

Goldsboro Hi News

THE NEWSPAPER OF THE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Volume XX

Goldsboro, N. C., Wednesday, November 27, 1946

Number 2

District Teachers Meet at GHS

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the North Central District teachers association of the North Carolina Educational Association met at Goldsboro High School on November 1, 1946.

W. M. Jenkins, superintendent of the Durham County Schools and president of the district, presided at the meeting.

There were two general sessions at which C. W. Phillips, director of public relations at the Woman's College and president of the NCEA, and Dr. Clyde A. Miller, president of Guilford College, were the principal speakers.

At two o'clock diversional meetings were held. Departmental meetings were held at three-thirty. Officers elected for 1947 were: president, W. R. Whittenton, principal of the Charles B. Aycock High School; Henderson, vice president, Mrs. J. L. Marco, classroom teacher, Raleigh; secretary, Mrs. Rhoda Kelly Hale, classroom teacher, Durham.

Besides Mr. Jenkins, other officers for the year 1946 were: vice president, J. W. Talley, Roanoke Rapids; secretary, treasurer, C. W. Twiford, Goldsboro.

Counties composing the North Central District are: Chatham, Durham, Franklin, Granville, Halifax, Harnett, Johnston, Lee, Moore, Nash, Northampton, Orange, Person, Vance, Wake, Warren, and Wayne.

Marshals were on duty for the morning and evening sessions. Members of the reception committee acted as guides.

Final Football Game Parade Is Staged

The football season was climaxed by a homecoming game, the highlight of which was a parade on November 15, participated in by twenty-two homerooms, led by the high school band and escorted by the police.

The plans for the parade were announced by Principal C. W. Twiford in an assembly held earlier in the week. Each homeroom had a float. The plans were kept secret until the day of the parade when the homerooms met at 2:30 and assembled for the parade.

After the parade marched through the business section of town, they met in front of the courthouse to participate in a pep meeting led by the cheer leaders.

The floats were judged by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The homeroom having the best float was admitted to the game free.

Initial SA Devotional Is Given

The first SA devotional of the year was given on October 16 in the auditorium.

The Glee Club, led by Mr. Roy Russell, first gave a selection, after which Rev. J. W. Hassel, minister of the Edgewood Presbyterian Church, introduced the speaker, Rev. John D. Henderson, Evangelist from Spartanburg, S. C.

"God made life, and life will only work God's way," was one of the points brought out by Rev. Henderson. He also talked about how to live a full life, and make the most of it. He said that a per-

The fox terrier in the above picture must think he is photogenic. When the Hi News photographer was making pictures for this issue, the pup insisted on getting in. Boz Andrews and Marilyn Tolochko made friends with the dog and are shown in the picture.

Seventy Students Make Honor Roll

News Gives Subscription Program

The Hi News netted $232.03 in the subscription drive which began with the appearance of the first issue of the year.

The highlight of the drive was a program given on Friday, October 16, for all students who bought a subscription to the Hi News. Six homerooms are 100 per cent in buying subscriptions.

They are: Miss Frances Bayne's, Miss Elizabeth Grant's, Miss Janie Ippock's, Mr. E. L. Roberts', Miss Ruby Lee Spencer's, and Miss Hyacinth Willis'.

The Hi News program was given by the Folsono Ernieties, with F. W. Stanley as master of ceremonies. Those who took part in the program were Robert Andrews, John Duke, Paul Edmundson, Jack Hauser, Herbert Howell, Chesley Price, John Renn, F. W. Stanley, and Daroh Ward.

The following songs were sung by the group: "No Vacancies," "Home in San Antonio," "The Gypsy," "Mommy, Please Stay Home With Me," "When You Wore a Tulip," "When the World Has Turned You Down," "Old Shep," "To Each His Own," "You Are My Sunshine," and others.

The program was spiced with jokes and Jack Hauser's hot trumpet.

Chesley Price and John Renn had the students calling for encores when they played their string instruments.

Holidays

November 28-29 have been announced as Thanksgiving holidays. Christmas holidays will begin December 20 and last through January 6.

