and Wednesday, May 26, when the night period will be omitted. These three periods are at 9:00 a.m., 2:00 p.m., and 7:00 p.m.

Exams can be picked up in the building in which your class is held anytime after 30 minutes before the beginning of the exam period and must be turned in within 15 minutes after the exam period. (i.e. for a 9:00 exam, you may pick up the exam at 8:30 and it must be turned in by 12:15).

The exams will be filed alphabetically, according to last names and will be given in the building in which the particular class is held. The points of distribution are: the office of the Science Building, the reception room of Main Hall, and the seminar room (behind Dean Sandresky's office) in the Fine Arts Center. So to pick up an exam, you go to the correct building (i.e. Science Building for Biology) and give your name and the distributor will find your exam under your last name. Exams must be taken in the building where distributed. The last days, May 25 and 26, all exams will be given out in Main Hall and must be taken there. There should be more than one person in a room during the exam and no books are allowed inside the room. Open book rooms should be used for open book exams. They are, room 106 in the Science Building, room 302 in Main Hall, and the Fine Arts Center library.

This semester, freshmen and juniors will be responsible for the stamping, filing and distributing of exams. Because there are so many more freshmen than juniors, freshmen will be responsible for all stamping, filing and for distributing in the Science Building and Fine Arts Center. Juniors will distribute in Main Hall. In case someone needs to change the time for which she has signed, she will be responsible for getting someone to take her place and letting Gwynne Stephens, 314 Gramley know of the change. For the convenience of the filers and distributors, they will receive letters of information with a blank at the bottom which will tell them their time and place. It will be helpful to save this and put it somewhere where it can be seen, because there is a $10 penalty for forgetting whatever one signed up for. (so take heed!). This is necessary because of the lack of responsibility on the part of students in the past.

Stamping was done May 4, from 11:00 to 2:00. Filing will be May 18 and 19 from 11:00 to 3:00.

The week beginning Monday, May 10, envelopes and white slips were given out in classes. If you did not sign these, you will not have an exam. If you did not, be sure to check with your teacher and make sure you sign an envelope and attach the corresponding white slip to it.

Members of the exam committee are Gwynne Stephens, Chairman; Susan Lundeen, Lynn Bode, Alden Hanson, Miriam Manning, Cathy Gazes, and Mary Ann Campbell. You may contact any of these if you have questions.

On behalf of Student Government, Judicial Board would like to make the following regulations concerning exams:

1. Students must take exams IN THE CLASSROOMS of Main Hall, the Science Building, and the Fine Arts Center; exams may not be taken in hallways, laboratories, etc. Also, a student is not to take an exam in a room by herself; she should see that, at the beginning of the exam period, at least one other student is in the room.
2. Under no circumstances are books to be brought into the classroom in which an exam is being taken; all books and papers should be left either in the dorm or outside the exam area. Blue books may be used for the scratch paper, if such paper is not provided by the professor in the exam envelope.
3. When a student opens her envelope, she may, under no circumstances, interrupt the exam to refer back to her notes.

The above regulations were set up upon recommendation from both students and faculty members; they are solely for the protection of the student, to eliminate any possible suspicion of cheating. We have had cases in the past in which the self scheduling system has been jeopardized by students putting themselves in awkward situations that could have been avoided.

The faculty at Salem are in favor of our exam system in theory, but if it fails in any way this semester, they favor a return to the old system. Please do your part to make our system successful. If you are a freshman or junior, this includes your willingness to help stamp, file and distribute.

Ecology class went on a field trip the weekend of April 8. Mr. and Mrs. Willingham, Mr. Nohlgren, 19 excited students plus two experienced lab assistants departed in three V-W buses and one Buick to Beaufort, N. C. Our purpose was to observe the major communities of the North Carolina Coast by studying the flora, fauna and characteristics of the Beaufort-Moorehead areas.

We stayed at the Duke Marine Laboratory station. The three days following our arrival were spent taking local field trips, obtaining specimens to key out back at the lab, walking through knee high mud and a boat ride on the Beveridge to gather up organisms from the ocean. Perhaps this poem entitled "To those down in the mud flats" left by the Easter Bunny along with some of the highlights and incidents of our trip.

After you've trudged through the marshes and over the shore I, the Easter Bunny have brought you delights galore.

Eggiota plasticolatae, I have brought for you

To toast the success of Captain Frank and his crew.

Beth, having sea sickness while afloat;

Rowers towed in by a motor boat;

Brenda—the crab; Libba—the scratches;

Tricia—the mud and poison ivy patches.

Helen and Steve—the red necks;

Mark—his corny jokes;

Elizabeth — her pigtailed and a blowfish that bloats.

In spite of it all, you've learned a hell-of-a-lot

Even the smell of animal rot.

Having found all the animals of the sea,

I tricked you—you couldn't find me.

Now from the waters, having "arose"

For all you scientists I have a question to pose.

Having learned all the animals of the sea;

Which came first the egg or me?

Little Mary Sunshine

"Little Mary Sunshine," the satirical musical which was a great success off-Broadway, will be given by Salem Academy on Thursday, May 20, and Saturday, May 22, in Hanes Auditorium of the Salem Fine Arts Center. There is no charge for the performance.

Approximately 80 Salem Academy students, members of the Drama Club and the Glee Club, will be involved in the production under the direction of Carolyn Green, drama, Jean Burroughs, music, and Mary Gunter, choreography.

The setting of "Little Mary Sunshine" is a Colorado Inn in the 1800's. The cast includes Forest Rangers, Indians, Finishing School Girls, and other colorful characters.

The performances will be given at 8:15 p.m. for the public.

Heading the cast in the role of Little Mary Sunshine is Mary Anne Whitesides of Gastonia. Nancy Turnkle will be played by Deborah Busby of Salisbury, and Mme. Ernestine Von Lebedich will be played by Patti Snow of Morganton. Claire Horn of Charlotte is the Prologue Leader.

The young ladies from Eastchester Finishing School will be played by Patricia Eckbert of Cramerton, Lucy Vance of Winston-Salem, Alice Wilbanks of Alexander City, Ala., Cyrette Little of Wadesboro, Catherine McKnight of Sylacauga, Ala., and Martha Stevens of Lenoir.

The United States Forest Rangers will be played by Mary Wollen of Charlotte, Diane Busby of Salisbury, Peggy McCarty of Fort Pierce, Fla., Sylvia Lessee of Galax, Va., and Eleanor Karnes of Winston-Salem.

Also appearing in the production will be Elizabeth Hunter of Greensboro as Chief Brown Bear, Emily Seelbinder of Winston-Salem as Corporal Billy Jester, Carolyn Hull-Ryde of Gastonia as Captain "Big Jim" Warrington, Ardith Ferguson of Pigeon Forge, Tenn., as Yellow Feather, Susan Bowers of Whiteville as Fleet Foot, and Ann Waynick of Winston-Salem as General Oscar Fairfax. Susan Jones of Pittsboro is assistant choreographer, and the accompanist is Salem College student Susan Heaton of Orangeburg, S. C.

NOTICE!

There will be no student charges at the Salem Bookstore after May 19 in order to process bills.
