

Shut-Ins Receive Gifts From Grademothers

Grademothers from Miss Alice Hardy's third grade donated presents to two elementary shut-in students.

Shorty Wells, hurt by an automobile, received from the grademothers, Mrs. M. B. Glover, Mrs. Jasper Finch, Mrs. Dan Christian, and Mrs. Fred Smith, a pair of pajamas and a sunshine basket.

Donee also was Judy Smith, who is in bed with rheumatic fever. The grademothers presented her with an Easter basket and a book entitled "The Bobbsey Twins."

Grades Portray Spring

Three lower grades brought spring to life in the program presented at the P.T.A. last Thursday evening in the cafeteria auditorium.

Mrs. Altermise Glover's second grade gave "The Magic Carpet"; Miss Alice Hardy's third, "Springtime"; Mrs. E. H. Paschall's fourth was in charge of the Easter devotion.

During the business hour Principal Weaver reported that the committee composed of a parent and a teacher from each county school would like to have any criticism that any teacher or parent has to offer regarding the elementary report cards.

He said that he would be glad to convey to the committee any criticisms from this school.

Class Play Reveals Seniors' Talent

"Sweet Ann Page", the musical operetta presented last Friday evening by the senior class, gave evidence of the talent of the senior class as a whole, since 75% of the class participated in the performance," is the belief of the Senior Sponsor, Mrs. L. T. Lassiter, and music director, Miss Nancy Dickens.

Spring In Evidence In Classrooms

Evidenced in every elementary classroom is the fact that spring has arrived. Work of the students give proof of this fact.

Students of grades two through eight have prepared plaques, drawings, or cut-outs of birds, have posted drawings of summer days, and collected wild-flowers, cocoons, and tadpoles.

A black board frieze in Mrs. R. G. L. Edwards's room illustrates the "Stories of Uncle Remus" by George H. Harris and was made by eighth grade students Carroll Bottoms, Lane Farmer, Barbara Boykin, Martha Thigpen, Petty Sue Boykin, Clara Morgan, Curtis Moore, Cecil Pearson, Richard Privette, and Keith Vick.

Third grade students of Miss Alice Hardy and sixth-fifth grade students of Mrs. Sara S. May have prepared boxes of flower and vegetable seed.

Physics Class Takes State Test

State physics test, sponsored by the University of North Carolina annually, were given to physics students last Friday, confirmed M. W. Weaver, principal.

"I just like to see how we rank with other schools in the state. This is the

FAVORABLE COMMENTS
That the audience appreciated this talent can be attested by the favorable comments heard during the past week from those attending.

The mixture of music, comedy, and romance, found in the operetta made its appeal to all.

VARIETY
It was this variety of plot that enabled a large per cent of the class to have a part in the play. Those not actually performing on the stage had supporting roles in the form of publicity, stage construction, selling tickets, ushering, lights and curtains, making of programs, and prompting.

As the curtains were raised, a full house greeted the performers. From that moment on, the audience remained attentive, their applause revealing their responsiveness.

third year Bailey has participated in this academic contest," says Principal Weaver.

Dealing with "Mechanics and Heat", the papers will be graded by university professors, and each competing school will receive its rating.
