BAILEY WINS SECOND PLACE IN PROCEDURE CONTEST

Competing in the parliamentary procedure contest conducted during a regular Nash-Edgecombe federation meeting in the Middlesex agricultural building, March 6, the Bailey team, consisting of Isaac Medlin, Harry Lee Nixon, Irvin Finch Jr., and Keith Glover, won second place. Middlesex rated first.

After numbers were drawn to determine the order of competing, rules of the contest were explained by T. B. Elliott, district F. F. A. supervisor.

At the beginning of each demonstration the presiding officer drew a card containing four items of business to be disposed of by his team. The president then read the subject, explained the requirements to the judges, and turned the card over to the secretary.

Following the opening ceremony the secretary re-read each of the four subjects and abilities, which were then discussed and disposed of separately. The closing ceremony concluded the procedure.

The Middlesex team, by disposing of their business with the least number of mistakes, was placed first by the judging committee, consisting of the advisors of the competing chapters.

Shop Work Continues

Repair and construction work has consumed most of the shop hours of the Bailey Future Farmers for the past few weeks.

To gain skill and practice in woodwork, the ag. boys have made radio tables, what-nots, tooth brush holders, chicken brooders, hog feeders, and numerous other useful articles.

Working with the assortment of power tools and hand tools available in the shop gains for the classes experience, and at the same time serves as an opportunity to practice safety measures constantly.

VETERANS ORGANIZE AMERICAN LEGION

During the first meeting of the Bailey Chapter of the American Legion held in the agriculture building February 25, fifty members were enrolled.

Commander Whitley, Mr. Vance Morgan, Mr. Adkins, and Mr. Boyd from the Wilson chapter were present at the meeting to help with the organization.

Officers for the new chapter were elected as follows:

Commander---Dan E. Christian
First Vice-commander--
Earnest R. Francis

Second Vice-commander-
Ed Cozart
Adjutant-Finance officer
Thomas Finch
Chaplain---R. W. Jones
Sgt. of Arms-John M. Sanders

The veterans will hold their regular meetings on the first Monday night of each month.

All veterans of World War I and II with an honorable discharge are eligible to join the organization and are invited to attend the meetings in the Bailey Ag. building.

BOSWELL NEW ADVISOR

I. D. Boswell is now teaching the Bailey agricultural classes, replacing Thomas Finch, who has been directing the ag. work since Leamon Tapp's resignation.

Thomas Finch, former FFA advisor, stopped teaching to begin work on the farm. Mr. Boswell will continue these duties for the remainder of the year.
