Donald Pike Heads SA For Coming Year; No Opposition

Donald Pike automatically became SA president for the '47-'48 school year due to no opposition in the past week's election.

Also elected without opposition were Janie Bartlette, corresponding secretary; and Billy Winslow, treasurer.

Elections were held this week. The executive board composed of SA officers nominated Donald Pike, president; Polly Edgerton, vice president; Janie Bartlette, corresponding secretary; Evelyn Barbee, recording secretary; Billy Winslow, treasurer; and Herman Vinson, head cheerleader. Nominated by petitions were Kenneth Waters, vice president; Lillian Overman, recording secretary; and Eunice Bizzell, head cheerleader.

The schedule for the election was as follows: Wednesday, April 23, SA nominations announced; From Wednesday until Friday, April 25, nominations by petitions; Friday, April 25, registration; Monday, April 28, campaign speeches; and Tuesday, April 29, vote. Revotes will be held if necessary.

Board of Elections headed by Leah Lloyd Rigsbee and composed of Marilyn Tolochko, Laura Lynch, Bryan Sutton, Martha Ann Rose, and Jimmy Ellis, was in charge of the election. Miss Carolyn Langston and Miss Ruby Rossler are advisors.

The committee endeavored to arouse as much interest as possible in the election by bringing the county voting booths to the school for the occasion.

Six Students Attend Meet In Edenton

Goldsboro High School was represented at the district meeting of the North Carolina Student Council Congress in Edenton on April 11, 1947, by Polly Edgerton, Leonard Fulghum, Jane Parker (official delegates), and Eunice Bizzell, Charles Ellis (unofficial delegates). Martha Winslow also went as secretary of the Eastern District. Miss Elizabeth Grant went as advisor to the group.

Leonard Fulghum led one of the discussion groups entitled "Youth's Preparation for Later Life." The general theme of the meetings was "The Outlook of Youth's Future."

The Goldsboro delegates left for Edenton about 6:00 A. M. Friday and returned on Saturday afternoon.

A dance was given on Friday night for the delegates, with an orchestra from E. C. T. C. featured. Superintendent J. G. McCracken of the Elizabeth City school gave the principal address.

Winslow-Howell Are Most Representative

Martha Winslow and Herbert Howell have been selected the most representative girl and boy in GHS by the student body. This is the second year Martha has been chosen most representative.

It took two ballots to select these students. Ruth Caudill and Robert Andrews were runner-up in the election.

Nominations were made by the senior class and votes were cast by all classes.

Those on the first ballot were:

Martha Winslow, Ruth Caudill, Mary Ann Jeffreys, Susan Smith, Margie Perry, Jayne Grant, girls; and Herbert Howell, Robert Andrews, William Smith Howell, and Daron Ward, boys. There was a revote between Ruth Caudill and Martha Winslow and Herbert Howell and Robert Andrews.

Qualities considered in electing most representative are scholarship, leadership, character, and representation in school activities.

Juniors Present "Our Town" For Two Performances Here

"Our Town," a play in three acts, will be presented tonight by the Junior Class in collaboration with the Goldmasquers.

In the first act an outline of the history of the town, which is Grovers Corners, N. H., and something of the character of its citizens, is given. The audience is carried into the homes of the Gibbs and Webb families, and goes through an entire day with them.

The second act concerns the love affair between young George Gibbs and little Emily Webb, and culminates in a moving wedding scene, which contains all those elements of poignant sorrow and abundant happiness that make for solemnity and impressiveness.

The third act takes place in the cemetery on the hill, where many of the townspeople introduced previously, are patiently and smilingly awaiting not "judgment" but greater understanding. Into their midst is led the bride, a little timid at first, a little wistful to go back to life, to live again with her memories. But she is shown how impossible, how futile it is to return. The past cannot be re-lived. Living people, humans, occupied with their petty occupations and small thoughts, know little of true joy or happiness. Truth is to be found only in the future.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

The cast of the play includes: Ned Champion, stage manager; Bill Taylor, Dr. Gibbs; Billy Howell, Joe Crowell; Kenneth Waters, Howie Newsome; Marilyn Tolochko, Mrs. Gibbs; Frances Fulghum, Mrs. Webb; Paul Savage, George Gibbs; Polly Edgerton, Emily Webb; Barbara Hood, Rebecca Gibbs; Ashton Griffin, Wally Webb; John Thompson, Mr. Webb; Elwina Miller, woman in the balcony; Charles Acker, man in the auditorium; Peggy Littleton, lady in the box; Donald Pike, Simon Stimson; Mary Olive Grady, Mrs. Soames; William Heeden, Constable Warren; Mike Pate, Si Crowell; Henry Edwards and Ray Hardy, baseball players and assistant stage managers; Bobby Hill, Sam Craig; F. W. Stanley, Joe Stoddard; Leslie Britt, first dead man; Charles Acker, second dead man; Elwina Miller, first dead woman; Peggy Littleton, second dead woman; Jerry Sanford, Professor Willard.

