Fund Of $380 Is Left By Staff Of The 1945 Gohisca

The staff of Gohisca, the GHS annual, has left a sinking fund of approximately $380 to be used in the next two years to continue the publication of Gohisca according to an announcement made by Charles Britt, editor-in-chief, at Class Day exercises on June 1.

The fund is left with the provision that if the classes of '47 and '48 do not continue to publish Gohisca, the money will be given to the journalism department to equip an up-to-date dark room and purchase a copy desk for an editorial room.

Charles Britt and Linwood Braswell, business manager, are members of the permanent committee to handle this fund, which will be deposited in the Branch Banking and Trust Company in Goldsboro until needed. The Senior Class will be reimbursed $134.76 for the engraving plates of the senior pictures.

This profit is due to two factors: the order for the covers of the book was not placed soon enough to obtain as substantial a cover as was intended; and the business staff did an excellent job. Anne Stowe, advertising manager, and her group of workers sold $973 worth of ads, Linwood and his assistants sold 330 copies of the book.

The average cost of the annual for each senior was four dollars ($2.50 for the book and $1.50 for the glossy picture).

Subscriptions to the Hi News and admittance to athletic games are not included in the compulsory fee. These items will be on a voluntary basis.

A compulsory activity ticket priced at $2.75 was defeated by a vote of 182 to 80. This activity ticket would have given students the privilege of attending all home athletic events, SA Socials, and entitled them to 8 issues of the Hi News at a saving of approximately $5.00.

The plan for athletics next year is for each student who attends the events to pay a student admission of $2.25 plus tax.

The price of the Hi News is expected to remain at $.50 per year or $.10 a copy.
