

Students Entering Musical Festival In Greensboro

Six Individuals and the Glee Club Will Participate in Events of Nineteenth Annual Contest

A number of GHS students will enter the Nineteenth Annual State Contest and Festival that is being held at the Woman's College, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, April 19-22.

Those representing GHS as soloists are: Genevieve Hodgkin, soprano; Jane Smith, alto; Ike Manly, tenor; and Thomas Snypes, base. Virginia Modlin will represent the school in piano and Mary Mitcham, in the Junior High School piano division.

Those making up the Glee Club that are in Greensboro are: Philippa Best, Mildred Bass, Edith Huffman, Ruby Ball, Hazel Whitley, Susan Mooring, Alma Ball, Olivia Cox, Emma Cole, Edna Cole, Jean Denmark, Marjorie James, Martha Bass, Harriet Kelly, Helen Kannon, Jean Arment, Louise Kannon, Helen Flowers, Doris Rose, Carrie Helen Best, Jane Smith, Ercell Allen, Helen Johnson, Elizabeth Royal, Aileen Herring, Annie Wellons, and Rosette Farfour (pianist).

The judges for the contest this year are: Mr. Edwin Hughes, one of America's foremost piano teachers; Mr. Max T. Krone, Northwestern University voice teacher; and Frank Simon, teacher of instrumental music at Cincinnati Conservatory and director of the Armeo Band over NBC Sunday afternoons.

Last year 4,796 students were registered in the state and district contests, and 147 of these were represented in one or more events in the state contest.

Except in the band contests, all schools that are entering are Class A high schools having an enrollment over 600; Class B, an enrollment between 250 and 600; and Class C, an enrollment under 250.

All contestants are given a rating as follows: Honor rating I, excellent; honor rating II, very good; honor rating IV, average; and honor rating V, below average. This plan makes it possible for one entry to outrank others by one or more ratings; on the other hand the judge may give equal ratings to those of practically equal excellence.

Those competing in the tryouts on April 9 in GHS were: sopranos:

GHS Chosen for Research By Southern Association

GHS has been selected as one of three schools in North Carolina for experimentation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

This announcement was made by Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, chairman of the North Carolina commission on secondary schools of the Association, who stated that two more schools in North Carolina would be chosen for the same research project.

Dr. F. C. Jenkins, Executive Secretary of the Association, explained that Goldsboro was one of the few schools in the South that have already been selected. He also is planning a meeting of delegates from the selected schools of North Carolina in Raleigh some time in May.

Fred Raymond...James Vinson, Jr.
Jenny Lind White

Carolyn Langston
Clara Woppinger.....Evelyn Colie
Amy Woppinger

Dorothy Turlington
John Finn.....Glenwood Johnson
Tom Sawyer.....Clarence Gudger

"Huckleberry Finn," the play of the year, will be presented tonight at 8:00 in the GHS auditorium by the class of '39. This long-awaited-for play is filled with romance and humor originated by Mark Twain, America's number one humorist.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Bell, the cast of ten has been practicing since the latter part of February. There is no one leading role in the play; however Legh Scott, Jr., is taking the title character of Huckleberry Finn, and Clarence Gudger is taking the part of Tom Sawyer, Huck's friend.

The scene opens with Jenny Lind, the colored cook, doing the daily cleaning in Aunt Polly's home. Aunt Polly comes home from church where she has been greatly embarrassed by one of Huck's boyish pranks of letting his pet rats loose. With great emotion the plot is carried on from this point. Finally it involves a love story between Ruth Watson and Fred Raymond. Fred meets astounding difficulties which he overcomes. The entire play is colored by the lovable, brave, and courageous character of Huckleberry.

Committees

Those serving on committees are as follows:

Publicity—Mayre Best as chairman with Mary L. Parks, Virginia Modlin, and Miss Ida Gardner as adviser; ticket—Olivia Ferguson, chairman, assisted by Addison Hawley

Junior Marshals

Due to the growing number of people that the marshals are required to handle, the number of marshals for this year has been increased from 10 to 15. Marshals are chosen purely on scholarship basis.

Staff To Send Three To Press Convention

Helen Moye, Nancy Pipkin, and Addison Hawley have been chosen by the Hi News staff to represent GHS at the second annual meeting of the North Carolina High School Press Institute, April 26-27, at Chapel Hill.

The purpose of this organization is to give the members of high school newspapers a chance to discuss their problems and give suggestions to each other.

The Daily Tar Heel of the University of North Carolina, the only college in the South publishing a daily paper, sponsors the Press Institute which was organized to further the journalistic and literary work in North Carolina.

Last year five members of the staff attended the meeting which initiated the institute.

In addition to the official delegates, Helen Moye, editor; Nancy Pipkin, assistant editor; Addison Hawley, assistant managing editor, a number of unofficial delegates are expected to attend.

Public Will Be Given Chance To Observe Goldsboro Schools

To Replace Annual School Fair; Classes Will Be Carried On As Usual During All School Day

An Open House Week, April 26 through 28, has been planned throughout the entire Goldsboro School System to give the parents a view of the work the students are doing.

The Open House has been arranged to replace the annual school fair, which was a display of the work that the students did in that school year.

During this time classes will be carried on just as usual and visitors will be invited to observe the class at work. The buildings will also be open in the afternoon for inspection.

Wednesday will be Primary day, Thursday Grammar School day, and Friday High School day. The only night program will be given by the High School Friday night in the auditorium.

The High School program:
Afternoon Program: 4:00 to 5:00.
Selections by the band.
Introductory remarks by James Heyward.

6th-7th Grades Begin Student Associations

With Hilda Liles and Herbert Barbour leading the sixth and seventh grades respectively, the Grammar School Student Associations are progressing rapidly.

The other officers of the seventh grade are: vice president, Nancy Paige Swift; and secretary-treasurer, Hilda Bell; and the sixth grade officers: vice president, Frank Roberts; recording secretary, Virginia Faison; and treasurer, Susan Griffin.

In a recent interview Herbert Barbour, the seventh grade president, stated that the association is run on the same basis as the GHS association. Their constitution is on the order of the GHS constitution, with the council made up of representatives from each homeroom. These representatives not only represent their homerooms but are chairmen of the various committees.

The seventh grade council consists of: Arthur Culbertson, representative from Miss Barclay's room, chairman of Boys' Athletic Committee, advised by Miss Judd; Ruth Weil, representative from Mrs. Hawley's room, chairman of the Library committee, advised by Miss Barclay; Helen Denning, representative from Miss Ipock's room, chairman of the Constitution committee, advised by Miss Leroy; Barbara Edwards, representative from Miss Leroy's room, chairman of Girls' Athletic Committee, advised by Miss Judd.
