

They'll Do It Every Time

"The photographer is here!" is shouted until it reaches every nook and corner. The high school girls quickly dab on powder and paint, stick in the last hairpin, and sneak to the end of the line so as to have that affected smile perfect.

Believe me the boys make use of their combs too.

On the other hand, the grammar grade students never think of this, and just see whose pictures are better!

School Enjoys Basketball Game

Since the Bailey basketball teams have been unable to get games with other teams because of rationing, the coaches decided to divide the girls' team and the boys' team thus making four teams and letting them play each other.

An exciting rally in the last period highlighted the girls' game. The team led by Melbe Jean Stott won over the other by a margin of three points.

In the boys' game the score was constantly close with the team paced by Horace High and Tommy Etheridge pulling away in the last quarter to win.

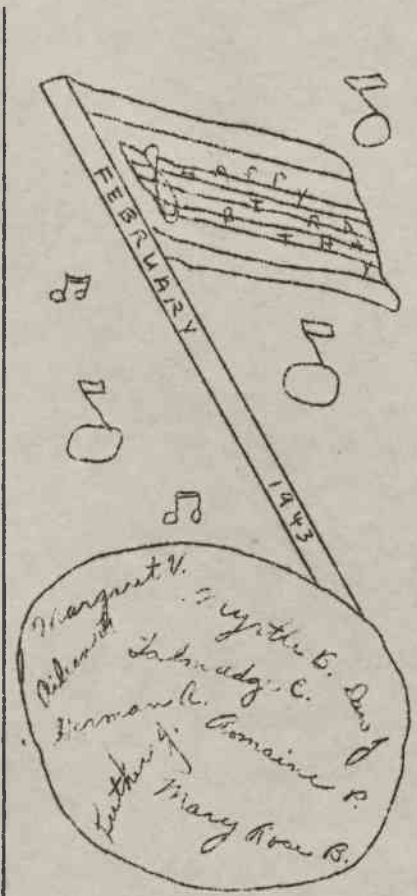

Added Honor For Bugle

Delayed message from Columbia Scholastic Press announces that Bailey was chosen as one among the highest ten percent of those rating first place in the 1942 journalism contest. A bronze medal was sent the school as an award.

Class Activities Vary For English Work

Creative work in the form of displaying word meanings, drawing pictures representing certain stories, dramatizing acts, or displaying characters is the approved method used by Mrs. Farmer and has to be done at the end of each unit by all her English students.

More interest in nutrition is noticed when speeches are made rather than when assignments are made in the text book is the opinion of Mrs. Rogers.
