

Class Skits Highlighted Fall Fest

by Pamela Sawers

Gina Starling, Sharl White, and Bobbie Shepherd, aboard the 'Senior Cruise.'

The highlight of Fall Fest took place Monday evening Sept. 27, in Hanes Auditorium as each class presented their class skits and songs.

The freshmen started the program with a skit depicting their experiences at college, which included a humorous version of the freshmen mixer.

The Sophomores followed with a cheerful skit centered around beach tunes.

The Juniors then took the stage and sang Christmas songs with adapted lyrics describing their two years at Salem. They concluded with a song dedicated to their sister class, the Seniors.

Last to perform were the Seniors. Their delayed but dramatic entrance, with sparklers and Captain Mickey and Marty Hespard guiding the Senior Cruise were two high points of their skit which won first prize.

But there was much more to Fall Fest than one evening of theatrical presentations and an excuse to postpone class assignments.

The festivities began on Sunday evening with daquiri parties and freshmen dunking sessions. Monday morning, the students woke at 6 a.m. to the sounds of the entire Senior class running down their hall, banging pots and pans. The excitement which initially vibrated in each dorm, resounded in the Salem Square and rang throughout the refectory during the course of the day. Monday evening brought the traditional end of Fall Fest, the keg party, held this year at Hollyfields Lounge.

Inauguration Plans in Full Swing

by Amanda Mays

The inauguration of Dr. Thomas Vernon Litzenburg as the 17th President of Salem Academy and College will be Tuesday, October 12, at 2:00 p.m. in the Salem Square.

Thirty of our 39 Trustees will be present, as will representatives from 85 higher education institutions across the country.

The inauguration will begin with the traditional academic procession. Academy and college seniors will be in cap and gown along with Salem's faculty members and trustees.

There will be a schedule of special events planned around the inauguration, including a Student-Faculty Inaugural Recital on Oct. 11 at 8:00 p.m. in Hanes Auditorium. The Trustees will meet the following morning for a private luncheon and business meeting. The inauguration is at 2:00 p.m., and a reception will immediately follow at the new Student Life and Fitness Center.

Numerous members of the faculty, administration and student body have been working hard in preparation for the inauguration. Inaugural committees include:

Byers to Lecture

by Sandra Freuler

Dr. Inez Byers will lecture on "The New Woman at the Turn of the Century" at 7:30 p.m. on October 5 as part of a series of programs on "The Humanistic Vision of Charlotte Perkins Gilman" sponsored by the YWCA.

Presenting Gilman in a historical context, Dr. Byers will portray her as a "new woman" who broke out of the old concept of woman's nature and fear.

"New Woman", a phrase used at the turn of the century, applies to women who were concerned with their right to vote, economic and social rights, and those wanting a better lifestyle for all individuals.

According to Dr. Byers, Gilman possessed a utopian vision of the male-female relationship, seeing so much of the hidden potential in women. She was an early voice of economic liberation for women, believing women should define their own roles in nature.

Dr. Byers believes the entire series on Gilman will be of great interest to Salem students, as it explains where women have come from as a result of the "new woman."

The lectures are held at the YWCA, 1201 Glade Street, and are free.

The last public lecture of the series, "Changing Lives and Changing Spaces" will be on October 19.
