

What's In A Name? -----

By Carolyn Finch

Again: this month we ask "What's in a name?", stressing particularly ~~Does~~ a name characterize certain qualities of success? If so, many students in Bailey are headed for dignity, fame, and good fortune. Remember how much we Americans owe to the naval activities of John Paul Jones during the Revolutionary War? Will America be able to look up to the Jones of BHS Carroll, Betty Lou, Stella, and Clarence--with the same admiration?

What is more annoying than a cold! Many of us turn to Vicks-Vapor-Rub to get relief. If Charles, Sylvia, Rex, Martha Jane, and Polly Ann live up to the name Vick, who knows what medicine has in store?

Our 17th President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, challenges his namesakes, Doris and Angela, to set their goal high.

John Adams, second President, and John Quincy Adams, sixth President of the United States, had a lot in common, since they were father and son. Carolyn and L. B. are brother and sister; maybe a great honor is theirs too.

Elizabeth Warren has the name of a newly famous American, Earl Warren, our new Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court. Can she possibly match that honor?

If Shirley, Shelby Jean, and Charles Williams ever hope to attain as much success as Ted Williams, they will have to get busy training on the athletic field.

Will Katherine Whitley

ever invent anything like the cotton gin that Eli Whitley did? We wouldn't say NO, since she has indicated she has the brains.

Jimmy Bennet, having the same name as the famous novelist, Arnold Bennet, has a great career as a pattern to follow should he decide to walk in Mr. Bennet's shoes.

Willistine and Violet Cooley have the surname of a North Carolina Congressman, Harold Cooley. They will really have to know their history and practice speechmaking for a while if they ever become Congresswomen.
