

Juniors Feature Music For Enjoyment

"Music is universal in its appeal" were the opening words of Randal Hinton, announcer for the juniors when they gave their musical program at chapel.

The class demonstrated various ways one can enjoy music by the different numbers presented.

C. H. Fries, high school

Supervisor, was a guest participant in the program. He played his harmonica as an accompaniment and also rendered solo numbers.

For devotionals, several members of the class recited Bible verses while Fries played sacred music on his harmonica. Immediately following the devotionals, the class sang God Bless America with Louise Wells playing.

Audrey Finch, accompanied by Sue Weaver, sang Whatever Will Be, Will Be, as another form of enjoying music.

More class talent was displayed by June Vick, playing a piano solo entitled Melody of Love, and Mitchell Beard, giving a trombone solo, Make the Town and Tell the People.

Since dancing is enjoyed by many boys and girls, two couples, Katy Horton and Jimmy Dew, and Audrey Finch and Adrian Mitchell waltzed to the tune of Brahms Waltz in A Flat.

The program ended with the juniors' gathering around the piano singing old favorites.