The technical staff includes: Faye Branch, prompter; Ruth Shaver, student director.

The play is under the direction of Miss Sarah Alexander.

Junior Week Closes With Play Tonight

Class of 1927 Holds Reunion At High School

Twenty-eight members of the class of 1927 gathered Saturday evening, April 19, 1947, at the school for the second reunion since graduation twenty years ago.

Officers of the class composed the receiving line. They are George Hood, president; Mrs. Mary Emma Derr Gallagher, vice president; Mrs. Hazel Allred Harmon, secretary; and Mrs. Virginia Crawford Henderson, treasurer. They decided to make these officers permanent as they were in office at graduation.

An open house was held at the school with present high school students stationed throughout as guides. This was the first time in many years that many members of the class had been through the school.

A banquet was held at 7 p.m. with welcome extended by the president, Mr. Hood. Invocation was by George Steele Dewey. Members gave personal glimpses of their experiences since their school days.

The class prophecy was reread by George Casteen and the last will and testament was read by Mrs. Gallagher, who gave a toast to the future. A portable microphone was carried among the guests and interviews were held with Miss Janie Ipock, present member of the faculty, and Perry Edgerton, the latter who came from Chicago, all to attend the reunion.

Mrs. Gallagher read a letter from Miss Ida Gardner, who as teacher of the senior class, was to be guest of honor, but was unable to attend.

During the reunion prizes were presented to Mrs. Leathel Edgerton Howell for having been the first to be married; to Lionel Weil, as the most recently married, Ed Waters for having the youngest child; to Mrs. Howell for having the oldest child. A prize was awarded to Perry Edgerton of Chicago, who traveled the longest distance to attend.

Junior Week closes today. It began Monday.

On Monday an assembly was held for the purpose of reading the proclamation and advertising the junior play, "Our Town."

Thursday the students dressed up in costumes which the proclamation had decreed it necessary to wear. Scenes from the play were also given that day in an assembly.

Junior Week will be climaxed tonight by the second presentation of "Our Town." This issue of the Hi News was enlarged by extra features and stories written by Juniors not on the regular Hi News staff.

Goldmasquers Win Honors At State Meeting

The Goldmasquers of Goldsboro High took five first places and one second place at the State Drama Festival in Chapel Hill the 10th, 11th, and 12th of April.

Three winning first places were Jack Hauser's scrap book, Junior Goldmasquers' play "Land's End," directed by Miss Sarah Alexander, Dick Griswold and Bill Hawley's model stage, Shirley James' prize winning poster, and the scene designs of Jack Hauser.

The Goldmasquers made the trip up to Chapel Hill in a long convoy. The dormitories, barracks, (Continued on Page 8)

Symphony Orchestra Heard Here

Conducted by Dr. Benjamin Swalin, the North Carolina symphony orchestra appeared in two concerts in the Goldsboro High School auditorium on Tuesday, April 22.

A free concert for school children exclusively was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Admission to the evening concert, which was held at 8:30, was by membership cards which entitled the owner to special privileges in the symphony society as well as admittance to any or all of the North Carolina Symphonies, and tickets sold for the occasion.

The program for the concert included among other numbers: Brahms' Symphony Number One, Sorcerer's Apprentice by Duhas, and the overture to Tannhauser.

The concert by the Orchestra marked the first appearance of a full symphony in Goldsboro this year.

Dr. Kirby Paige Is SA Devotional Leader

Dr. Kirby Paige, of the Disciples of Christ Church, addressed the student body on atomic warfare and sovereignty of cities, nations, and the world, in the high school auditorium recently.

Dr. Paige was introduced by Mr. Luby R. Casey, of the Friends Church in Goldsboro.

Dr. Paige, who has traveled extensively, and is the author of twenty-four books and pamphlets, began his speech by quoting a statement made by General Douglas MacArthur, concerning the organization of world government, that nations must give up their national sovereignty in order that they may have international government, and that the people of the world must change national thinking into world thinking.

Using the destruction caused by a single atomic bomb at Hiroshima as an example, Dr. Paige asked the audience to think of the damage another bomb, 1000 times as powerful, would do in case of another war. An attack with such (Continued on Page 8)
