 The 1991-1992 staff and editors would like to congratulate the 1992-1993 staff. Good Luck!

great year. I'll miss all of you! Keep in touch and best wishes throughout your lives.

I, Jennifer King, of somewhat sound mind and body, leave the following: To Charla, I leave my PChem notebook, my constitutions, an ad for the handbook, my senior seminar abstract, one of my polka dot hair ribbons, a doggie bag from Ryan's, the rest of my burned-out academic brain, a lot of good luck for an awesome senior year, and I leave you a wonderful friend.

To Allison Burkette: A well-trained VP, more good talks over breakfast in the Refectory, and a wish for a wonderful presidency.

To my little sister Elizabeth: The hopes she will get as wonderful a little sister as I did and two awesome years at Salem.

To all of the members of the tennis team: The purple strings from my purple tennis racquet.

To Coach McEwen: I leave behind the person that taught me the most about life and I just want to say, "You are the best! Keep doing what you are doing!"

To my adopted little sister Kristin: Money for you to attend a PICA leadership conference again, some deep talks over yogurt, a gorgeous man (we both wish), an awesome little sister, and a wish for you to have two wonderful years here at Salem.

To English: You-know-who's head on a silver platter, free tutoring if you decide to move on to PChem next year (J/K), and a special wish for a very fulfilling life which I am confident you will find.

To Gretchen: A trip to Wilmington to come sail with me and the responsibility of making sure the tennis team eats out at only the best places, and patience on the court.

To Julie Tierney: My consistency even though you don't need it.

To Cindy Burnette: My swim cap-you are awesome in the water.

To all of the freshmen on the tennis team: An undefeated senior year wish.

To Rebecca: Good talks and walks around Hanes Park, a bag of practical jokes to keep using, and a special wish for happiness at Salem.

To Nina: My first Fall Fest t-shirt from junior year (thanks) and all of my Salem spirit because you are so good at showing school spirit.

To Cary: My Fall Fest notebook, a fun and deep friend, and a wish that your last two years are as good as your first two here.

To Deana Bass: A car for trips home, and more importantly, I leave you with my admiration - you've got a lot of potential. And a prayer for a happy future.

I, Mary Lawson Stephens do hereby bequeath:

To Cary: My size 28, Texas Club, dance partner, the ability to practice two-step-pin' and watch CMT until 5:00 a.m. when assignments are due at 8:00 a.m.

Also, a pal to carry out late night campus escapades which include: fence climbing, square running, fire escape obstacles, window entrances in science hall, tractor sitting, and cheers in the May Dell. It is with great excitement that I leave to you tons of Gap week-ends riding on designated trails and romancing the "Ben Buchanon" of your dreams, lots of lazy nap days listening to Kethcum, Wynonna, Bennet, etc., the bike of your dreams (HARLEY-perhaps?) and most of all, prayers for an awesome two more years at Salem. C. YEAH! PLUNGE TIME! Always carry a map and don't be sayin' "I miss my Mary and don't pass the point of Rescue even if you see the light in his window from a lmountain cathedral!"

To English: Early morning (in thick fog), mid-afternoon, and dark, late night runs. Lots more runs where you can go to Wake and end up just visiting a special Mr. Friend, and many more "hills" from Reynolda; Carbo-loads, marathon dreams (I know we'll both do it), life-time subscriptions to all the greatest running magazines, and the hopes that no matter how old - we can still run and meet for dinner. Thanks for always getting me going.

To Deana: A nonstop-roundtrip ticket to EXIT 53, unlimited yogurt (chocolate pieces in fruit flavors! UGH!), all of our favorite Dolly Parton tapes to keep you crying, a well-charged battery, an official replica of the PHS jug because we both know where it belongs, Ben Lewis' phone number so you can plan the wedding, a big hug because I'm so thankful for your friendship. And last but not least, MY SCORPION PIN with all of the membership priviledges - NOT! See you at Ryan's - I WON!

To Nina: Access to 106.1 & 104.1 on all trips so you can always have good, ole Columbus country music to keep you truckin' through the southern states and an eternal invitation to be my spend-the-night company anytime you want in Bitting 103 or elsewhere.

To Jennifer: Prayers for a great three more years - I'm so glad you are a part of God's doing here!

... SALEM is an incredible family and I'm so pleased that you girls will be here to enjoy it. LOVE, HUGS, AND PRAYERS. PHILLIPIANS 1: 3-8.