Delegates Attend State NCSCC

At a student association meeting, October 30 in the auditorium, delegates at the North Carolina Student Congress at Lee Education School, Asheville, gangled the trip.

"The Real Purpose of Student Councils" was the theme of the congress.

The panel discussion group of the congress were divided into three sections which discussed student councils promoting better relations between students and administration; student councils dealing with student problems; and student councils as a means of promoting citizenship. Valuable information was gained from these groups.

Delegates were entertained while at the congress by a picnic supper followed by a square dance, and a semi-formal dance preceded by a banquet.

The three delegates were Leonard Fulghum, who spoke about panel discussion group number 2, and Monday night; Erlene Griffin, who spoke on the trip up and discussion group 3; and Herbert Howell, who spoke on Tuesday night and discussion group 1.

Martha Winslow, who attended congress as secretary of Eastern District, spoke on the general session and Monday morning.

Red Cross Drive Pushed Last Week

A total of $33.41 was raised in the Red Cross Drive, which started in Goldsboro High School, Monday, November 11, and ended Friday, November 15.

Charles Ellis, chairman of the Community Service Board, which sponsored the drive, announced that "There will be no definite goal this year, but the committee wants 100 per cent participation from each homeroom."

Rooms having 100 percent were: Miss Sarah Alexander's, Coach Anthony Blyssack's, Mrs. J. E. Britt's, Miss Billie Bryan's, Mrs. Eliza Cox's, Miss Britt Davis', Miss Elizabeth Grant', Miss Janie Ippock's, Miss Carolyn Langston's, Miss Kathleen Mills', Miss Dorothy Reade's, Miss Ruby Rosser's, Mrs. Ruth Shine's, Miss Ruby Lee Spencer's, and Miss Hyacinth Willis'.

Ruth Caudill, Frank Gates, Edwina Hallman, Connie Johnson, Marilyn Johnson, Bett McLawhorn, Sara Jane Pate, Leah Lloyd Riggsbee, Eva Mae Sauls, Susan Smith, Shirley White, and Jean Wiggins.

Navy Band Gives Concerts at GHS

The United States Navy Band on tour with Lieutenant Charles Brender conducting, presented afternoon and evening performances on November 8, 1946 at the Goldsboro High School auditorium under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The concerts were a part of a Farmers Festival sponsored by the Jaycees.

The afternoon program consisted of: (1) "Jack Tar" by John Phillip Sousa; (2) "The Student Prince" by Sigmund Romberg; (3) "On The Trail" from "Grand Canyon Suite" by Ferde Grofe; (4) "Three Blind Mice at a Night Club Floor Show" by Carol Frang-

Cast of "Heaven Can Wait." First row, left to right: Julia Scott, Marilyn Tolochko, Judy Adams, and Wallace Allen. Second row, left to right: Robert Andrews, Mary Rachel Johnson, Carl Casey, and Elwood Reaves.

"Heaven Can Wait" Cast Is Selected

Committees Approved For the SA

In a series of Council meetings beginning October 3 and continuing through November 5 the following students were approved by Council to serve on committees for the school year of 1946-47:

Assembly: Carlton Frederick, Chairman; Jack Hauser, Jerry Sanford, and Kenneth Waters.

Board of Elections: Leah Lloyd Riggsbee, chairman; Donald Barnes, Jimmy Ellis, Laura Lynch, and Tony Abbott. Joe takes the place of Farnsworth and is visible as Joe to the audience, but apparently Jonathan Farnsworth to Mrs. Farnsworth and the public.

Building, Grounds, and Halls: Leonard Fulghum and Shirley White, co-chairman; Le Nelle Edwards, Julian Hill, Troy Pate, and uth Shaver.

Cafeteria: Elwina Miller, chairman; Eloise Balkum, Peggy Britt, Dorothy Lahr, and Carolyn Loftin.

Calendar: Jane Parker, chairman; Patsy Donnell, Ruth Edgerton, Edwina Hallman, and Jackie Price.

Community Service Board: Charles Ellis, chairman; Sally Hood, Carolyn Loftin, Frances Meyers, Betsy Peel and Adeline Vann.

