Seen-All the medallions the girls in high school are wearing? (Really attractive with your sweaters, girls!)

Mrs. Lassiter carrying her Chrysler convertible around? (She really did)

Louise Wells' ruppy collar?

The new pictures in Miss Oglesby's home room? (Surely are pretty.)

The record Stella Jones is keeping, listing each of her school expenses-just to see how much one year of school costs?

Any freshmen around here with their blouses on the wrong side? (Initiation day.)

Heard-Comments made on how noisy the students are becoming? (Let's be a little quieter, please!)

You can hire judy Lamm and Paula Ann Horner to do any extra typing you might have? (They're really very accurate.)

Arbadella Davis advertizing pears for sale? (Is it really true?)

The time it took the stu- Juniors Remember Sick

Juniors remaining out of school because of illness are "cheered" by small remembrances from their classmates, reports Betty Lou Brown, social chairman of her grade.

The eleventh grade sends a flower or a sunshine box, or what ever the class decides upon, and a get-well card to the ones sick in the hospital.

Those out for sickness three days receive a get-well card.

dents to get out of the school building when we had fire drill? (One minute, 50 seconds.)

Mrs. Farmer graduated from Mt. Pleasent High School?

That the eleventh grade exceeded their $1000 goal in their magazine subscription contest?