I, Hanan Abdul-Rahim, being of sound mind and body (NOT!!), do hereby leave the following:

To Nina: my dearest little sister, thanks for all the wonderful memories. You were a wonderful freshman to share the hall with and an even more wonderful little sister to share laughs and stress with. I know you will do wonderful things here at Salem, and I wish you all the best. Keep in touch!!

To Sarah, Gwen, Betsy, Michelle, and Steffan: good luck next year. I know you all have a lot to do here and that you will all be very busy. Thank you for the most wonderful year and for being the best hallmates. I love you all soooo much. Also, I leave you secure in the knowledge that you don't have to listen to my loud stereo playing the same songs over and over. Gwen and Sarah, wait for that 3am "I DID IT!!" call. Watch "Northern Exposure" and think of all of us, especially me, watching it in the middle of a corn field in Illinois. I will miss you guys very much. I love you.

To Kristen and Caroline: Waah! can you believe it's over? Good luck to all of us in graduate school. I had the best time with you guys, and I will never forget you. Thanks for your "senior dinner tips" Kris! you KNOW I'll be using them soon, and you will hear ALL about it. Let's keep in touch. Friends always!

To Jennifer Pratt: thanks for your "magic drinks." Seriously though, thanks for everything and for being a great friend. By the way, Danielle says to remember "just lay still...etc." I think you know the rest. Good luck to you my favorite Laurenberg girl.

To Tara: I don't know what I'll do without you either! I mean I don't count fruit flies with just anybody. Remember senior sem stress, bugging you in the library, but most of all remember that I will always be your friend. Please keep in touch!

To Danielle: I don't even know where to start. We have shared so much that it's hard to even try to count. I've learned so much from you, from laundry tips to "information management" to learning how to try to be a better person. I owe you so much. Thank you for being the best roommate anyone can ever have. I love you, and I want you to remember that you are my best friend.

I, Anna Katherine Harris, being of sound mind and not-so-skinny body bequeath to many people many things: To Heather Morgan: I leave many late nights at miscellaneous bars, cute guys (not Booger), and yummy mixed drinks at the bar of her choice, many pairs of Ann Taylor earrings, huge bozangas, and a life of cute Gaahp guys.

To Dr. Farris: I leave all of my worldly possessions, lots of red lipstick kisses on Buffy's head, the sanity that comes with living with Brihonk, and a unlimited supply of Tyranno Toes.

To Herr Steiner: I leave many, many, many hours of Deutsch Sprache.

To my little sister: I bequeath many hours of Edpsych study, endless amounts of nice men and a twelve pack of champagne.

To Nina: I leave a unlimited supply of bright, red lipstick, our same haircut, and a Volvo wagon (sans mutilation.)

To all of my Texas legacies: I leave a lack of homesickness for the Lone Star State, lots of good Mexican food and real margaritas and shopping Houston style. To Jimmeister; I hereby bequeath the mountains (with a mountain momma there), beers at O'Casey's, and a 38DD bra with shorts and duckboots upon entering the Refectory.

To the Salem campus and community: I leave my lovely ensembles: The purple bathrobe accompanied by blue goggles, racing suit, and yellow cap, and the belted graduation gown accessorized with scarves and jewelry. In addition, I leave the ability to be obnoxious, zanily dressed and unique to all my sisters to come.

Finally, and most importantly, I leave to Brigid Flora Viguerie (my Dalinian crutch) all of the wonderful times we've had together and those to come, as well as:

- 1) I'll ride with you!
- 2) Lucky Dooooo!!
- 3) Reagan, Dan, and hurt eyes from the Black bear
- 4) Unlimited Coronas
- 5) "Security, sneaking a snack."
- 6) "This yeah, Halloween fell on a week-end.
- 6 1/2) "A car free from demoniac, drug-crazed damage.
- 7) _____ Nose (fill your in choice)
- 8) Big boobs
- 9) No weight gain after consuming mass quantities of chocolate
- 10) Endless amounts of love, devotion, and permanent friendship.

I, Amy Williamson, being of sound mind and unemployed body, do hereby bequeath the following to:

Gwenster - someone to introduce us, lots of giraffes, a ream of paper for Gwen's Gossip and lots of love and best wishes for your next two years. Sarah - the care and feeding of Dr. Borwick and a semester at MOMA. Laura P - all the Charlie Chaplin movies you can stand. Anita - volume control for your answering machine, a new boy every week, and a popcorn popper for exams - so you can popcorn in the hall. Tina - a wonderful senior year and lots of luck in everything you do Allie B - a map to the airport and time to get there, my phone number at the gas station for frequent updates