Devotional: Polly Edgerton, chairman; anie Bartlette, Florence Bowden, Audrey Garris, and Sarah Jane Pate.

Flag: Curtis Lancaster- chairman; Joe Bazemore, Walter Culbreth, Paul Pittman, and Alvin Potts.

Library: Mildred Pittman, chairman; Lou Ann Lewis, ean Mc Lawhorn, and Mary Sykes.

Lost and Found: Lewis Bryan, chairman; Jack Borden, Sara Deweew Hunt, Jack Shine, and Rose

"Heaven Can Wait," a comedy-fantasy by Harry Segall, is the first Goldmasquers production for the year, and will first be presented on December 12.

The play is based on the popular motion picture, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." This is the story of a young prize-fighter, Joe Pendleton, who is brought to Mr. Jordan in the "Hereafter" by Messenger, No. 7013. Joe is told that he is dead, but refuses to believe this. Looking up the records, Mr. Jordan finds that Joe is scheduled to live sixty more years; thus he has to find him another body, since his own has been cremated.

The body Mr. Jordan chooses for Joe is that of Jonathan Farnsworth, a cruel and dishonest, but wealthy and famous man, who is about to be murdered by his wife and Tony Abbott. Joe takes the place of Farnsworth and is visible as Joe to the audience, but apparently Jonathan Farnsworth to Mrs. Farnsworth and the public.

The comedy begins when the pompous Farnsworth unaccountably goes into training as a fighter. In addition, Farnsworth suddenly decides to share his wealth and right the wrong he did to charming Bette Logan's father. Bette, having despised Farnsworth, finds herself falling in love with him, and he with her. Just as Joe (still in Farnsworth's body) is about to get a chance to become a famous fighter, Jordan brings the message that Farnsworth does not approve of Joe's treatment of his body (and money) and is raising a fuss in

—See 'HEAVEN,' Page 6—

Fire Prevention Essay Winners Are Announced

Winners from the Goldsboro city schools, of the Fire Prevention essay contest, have been announced.

There were twelve winners, announced Lester High and John Holler, co-chairman of the contest.

Winners from white schools included Jean Odom, fourth grade; "Pat" Pittman, fifth grade; Johnny Russell, sixth grade; Sara Cobb, seventh grade; Martha Kornegry, eighth grade, and Marilyn Tolochko, high school.

Negro school winners included Cathleen White, fourth grade; Gladys Armstrong, fifth grade; Emily Lee Watson, sixth grade; Annie Peach Williams, seventh grade; Oreta Barnes, eighth grade; and Clydelle Green, Dillard High School.

Judges for the contest were: Mrs. Henry Belk, Mrs. A. E. Wilson, and J. H. Hawley. Senior prizes are being donated by merchants of Goldsboro.

"Slate Notes" Broadcast From School

Every Friday morning at 9:30 the "Goldmasquers of the Air" present "Slate Notes," a weekly summary of the happenings in the Goldsboro graded schools.

Each week three different people participate in the broadcast.

The Goldmasquers recently began another radio series, which is broadcast each Wednesday morning. This is a series entitled "Young America Series," and deals with program confronting high school students. Three characters were used in the first broadcast of the series, but each week more characters are added.

Goldsboro High School is one of three schools in the country to have radio broadcasting studios.

20 Veterans Attend Class At Hi School

There are twenty-eight veterans attending high school classes in the afternoon and night.

Subjects taken by them are English, math, physics, typing, biology, bookkeeping, and American History. All of these subjects aren't taken by each student because some are just taking the courses they will need to graduate from high school, and some are taking college preparatory courses.

The veteran students are: George M. Boyden, Bruce Beavers, Warren W. Campbell, Jr., Larry

—See VETERANS, Page 6—

Community Chest Drive Nets Only $70

A total of $70.69 was collected in the Goldsboro High School Community Chest Drive which was held October 24 through October 31.

A program in pantomime, with narrative written by Frank Jeter, Jr., presented by the Goldmasquers under the direction of Mr. Clifton Birton, opened the drive. Those taking part in the program

—See DRIVE, Page 6—