

Quakes Defeat Wilson by 20-6 Verdict

Same Score Made in 1929

The Quakes took the Wilson Blue-and-Gold Cyclone into camp by a 20-6 verdict in Wilson, Friday afternoon, October 31. This fracas was one of our annual battles, and as usual was hard fought.

The first half was a very listless one, in Wilson's favor all around. Vick and his three backfield aids made it tough-going for the locals. Time and again they would tear off fairly good gains that looked as if they would score at any time, but the Quakes would put on a little more pressure and prevent their scoring.

The first Quake score came in the opening minutes of the second half after Mason had heaved a 37-yard pass to Giddens, who planted the ball on the 26-yard line. Lynch went around end for seven yards and Mason took it off tackle for four more. Then Lynch lost five yards and Liles failed to connect with a pass from Mason. Mason then heaved another pass to Giddens for twelve yards, and this lad traveled the remaining two yards for a touchdown. A pass from Mason to Giddens netted the extra point. On the kick-off Merritt kicked fifty yards, and Vick made one of the prettiest runs of the game in bringing it back sixty yards. The Blue-and-Gold was fighting desperately, and after a series of line plays and end runs they put the agate over for their only score, as the try for point was wide. Wilson kicked to Merritt for sixteen yards. Then followed a series of plays that took the opponents off their feet, and Lynch took the pigskin over the scoring line from the 2-yard line. The extra point failed.

Merritt then kicked off for forty-five yards to Leach, who started out to run but after ten yards of traveling he found that he did not have the ball. The ball? Yes, he had it only a few seconds before. But where was it? Well, he had fumbled it in a very peculiar manner and Giddens had recovered it on the 34-yard line. The first play found good ole "Monk" totting the ball off tackle for four yards; then another pass from Mason to Giddens netted thirty yards and the third Quake score. Unnecessary roughness on the part of the Wilson left tackle caused the extra point to be redeemed. The end came in a very few minutes and the Quakes had done to the Cyclone just what their predecessors of 1929 had done—beaten them 20-6.

For Wilson the diminutive quarterback, Vick, was the outstanding player. It was due to his good field generalship that the score remained as it was. In the line Burton played a bang-up game as time and again this big tackle stopped some Quake attack. Leach looked best for the opponents on the flank.

Lynch and Mason were the big shots in the locals' backfield and it was their ability to skirt the ends and tear holes in the line that put the locals in a position to score. Lynch was playing a brand of ball that has not been witnessed in local high school circles before this year. He had learned that the best way to carry a ball is not like a "stolen ter mellow," and he was making the Wilson team more miserable each time he toted the agate. Liles couldn't get going in this contest, but his defensive play was extremely good. In the line Merritt, Bland, and Pate were the luminous powers; time after time they made the Wilson backs sick. Giddens at end played a great game and his pass snatching as well as defensive work were both high pointers in the locals' play.

Summary: Substitutions: Quakes, Eaton for Giddens, Daughtery for Bland, Worrell for Hobson, Cooper for Hooks; Wilson: Webb for Massey, Overman for Walston, Massey for Webb, Whitley for Stamper, Amerson for Leach, Barnes for J. Dilly, and Brown for Burton. First downs: Quakes, eleven; Wilson, five. Passes attempted: Quakes, five; Wilson, six. Completed passes: Quakes, three; Wilson, three. Ground gained on passes: Quakes, eighty-two yards; Wilson, twenty-eight yards.

SPORTRAITS

By RALPH GIDDENS

Well, all I know is just what somebody tells me or I overhear by accident, but it seems that basketball is in the air. Yeah, football is all gone and with it went one of the outstanding players of recent times in high school circles. This lad was none other than "good ole Monk" Mason. Monk closed his football career with a bang-up game with Raleigh Hi on Friday, November 14. We hope that Monk will have success in football wherever he goes next year. This lad has left behind him a record that will be hard to surpass in the future and that has never been equaled in the past.

Henry Liles also closes his high school grid career. Captain "Crabman" is another lad who has had a very successful course and his place will be a hard one to fill.

Did you come out to see the All Star-Quake game? Well it sho' was a humdinger. That kind of football is rarely seen around this man's fair city.

Well, with basketball just around the corner we have something else to look forward to. The Quakes are going to have a real good team this season. There will be Liles, Hooks, Hawley, and Merritt back from last year's squad with a fairly good bunch of green material to work into a first class team and subs. Dollar says Liles is high point collector again this year. Wanna bet?

I speck I had better say something about the girls' sextette aspirants. We have Mary Alice Dewey, McArn Best, Nancy Bridgers, Louise Davis, Catherine Liles, Helen Ellinwood, Hilda Pearsall, and Margaret Underwood back from last year's "Ladies" team. This will be a big help to Miss Janie's hopes for the coming season. I hope I haven't left any of the hopefuls that were on last year's team out 'cause Miss Janie doesn't like for me to write with partiality. So if I've been neglectful let me know and I will correct it.

Mr. Bullock has had a good deal of exercise since the team gave him those loud pajamas—they were so loud that "Anne, Jr." was unable to sleep and he had to walk the floor with her 'till wee small hours of the morning.

