

Here Comes Harvey

Salemites, get ready -- the comedy of comedies is coming to our school. Yes, on October 10, 11, and 12 we will be privileged to view, in our own drama workshop, the comedy Harvey, which tells the story of an alcoholic who sees a large white rabbit. This hallucination causes problems for the sister and niece of the man, and they attempt to have him committed to an institution. The problems that arise are hilarious, so the play will undoubtedly tickle your funny bone. The best part about the play is that Salem students are producing, directing, and performing it. What more could we request? The male lead of Elwood P. Dowd will be played by Liz Lawless, and the female lead of Veta Louise Simons will be played by Beth Horton. The Pierrettes still need stage crew help, though, so if you're interested, call Paula Ruth Ford at 721-2698, or come by room 327 Clewell. Tickets to Harvey are free, so put the time on your calendar, and get ready for an evening of laughs with the Pierrettes. Y'all come!

Grants for Humanities Students

The Youthgrants program of the National Endowment for the Humanities will offer over 100 cash awards across the nation this fall to young people in their teens and early twenties, including many college and university students, to pursue non-credit, out-of-the-classroom projects in the humanities. The deadline for submission of completed applications is November 15, 1980.

The grants, which offer up to $2,500 to individuals and up to $10,000 for groups ($15,000 for certain high-cost media projects) are intended primarily for those between the ages of 15 to 25 who have a ways to go before completing academic or professional training.

If you are interested in the program, a copy of the guidelines should be on file at the campus Placement Office or the Office of Contracts and Grants. If not, please write before October

15th, 1980, if you wish to meet this year's deadline, to: Youthgrants Guidelines Mail Stop 103-C National Endowment for the Humanities Washington, D.C. 20506

Restaurant Review

Der Beef Haus, located on the corner of Lockland Ave. and Silas Creek Parkway, specializes in "Deli Style" subs and sandwiches.

The "Beef Haus Sub" is an especially generous serving, and customers may choose from over 30 styles of mustard.

Soups and salads are also available.

Owner Mike McMillan suggests a call to the "Haus" before picking up orders at the drive-thru station, as all meals are made to order.

From 3 to 6 p.m. daily, every other draught beer, normally 65 cents, is only a nickel. McMillan also stocks over 40 brands of imported and domestic beer.

McMillan plans to show old boxing matches during "off hours" and patrons may also watch this season's televised football games.

Der Beef Haus is open from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m. weekdays and 11 a.m. until 3 a.m. weekends.