Raleigh High Wins East Championship

Quakes Held to Zero Score

Friday, November 14, Raleigh High defeated the G. H. S. Earthquakes in a bitterly fought contest, assuring themselves of the Eastern Championship. Although the Quakes held the Capital city lads scoreless in the first half, they were overwhelmed in the second. The Quakes had the edge on Raleigh in the first half, making four first downs to Raleigh's two, but nothing important happened. The exchanging of punts featured the play. At the beginning of the second quarter Kametches went in for Womble. This flashy little back demonstrated some real football during the remainder of the game.

At the beginning of the second half Raleigh came out with new pep and energy. It seemed that the Quakes were unable to stop the continuous onslaught of their opponents. After an exchange of punts at the beginning of the third quarter, the boys from Raleigh took the ball down the field for the first touchdown of the game. Kametches carried it over after a pass from Dunnaway. The extra point was obtained by a pass from Kametches to Paul. The next score did not come until the fourth quarter. Kametches and Ferrel led an attack that started in midfield and did not end until the ball was on the wrong side of the goal line.

Kametches again took the "skin" over for the score. Ferrel made the extra point through the line. A few plays after the kick off, Kametches intercepted Mason's pass, leading the way to the last touchdown. A fifteen yard penalty against the Quakes also contributed to that last score. Womble carried the "pill" over for the six points after snatching a short pass from Kametches. This same combination netted the extra point.

For the locals Liles and Mason received the backfield honors, while Bland, Pate, and Hobson looked best in the line. For the Wake county lads Ferrel and Kametches were the luminaries of the backfield, while Bailey and Cox were the best linesmen. Ellisberg was the outstanding man.

Sadie Reid: I hear that Ralph was knocked out while playing on the eleven.

Nancy Bridgers: No, while the eleven were playing on him.

Quakes Play Wildcats to a 7-6 Score

Long Runs Feature Game

The Goldsboro High Quakes took the big end of a 7-6 score from the Wilmington Wildcats in Goldsboro, Friday afternoon, November 7, in one of the hardest fought games of the season. The game was featured by plenty of action and long runs. These were maneuvered by Mason, Lynch, and Liles for the locals and by the Robinson brothers for the Wildcats. The main thrill of the game came in the closing minutes of the game when E. Robinson intercepted a Quake pass on his own goal line and dashed 100 yards down the sideline for the only Wildcat score.

The locals played a beautiful game of football. In the third quarter of the game they bucked up and held the visitors for downs when it looked as if the Wildcats were going to score from the locals' four-yard line. The locals scored in the opening minutes of the game when at the end of a series of line plays and end runs Lynch took the ball over for the score. A pass from Mason to Giddens netted the extra point. Then the fun began. From the kickoff Wilmington started an attack that looked as if they intended to pay back the Quakes' visit to their goal, but the Quakes finally turned them back and took the ball down the field out of danger.

In the last quarter the Quakes were within scoring distance twice, but the Wildcats held them for downs after they had smothered a would-be pass the first time. Then Robinson intercepted the pass to make the last Quake try no good. The teams were well matched; it was a nip-and-tuck affair from the start, and, as has been suggested before, the final whistle was the deciding point of the game.

For Wilmington, the Robinson brothers were the big stars in the backfield, while Fonvielle, Gilliard, and Beasley were the big stars in the line. These boys were the cause of plenty of worry for the Quakes; it was their playing that kept the Quakes from scoring again and made it possible for their own team to score.

For the Quakes Lynch, Mason, Hooks, and Captain Liles were the best in the backfield, while Bland, Pate, and Giddens were the line stars.

The line-up reads like this:

Quakes	Position	Wildcats
Bland	left tackle	Gilliard
Pate	center	Blackstork
Hobson	right guard	Jones
Hawley	right tackle	Beasley
Harky	right end	Hoggard
Mason	quarterback	R. Robinson (capt.)
Hooks	right halfback	Fox
Lynch	fullback	E. Robinson

GIRLS BEGIN BASKETBALL

Four Veterans Report

On Monday, November 3, the girls' basketball team of G. H. S. began practice for what promises to be a very successful year for the girls; for they hope to win many victories. Although Katherine Liles, Nancy Bridgers, McArn Best, and Mary Alice Dewey are the old veteran members of the varsity team of last year, the coach, Miss Ipock, has some promising material with which to work; and she predicts that a splendid team will result from hard practice.

Lucy LeRoy, the manager of the team, and Mary Alice Dewey, the captain, are doing all they can to stimulate and keep up the interest; and they need the hearty cooperation of the school as well as that of the team.

Although the varsity team has several games in view in the future, inter-class games will precede any out-of-town games which are scheduled.

SNAKE LIKES GIRL

Apparently the interest in snakes has revived. Cecil Hobson recently brought a green snake about a foot and a half long to school. The snake was found in the lockers after the Rocky Mount game. Cecil brought his new pet home. After being exhibited to the girls here at school, the snake promptly forsook Cecil and nothing more has been seen of him.

Vernon Glisson also had a snake which he caught on the boys' yard one recess. The snake was a hog nose adder and about a foot long. Vernon said he was going to keep his snake and raise a lot of little snakes.
